"A people great and tall, the children of the Anakians, whom thou knowest, and whom thou hast heard said, who can stand before the sons of Anak?"

"Anak" is a Senior Society composed of those members of the class who, having shown their zeal in college affairs, are most fitted to promote the best interests of Tech. The society is only four years old, but has already lived to see some of her original plans now component parts of the college life at Tech. "Anak" lends itself particularly to the perpetuation of such vital departments of the school as: the Glee Club, the Blue Print, the Honor System, Y. M. C. A., Commencement, and College Spirit.

Glee Club Log

November 25  Manager Chandler begins operations.

November 28  After much effort secures "Billy" Arno as director.

December 2  First practice: about 100 men and 8 Tenors report.

December 9  Candidates for the Double Quartette are tried out and Barwick and Ollphant are cut off for the third time.

December 12  Levy works faithfully, and though his arms refuse to move in symmetrical curves he manages to get good music out of the Orchestra. Mell acted as Drummer by patting his No. 10's.

December 16  Practice is interrupted by a noise in the Y. M. C. A. Club has recess while Ferst removes "Scrap Iron Quartette" from the Campus.

CHRISTMAS HOLIDAYS. Members of club startle the natives of their respective villages by singing "Ramblin' Wreck."

January 9  Practice is resumed and everything is pushed for the concert at the Orpheum.

January 20  Usual famine in Dress suits.

January 21  Concert at Orpheum is pulled off and is a "Howling" success. Scrap Iron Quartette makes a bust and Snakes Porter chokes Barwick but audience thinks it is a put up job and encores wildly. Big hit. Gene Smith causes riot with his "Angle Worm Wiggle" and Clancy scores hit with his "College Boy."

February 17  Club starts on state tour 40 strong on board the "Yarmouth." General scramble for lower berths. Snakes Porter and DuBose refuse to sleep in same berth. No argument. "Billy" tells his court room joke for the first time.

1:00 P.M.  Arrive in Augusta and all rush for Quick Lunch restaurants. Patterson is charged double price for a regular dinner.

8:00 P.M.  Concert. Aichel and Porter play rag duet on Piano and receive a bunch of Spinach as a token of appreciation from audience. Lewis makes big hit with the ladies.

11:00 P.M.  The Wrecks begin to ramble and Billy Morgan, Bob White and Davis come to car from the Schutzen Platz in a Taxi.

February 18, 6:30 A.M.  All are on board, and car proceeds on its way. "Billy" tells his court room joke for the fourth time and Reynolds Clarks continues to pull his bum jokes and Daffy Dills.

10:00 A.M.  Selections from the conversations. "Raise you the limit." "Gentlemen they know no home," "If frogs had wings, etc." "A piece of filling against four balls of fire." Somebody faints but is revived.
2:30 P.M. Arrive safely in Savannah and scatter to four corners of the city.

8:30 P.M. Concert at Grand. Levy moves audience to tears by his violin solo, Madame Melba scores hit with Annabel and Senor Spaghetti hits low "C" with greatest ease.

11:00 P.M. Club is tendered a dance by Tech Alumni Club, and all indulge freely in Terpsichorean gyrations till the wee small hours.

February 18 2:00 A.M. Aichel pleads in vain for the return of his green package. Prof. Boogher refuses to go to sleep before Bill Campbell comes in. Prof. Boogher does not sleep.

8:30 A.M. Several do a Marathon for the car and all are successful. Ferst gets in from the race track just in time to participate in the Marathon. Levy calls roll and finds "All in."

12:30 P.M. Arrive in Macon. Scrap Iron Quartette advertises by singing in moving picture show. Several people leave the picture show and sell their Glee club tickets.

8:30 P.M. Concert Big success. "Billy" Arno finds a man who has not heard his court room joke and Club has to listen to it again during intermission.

February 20. "Yarmouth" arrives in Atlanta and tired Techites wend their way back to the Flats with bowed heads, resigning themselves to the retribution that is so sure to follow the transgressor.

March 14. Club prepares for another trip. Call members together and find that several stars have been forced to leave school on account of trouble with their eyes.

March 17. All aboard a private car for LaGrange. Attempted rehearsal on board results in a failure. Pinkie Black has been singing tenor and his voice refuses to come off its perch. Reynolds Clark starts his "bones" to rolling.

8:30 P.M. Concert is a riot. All play to the Galleries. (The Galleries are occupied by 300 college girls). Billy Morgan, Pinkie Black, Court Lewis and Grits Barwick make their debut as soloists.

11:00 P.M. Club is entertained by Southern College girls.

March 18. Arrive in Newnan and make Coweta Club headquarters while in the city.

10:30 P.M. Club is "Honored" at a dance given by Coweta Club. The Coweta clubmen make many friends from the Tech bunch.

March 19. All return very tired and sleepy and once more take up the Grind in "The Mill of the Gods."

Our Object—To get our smiling faces and frank physiognomies in the Annual.

Our Coat of Arms—A rampant mud-cat morbidly meandering up the Mississippi munching a miserable meal of mud-turtle.

Motto—"We love our Mississippi, but oh, you Chattahoochie."

Color—that un-classed hue of green, that characterizes the verdant and blushing Freshman.

Flower—Unobtrusive and ever-present dog fennel.

Song—"Do you remember when I first came to town? Well, look at me now."

Our favorite food and drink.—We will eat anything after having fooled our delicate maws for nine months in the Mess hall.

Requirements for Membership—Any person who has seen the Father of Waters, or who has relatives, either by consanguinity or affinity, in that great Commonwealth.

Object

To promote the interests of the Architectural Department at Tech, and to foster that fellowship among its members without which the best results cannot be gotten. This it aims to do by meetings of a social character, competitions, talks by practicing architects, and yearly award of prizes.

Editor's Note

The Artist Club is an incongruous bunch of inconsolables who annually escape from the halls of architecture to bare their shoulders to the storms of criticism of an appreciative world. Their fondness for night work, esquisses, and absinthe is responsible for many of these eccentricities which attract attention everywhere, but which they lay at the door of their artistic temperaments. The making public of such a bohemianistic state of affairs as this may be criticised but it finds a place here only because it portrays some of the student life of this institution.

P. S. NOTE. Attention is called to the fact that Tech is not co-ed.

Kluck Kluck Klan

Auld's the captain,
  Crane's the cook,
Treasurer, Levy;
  Though we know he's a crook.

Markley's the trapper,
  Ogletree the guide,
And if we can't walk back
  I hope we can ride.

Swain is a cutter,
  Barney is late,
Burroughs is lazy,
  Dennis forgot the date.

Clark carries chickens,
  Finlayson the bag,
For the rest of the thirteen
  We'll let Stubbs brag.

The Ballad

Not far away on a very young farm
The barnyard is clucking with alarm,
And a hen is calling with many clicks
To her anxious brood of growing chicks.

"Come, click, little ones, all gather near,
And take good heed what you shall hear.
Just now from in the garden green
We heard some voices calm but mean

Say, 'Next Friday by Uncle Ebe's spring
The necks of some nice fat chicks we'll wring.'
And kiddies in all my biped career
I've never known a thing so queer,
For from those humans, one and all
'Kluck, kluck! Kluck, kluck!' came my own call,
So chicks we must fly and outwit the plan
And stay far away from the KLUCK KLUCK KLAN!
