ATHLETICS
Coach Alexander, better known as “Alec”, was born at Greenville, Kentucky. When quite a young boy his parents moved to Macon, Georgia. He attended the public schools there for a while and then returned to Kentucky, and went to Greenville High School.

He entered Tech in the fall of 1906. Here he scrubbed for four years on the football squad, but made his letter in 1911. He graduated in 1912 with the degree of B. S. in Civil Engineering. Since that time he has been at Tech, save for the time he served to aid in the defense of the stars and stripes.

He was made head coach of athletics in 1919, and has served well in this capacity since. The valor of Tech’s teams is only a manifestation of his ability as a coach.

COACH R. A. CLAY

Coach Clay, popularly known about the campus as “Kid” Clay, was born at Monroe, Georgia, and graduated at Monroe High School. He came to Tech in 1910, and graduated in 1915 with the degree of B. S. in Electrical Engineering. Here he scrubbed for four years in football and made his letter in 1915. He also scrubbed for four years on the baseball squad.

He has been coaching here since he finished school, except for the two years of service rendered aiding the cause of our country. He is head coach of baseball. His coaching ability is revealed in the courage and sportmanship of his teams.

COACH F. F. WOOD

He was born at Syracuse, N. Y. Attended the public schools of that city, then went to Mercersburg Academy. After finishing there, he entered Notre Dame University. Pursued a course in law and graduated in 1910. While at Notre Dame he was a star in football, basketball, and track. He played tackle and end on the football team, and was high hurdler on the track team. He organized the first basketball team while there.

He came to Tech in the fall of 1918. He is now head line coach for football. Before coaching here he coached Boys High School team of Atlanta. Aside from his coaching he has charge of all claims in the Southeastern states for the Hartford Life Insurance Co.

COACH HAROLD HANSEN

Coach Hansen comes to us highly recommended. His entire life has been spent along athletic lines. Playing half, he was an integral part of that still famous 1916 Minnesota eleven, which won nationwide attention. Graduating from the University of Minnesota in G.E., he left an excellent record in basketball and football. During the World War he was enlisted with the Engineering Corps. Besides his training under “Doc” Williams, his present knowledge of coaching has been derived from similar work at St. Thomas College, Hamline University, and the University of Minnesota. Although this is his first year at Tech, Coach Hansen has already established for himself a fine "rep" on the campus and in the locker-rooms. We are all proud to have him as one of us.

COACH GEORGE GRIFFIN

"Days may come and days may go", but George remains faithful to Tech. Everyone knows him except the ones yet to come. Although possessing knowledge and ability along all athletic lines, Coach Griffin is most contented when rounding Tech's track men into shape. A track meet on Grant Field without George officiating would look as queer as a railroad minus rails. He has almost become a department at Tech, like the E.E. or C.E. We hope he will stick with us forever.

Although endowed with marked reserve, once you have penetrated this outpost the real George stands revealed, an able and comradely man, with Tech's interest ever his paramount concern.

COACH TALLEY JOHNSON

Four years playing half for Tech, Captain of the Golden Tornado in '16, aero service during the World War, and now back at Tech pursuing advanced Textile work—that would be a brief summary of Coach Johnson's life since he donned his Freshman cap. In 1923, placed in charge of all Rehab athletics, his excellent work was indisputable. This past season he has been coaching the "backfield" of the Freshman squad with marked results. The Freshmen were undefeated throughout their entire schedule, establishing a record which, though it may be equalled, may never be surpassed.

Personally, Talley is a frank, pleasant sort of fellow with a fine personality, all of which explains his ability to train men. Receiving his training under Johnny Heisman, it is unnecessary to state that he knows the game from A to Z, and we are fortunate to have him working in Tech's interests.

George Gardner

Tackle

"Cap" George has led the 1924 Tornado with peerless skill. For a long time George played end, but he sacrificed his own desires for the good of the team, and at tackle he made good with a rush. George follows the ball with uncanny precision. He practically won the Penn State fracas by intercepting a pass and scoring. "Cap" George has played varsity football for three years.

Stephen Douglas Wycoff

Fullback

Doug is as good a backfield man as Tech has ever had. He is a terrific driver and one of the greatest punters in the country, averaging 60 yards against Notre Dame. "Sixty-minute" Wycoff has played 15 games without once having to stop because of injuries. Doug was given an all-American berth by Lawrence Perry, who said of him, "Wycoff of Georgia Tech, a 195-pound stickfighter, is a scoring fullback, a man who is elusive in the open and deadly when he crashes into the line, a punter who drives far and places his kicks, a thrower of the ball and a catcher of overhead heaves." Doug will captain next year’s eleven.

---

Ivan Williams

Halfback

Ivan, the Terrible, has the best educated toe in the South, barring none. On more than one occasion his three points have given Tech the victory. He is perhaps the hardest tackler on the team and a terrible line plunger. Ivan is a son of Arkansas, coming from Little Rock.
Tech won five games, lost three, and tied one. The high light of the season, of course, was the brilliant 13 to 12 victory over the famed and feared Lions of Penn State. That victory, however, cost Tech much in playing strength, and weakened the varsity to such an extent Coach Alexander was never able to muster his full strength after this game.

Bob Reeves, veteran halfback, Gus Merkle, veteran end, and Fred Moore, veteran quarterback were all put out for the remainder of the season. Captain Gardner and a few others were not themselves for two weeks after the fierce struggle. The loss of these men was certainly felt in the games that followed.

Walter Godwin

Guard

Walt is commonly known to his team mates as "Cupid." He was shifted from the backfield to his present berth. This human tank is stocky and speedy and grabs the runner in a vise-like embrace. Walt would play football every day, solely because of his love for the sport. He was elected alternate captain of the '25 Tornado. His brand of football is All-American stuff. All-Southern.

Sterling Carpenter

Guard

"Little Six," as he is inaccurately called, is a flower of Newnan. He is one of the best guards in the South, and he and Walt Godwin make a splendid pair. His grim pose just before the ball is snapped is calculated to throw terror into the heart of the bravest. Six will be back with the squad next September.

Joseph Usry

Tackle

According to the freshmen who inhabit the dormitories, Baby Joe is everything but what the name implies. He has held his own on the varsity for three years and this year especially he played jam-up ball. Baby Joe was mentioned on the All-American honor roll.

Mercer McCall Tharpe

Tackle

"Mac" is a ferocious player. Though out of school part time last year, he lost none of his art. He uses his hands better than any man on the squad and his arms as well as his.

Tech opened the season with a 19 to 0 victory over Oglethorpe University, a team which later was unanimously acclaimed the champion of the S. I. A. A. No other southern team was able to do anything at all with the Stormy Petrels.

In the second game of the season, The Tornado defeated V. M. I., 3 to 0, when Ivan Williams kicked a placement goal. This was the first game in some five years in which the Flying Cadets failed to score.

University of Florida tied Tech at 7 and 7 for the second consecutive year in the third game of the season in one of the most brilliant struggles of the year. Without attempting to take any credit from Florida, it must be said this was one of the poorest games the Jackets played during the fall campaign.
Gus MERKLE
End
Gus is without doubt the fastest man on the squad. (He, too, is a hero with the women). Last year he played tackle, but it is at end that he shines. Gus got away to a wonderful start, but injuries received in the Penn State game kept him out the rest of the season.

GORDON NABELLE
End
Fast and scrappy are apt epithets with which to describe Monk. He is a product of Tech Hi and one she can well be proud of. Monk played on Tech’s first freshman team and has worked his way up to the varsity by tireless effort. Going down under punts, he looks like greased lightning.

Clifford KING
End
Cliff sprang into prominence all of a sudden this year and stayed there. When Gus Merkle was injured, Cliff stepped in and carried on admirably. He is fast and plays “heads up” football. After nearly every play Cliff may be seen extricating himself from the pile; he is here, there, and everywhere.

JOHN H. MARSHALL
End
Some jealous hounds have called Johnny “Jelly”, but his reputation is untouched. He is fast, steady on his feet, and an excellent snatcher of passes. Johnny played a good game against the ‘Gators. That he answers when called on was shown by his heroic efforts in the Vandy game.

University of Alabama defeated Tech 14 to 0—the first time since the fall of 1919 a southern eleven has been able to defeat Tech. The Crimson scored a touchdown in the last ten seconds of the first half on a long forward pass. This paved the way for their victory. Tech uncorked two fine drives in the second period that seemed certain to produce points, but both fell short.
Tech reached its greatest strength in the game with L. S. U., which Tech won 28 to 7. In this game Wycoff again went wild, scoring all four touchdowns, and making several very long runs.

Vanderbilt defeated Tech 3 to 0 in the game that followed, a field goal being the only points scored. Tech had the ball on the 2-yard line for first down once but a mixed play prevented the score.

In the last game of the season, Tech defeated Auburn 7 to 0. It was a brilliant struggle in which Wycoff again distinguished himself with his brilliant play.

Tech scored 82 points during the season to 78 by her opponents.

John Glenn
Center

Good old dependable Johnny; never was there such a conscientious youth. When not at center, he can wrap his mitt around the pigskin and hurl passes as well as anybody.

Owen Pool
Center

Owen showed up well at all times and is a most dependable center. May his success continue. He has had lots of experience, knows the game from A to Z and plays consistently. Owen will be with us next year.

Robert Reeves
Halfback

Bobby is one of the best athletes in school. Fate was unkind to him this year and most of the time he sat on the sidelines, kept out because of injuries. At the beginning of the season Bobby showed great improvement. He performs particularly well on the defense, notably in the Penn State game.

Fred Moore
Quarter

Brains, headwork, are essential in a quarterback, and Fred combines them all. He can always be counted on to do the right thing at the right time and in the right place. Fred plays a good defensive game, and no safety man has several times proved himself invaluable. He is one of our few three letter men.
CARTER BARRON
Halfback

"Little Red" has been handicapped by following in the footsteps of his illustrious brother, but he has surmounted that obstacle. He is fast like David Irenus and a steady worker. Carter is fast coming to the top and should be one of the best backs on the team next year.

VAUGHN CONNALLY
Halfback

This boy uses more towels than any other member of the team. "Hot Towel" prepped at Staunton Military Academy, entering Tech in 1923. He combines weight with speed, and is a hard driver. He has bright prospects ahead and merits a great deal of attention.

BETHEL FARNSWORTH
Halfback

Finding holes in the hostile line is what Bip does nothing else but. He will sprint down the line, halt suddenly, then turn and dive and squirm his way forward: a system which is good for three yards every time. Bip has been a mainstay in the backfield for three years.

CRAIG WILTON
Quarter

Craig was ineligible last year but made his letter this season. He hails from Washington, D.C., and before coming to Tech, he played with the Maryland freshmen. He showed up well at quarter, but was considerably handicapped by sickness. Craig should do even better next year.

Ivan Williams, a big halfback; Six Carpenter, a guard, Sam Murray, a halfback, Fred Moore, a quarterback, and Bip Farnsworth, a halfback, were other players to distinguish themselves during the season.

At the 1925 football banquet, given at the Biltmore Friday night, December 12, twenty-three men were awarded letters as a recognition of their faithfulness and ability as football players. But before getting down to the serious business of eating, the team chose their leaders for next year, captain and alternate captain.

The banquet was held after the election, and it was a football banquet from start to finish. There were plenty of eats, and gold footballs, sport writers, and football talkers, nothing being omitted that might have added to the sportmanlike atmosphere of the place. Dr. M. L. Brittain was toastmaster of the evening. Many of the Yellow Jackets demonstrated their ability in public speaking, and Mr. Clark Howell furnished much spirit for the occasion by offering a fine trophy for next season’s stellar contestants, Tech and Georgias. This offer was the spark that started a discussion of the great game between Tech and Georgias, and there was much evidence of the fine spirit which will prevail when these two great southern teams meet to vie once more for honors.
SAM MURRAY
Halfback

Though having entered in 1923, Sam has already made an enviable record for himself. He showed up extraordinarily well in the Auburn game, when he exhibited all of his good qualities, to-wit, a powerful runner, a good defensive player, a fighter, and a hard worker. Sam came to Tech from Newnan High School.

H. L. EDWIN

With persistency and determination, “Hammer Head” has fought for his letter. He was changed from backfield to end and he is better suited to the latter position. Hammer Head is such a hard tackler, that in every game, a runner he has tackled has fumbled.

H. L. ERWIN

With persistency and determination, “Hammer Head” has fought for his letter. He was changed from backfield to end and he is better suited to the latter position. Hammer Head is such a hard tackler, that in every game, a runner he has tackled has fumbled.

ROY HUFFINES
Tackle

Tripping around the campus with his large sombrero, Uncle Roy looks more like the hero of a western romance than a football devotee. But on the gridiron the goody-goody man literally eats ‘em alive. He played under Heisman in 1920. It is claimed by some that Uncle Roy has been at Tech longer than anyone on the faculty. He plays a great defensive game.

WALLACE FORRESTER
Guard

Wallace spent his prep school days at Gordon. He scrubbed up until this year, and when he got his chance he made good. Wallace runs interference well, is a hard tackler and is very fast, both in football and civilian togs. His technique has won for him the title, “The Girl’s Delight.”

The members of the team did not forget Coach Alexander, and many fine tributes were paid to the man who so successfully guided the Tornado through the past season. Monk Nabelle, as the representative of the football team, presented Coach Ace with a suit of clothes, and John Staton presented Wycoff with a present most suitable for a warrior who was a star in all the games of the past season. The present was a wood-mounted action picture of the great Wycoff in a most characteristic football pose. Nor were the seniors, who had played their last game for Tech, unmentioned. They were all presented with gold “T” cuff links by Dr. J. B. Crenshaw, and though merry, they were all impressed by the fact that they had to leave the team for which they had given so much, and the Jackets all around them were brought to the realization that they had lost seven men that had been of great strength and aid during the past few years of Tech football. Captain George Gardner was presented with a Tech captain’s gold ring by Coach Alexander. The seven men, who were bidding farewell to the football squad, were: Captain George Gardner, Monk Nabelle, Fred Moore, Bip Farnsworth, Roy Huffines, Johnny Glenn, Joe Ustry.

DOUGLAS WYCOFF

All Southern—All American

DOUG WYCOFF

It is hard to refrain from the use of too many superlatives when describing this young man. Yet regardless of how highly he is praised it all seems feeble when compared to his record. A good student, a gentleman in every sense of the word, and undoubtedly the greatest all-around athlete that ever attended Georgia Tech. He is the first man to win letters in all four of the major branches of athletics at Tech.

In football he has been called "Sixty Minute" Wycoff, because he does not require a substitute. Coach Rockne of Notre Dame has called him the greatest half-back in the land, and everyone that has seen him play knows the reason. On the offensive he smashes the line with the drive of a locomotive, or skirts the ends with the grace and care of a toe dancer. In a broken field he keeps you on your feet—breathless as he twists from the grasp of a world of tacklers, side-steps, turns, and stiff-arms his way through. His punts are the kind that thrill you as they rise and sail forty, forty-five, fifty yards—sometimes more. On the defense he is no less efficient, backing up the line like a stone wall and tackling with that sure aim and power that brings the runner down without gain.

In basketball he is a very important cog in the machine, playing at center and running guard. His ability in this branch of sport is well illustrated by the fact that he was the high-point scorer in many of the games during the past season. He has an uncanny ability to steal the ball away from the opposing teams when they start down the floor, and he has many times this year turned the tide from defeat to victory.

He is probably the most valuable man on the baseball team playing first base and leading the team in hitting. He covers the initial sack with the grace of a natural born first baseman, fields his position well, and his hitting is the kind that you dream about. He batted well over .450 last season and he has bettered that record just a trifle so far this year. His hits are clean and hard usually going for extra bases and many of them are home runs.

Despite all this activity he has found time to master the science of putting the shot. By hurling the sixteen pound shot something around forty feet he took first place in the Georgia School of Technology can well feel proud of him.

Review of the 1924 Freshman Football Season

The 1924 freshman football season was one of the most successful, if not the most successful in the history of this freshman form of sport at Tech. Though there were not many games scheduled, those played were played well and a victory chalked up against our opponents in every instance with the exception of one tie game. A most reassuring thought, it seems as if our varsity of next year will receive some material strength from the frosh squad of this past season.

The first game of the season was played on October 25, in Atlanta against G. M. C., in which the Milledgeville cadets were shut out to the tune of 37-0. Not a very exciting game but one in which our fresheres showed up in good form.

Second came a match with the Mercer rats, also played on Grant Field, the Mercers were repulsed to the tune of 14-7, a much more interesting game to watch and fought hardly by both sides.

The only journey to foreign territory of the season followed in the next game when our greenies met the Baby 'Gators in Gainesville, Fla., November 8. Once again our frosh team emerged victorious from the conflict with a score of 19-7.

Then followed quickly the last two games in Atlanta, two hard fought thrilling battles in every respect. The first with Spring Hill College, on November 15 ended with the freshmen holding the larger end of a 12-7 score. The last game, and probably hardest, was against the Auburn rats on November 21, and furnished the spectators a most thrilling and entertaining afternoon. This conflict resulted in a draw.

Truly a successful season, one that can be boasted of to a great extent, for none were "set-ups", all of the games against hard-fighting freshmen teams of some of the foremost universities in the South.

Fred Moore had the honor to captain the first real indoor basketball team that we have ever known.

Fred was one of the outstanding guards of the team and it was mainly through his efforts several times that defeat was staved off.

Fred was hindered to some extent during the season from injuries, but in spite of all this, he was a source of inspiration to his teammates.

Review of 1925 Basketball Season

By Fred Moore

Although defeated in their opening game the Jackets made a remarkable showing against their more experienced opponents. Everyone expected the Clubbers to win by a much larger margin and it was a very agreeable surprise that Coach Hansen gave the large first night crowd. The shooting of Pat Stephens for the Club and the defensive work of the entire Tech team were the features.—Atlanta Athletic Club, 23; Tech, 22.

Showing a complete reversal of form from that exhibited the previous night against the Athletic Club the Jackets went down to a two point defeat at the hands of Clemson. The Tigers fought an unusually hard game and seemed able to shoot goals when needed.—Clemson, 20; Tech, 18.

The height and experience of Tink Gillam’s Mercer Bears proved too much for the Tech team and they were forced to take the short end of the score in the

Douglas Wycoff

Tech's first four-letter man is equally as proficient on an indoor court as on the gridiron. Doug played center and was one of the ranking scorers in the tournament. He is the alternate captain-elect.

George Wilde

The second member of that fierce forward combination—Wilde and Wilder—is the captain-elect for 1926. George is one of the best all-around players on the team and a good shot.
third start of the season. Skinner and Smith did the bulk of the work for the winners while Denicke looked best for the Jackets.—Mercer, 23; Tech, 18.

With their opponents leading by a seven-point margin and only eight minutes to go the Indoor Tornado began to function. Sixteen points were scored by the Tech team before the timer could call a halt to the game. Bill McKinney led the attack for the Plainsmen while Skinner Denicke and Doug Wycoff tallied points for Tech. This is the second time that the Jackets have defeated the Tigers on their court—Auburn, 21; Tech, 28.

It took three extra five minute periods to decide the winner of this game. The Soldiers led at the end of the half by a large margin but Tech came back strong in the second period and tied up the count just as the game ended. Grant had a keen eye for the basket and accounted for most of Fort McPherson's points, while Bob Moreland's four points were big factors in the extra periods for Tech.—Infantry, 26; Tech, 28.

Vandy and Coverdale won a rather listless game from the Jackets during the mid-term exams. The Jackets seemed to be dead on their feet while the Commodores, much abetted by the above mentioned Mr. Coverdale, had a good eye for the basket. Coverdale accounted for twenty-five of Vandy's points.—Vanderbilt, 37; Tech, 28.

Tech won its first game on its own court when it defeated the University in the first regular scheduled athletic contest since 1919. Georgia led throughout the game until the last few minutes. Then Wycoff and Denicke began to drop them in from all angles. It was a great game in every respect and a tribute to the players and students of both institutions.—Georgia, 25; Tech, 30.

Fate seemed to have fastened her clutches on the Tech team and they once more went down to defeat by a two-point margin. The boys from the Blue Grass state seemed to have just a little the best of the Jackets in a great defensive game.—Kentucky, 18; Tech, 16.

Revenge for their defeat in Auburn was gained by the Tigers in the return game on the Tech court. The only foul shot made by the winners in the entire game proved the undoing of the Jackets. McKinney shot the deciding point with thirty seconds to play.—Auburn, 15; Tech, 14.

The first game of the road trip went the wrong way when the Bears won the second and last of the Tech-Mercer series. The Jackets made a valiant rally near the end of the game but they failed to overcome the lead of the Maconites.—Mercer, 28; Tech, 21.

With the score tied and twenty seconds to play one of the Clemson guards dropped the ball through the hoop from the center of the floor and won the game for his team. This made the fifth game that Tech had lost by either one or two points.—Clemson, 32; Tech, 30.

The road weary Jackets sustained the most severe loss of the season when they seemed unable to stop the attack of Red Johnson & Co. Failure to shoot goals and to cover their opponents, about sums up the whole affair.—N. C. State, 35; Tech, 12.

Davidson furnished the curtains to the road trip when they won the last game by a nine-point margin. Numerous Tech alumni turned out to cheer for their Alma Mater, but it was of no avail.—Davidson, 36; Tech, 27.

Minus the services of Denicke and Rosser the Jackets journeyed over to Athens and dropped the final game of the regular season. Richardson and Huguley led the attack for the Athenians while George Wilde, captain-elect for 1926, was high point man for the losers.—Georgia, 34; Tech, 24.

Cecil Jamieson

Cecil came into his own during the tournament and in the last Georgia game. He was one of the real stars in these games and should earn a regular berth in the coming campaign.

Clarence Denicke

Skinny has been one of the outstanding forwards in the south for the past three years and it was due chiefly to his efforts that the Jackets won the first Georgia game. Skinny is a finished basketball player in every respect and will be hard to replace next year.

The S. I. C. Tournament

Tech surprised even its most staunch supporters by running wild in the opening game of the tournament against Sewance. Doug Wycoff scored fourteen points while Cecil Jamieson played a good defensive game.—Sewanee, 14; Tech, 31.

Pitted against the winners of the Southern Conference tournament the Jackets played their best game of the season and held the champions to an eight-point victory. Tech actually outscored Carolina in the second half and threw quite a scare into them. Doug Wycoff continued his spectacular shooting and accounted for fifteen points.—North Carolina, 34; Tech, 26.

Johnny Baum, captain of the 1924 baseball team, concluded his college career by playing a wonderful game on third. The loss of Johnny will be felt very keenly this year as he was a terror in the infield and was one of the most dependable hitters in college baseball. Always ready with his winning smile "Johnny" never failed in the pinches. Many times it was a single from his bat that brought victory to Tech. He will be sorely missed here this year.

Review of Baseball Season 1924

The 1924 season found the going a bit rougher than in former years. For the past three years Tech has won the Southern Championship.

Loss of veterans through graduation and deficiencies in scholastic work kept the team handicapped during a portion of its schedule. Of the total of twenty-two games played, nine were won. Eight of the thirteen games which were lost, were lost by one run; showing that the team did not lack the Tech fighting spirit. All of the games played were bitterly contested until the final minute. Several went for extra innings.

Penn State was defeated in their series. We made a clean sweep with Auburn and broke even with Virginia, which had the strongest team in the Southern Conference.

The work of the infield was beyond reproach. Brilliant and resourceful, they more than held their own throughout the season.

Enloe pitched a no-hit, no-run game against Penn State upon his first appearance of the season. He was the most consistent winner of the season. Allison also pitched well. The pitching staff felt the loss of Collins very keenly.

In hitting, the entire team batted well as an average. Wycoff led the team in this respect.

In a brief summary of the season, the team appearing a bit unsteady at the beginning of the year soon steadied down and played the game that Tech teams are capable of. The season as a whole was a success. This year around the nucleus of old men another formidable nine will be developed.

Much credit of the season was due to captain Baum and Coach Clay. With the closing of the 1924 season, Palmisano was elected to pilot the 1925 nine. With the unflagging efforts of the coach and the cooperation of the students we are out for the Southern Championship this year.

With the close of school last year the season ended one of the most successful years of Tech on the track. Piloted by one of the most popular captains, Homer Welchel; a brilliant season was enjoyed.

This young man in his last year on the track closed his collegiate career by being selected as one of the javelin hur- lers on our Olympic Team. In this event he won the javelin throw in the games conducted in England.

Much success is wished this most popular young man in his later ventures.

Review of the 1924 Track Season

By Hendley Blackmon

In future years when a Techite pursues the tabulated results of Track '24, and sees that the Ole Alma Mater "brought home the bacon" in only a single instance—yeh, he'll look again just to check his vision—and then convinced, will sigh possibly, and mutter; "Well, I'll be dearned." And we will agree with him; in one sense it was a bad year. But there is success in failure sometimes; that is an axiom every student knows. For what student of today, viewing that fighting team nose out our old rivals, the U. of Ga., by only three points; or lose to Auburn by two points, would designate the Yellow Jacket squad of this year a failure? Our men had the spirit, giving their utmost for Tech in every event—ask any of their opponents and they will inform you "right off" that their idea of a nice sociable afternoon tea is not a track meet with Ga. Tech—there is not the remotest relationship they will hurriedly assure you!

Tech opened her season with the Auburn meet on Grant Field. The teams were well matched and competition was keen. Men on both sides, anxious to give their school a running start in the season, strained every muscle in an effort to capture first place. In spite of unfavorable weather and a muddy field good records were made in the various events. The Auburn squad eventually squeezed through a two-point victory—55-57. The score itself is a complete narrative of the meet.
Swallowing their disappointment the Tech squad put in a half month's preparation for the approaching Second Annual Southern Relay Meet. Although knowing full well that here the odds were greatly against them, they put forth every effort to make the best possible showing. They did it—placing second in final results; which, all things considered, was a remarkable feat. Five hundred athletes participated in this carnival, making it the greatest meet of its kind ever held in the Southland. Mississippi A. & M., with an excellent team, emerged victorious after breaking an American, a Southern, and four Relay records. Their score totaled 47 points.

Feeling considerably better, the Tech team went to work and put "the skids" under their opponents in the S. E. A. A. U. events. This meet speedily shaped itself into a triangular affair between Tech, Georgia, and the A. A. C., each striving desperately for first honors. Victory went to Tech; being none the less sweet because Georgia was her closest rival. However, the reaction was not so gratifying. One week later we made a disastrous trip to Montgomery for the S. I. C. meet and returned home nursing a defeat. Here as in the Relays, Mississippi A. & M. outstripped the field.

Another three-cornered affair followed at the Georgia State Meet, between Tech, Georgia, and Emory. Tech failed to win the meet but her men were outstanding. Williams, of Tech, was high point man, while Captain Homer Whelchel broke the javelin throw record—with 195' 5-2". The Georgia aggregation piled up the largest score—71 5-16 points. Tech followed closely on her heels with 66 7-12 points.

Such were our ups and downs for the season. Every team must have an off year. Tech had hers in '24; but—"the darkest hour comes just before the dawn!"

Captain Whelchel completes his track career at Tech this season. His exit from our college athletics was probably the most interesting and spectacular in the history of our school. Hurling the javelin 196' 7" he won the Southern Olympic tryouts, while representing Ga. Tech. On June 14th, in Boston he captured third place for Tech on the American Olympic Team. At Paris, however, as a representative of Uncle Sam, he failed to place in the Olympic Games. Following this defeat, Homer sailed to London with the American Team for the British Empire vs. U. S. A. Meet. Here he placed first in the javelin throw; defeating two men who had won places in the previous Olympic events. This was the man who captained our '24 squad; and needless to state his loss will be widely felt. He leaves behind, outside of his brilliant and enviable field record, a host of friends, who wish him the best of luck and fortune in track prowess.

"Varsity" Johnson steps up to fill the vacancy left by Whelchel. Winning his numeral in his freshman year, Johnson has exhibited steady progress during these last three years on the Jacket Squad. His election as Captain was unanimous and we feel certain he will make good in every sense of the word.

The yearlings of track made an excellent showing this year. Although these men are eligible for the varsity only by breaking a record, they are an important and integral part of the track organization. From these track and field aspirants, are developed the varsities of Tech for later years. Already stars have developed—one freshman receiving his "Varsity T." by merit of breaking the shot put record at the A. A. U. Meet. This man was the first to profit by the inauguration of the Freshman Rule at Tech. At Coach Griffin's first call, half of the freshman class reported. They had pep, will, endurance—competition and interest were paramount in all phases of the work. These were the qualities which made the Fresh team the strongest in our history.

Success to any track squad can only come from complete co-operation, and confidence in the Coach. Tech has one of the best coaches in the South; she has utter confidence in him; all of which acts as a stimulant for the '25 team. From a wealth of good material we are certain that George will develop for next year the best squad Tech has ever turned out; and it looks likely that Tech will once more resume her stellar role in this great sport.

Review of Freshman Track Season

The freshman track season of 1924 was a most spectacular and exciting one, and brought out quite a number of stars, to uphold the honor of their Alma Mater on the Varsity in the years to come.

The meets held and the results for the season follow:

Atlanta Amateur Athletic Federation meet—Piedmont Park, May 17: Tech Freshmen, first with 102 points, O'Keefe Junior High, second with 89 1-2 points.

Triangular meet with G. M. A. and Boys High—Grant Field, April 17: Freshmen 88, G. M. A. 22, B. H. S. 16.

In the A. A. U. meet the freshmen placed fourth with 17 points.

In a dual meet with Boys High, the freshmen scored 77 1-3 to 39 2-3 for B. H. S.

In the A. A. U. meet Nixon broke the S. E. A. U. record for the shot put, with a throw of 41 feet, 9 inches.

The freshmen earning numerals for their conscientious effort were: Schwalb, Strickland, Welsh, Griffin, Holt, White, Cobb, Haynesworth, Joyner, DeJarnette, Wilcox, Brewer, Richardson, Ranier, Perkins, Gray, Wilton and Nixon.
Review of 1924 Lacrosse Season

Making its debut this year in the list of minor sports at Tech, lacrosse proved a very popular and interesting sport. While taking quite some time to get this sport introduced and a team organized, two matches were engaged in during the season, and from the numbers out for the sport some very interesting games played between the contestants.

The matches were played with the Fort Benning team, one at Columbus and a return match on Grant Field. Both resulted in a victory for the soldiers 3-0 and 3-1.

The squad was composed of the following men: Godwin, Parrish, Carpenter, Wilton, Waters, Carson, Leffler, Tharpe, Marlette, Cummings, Poole, McGarvey, Eager, Smith, E. T., Gunn, Atkinson, Douglas, Carter and Sturges.

Review of 1924 Cross Country Season

The cross-country season of 1924 while not being an outstanding season, was far from being a failure in any respect of the sport. We did well and all the men put out their best. Entering five meets during the season the team won two, tied one, finished second one, and third in one also.

A.A.U. Meet: Tech, 57; Georgia, 55; Clemson, 51; Florida, 39; and Oglethorpe, 102.

Dual meet with Clemson: Tech, 19; Clemson, 36.

Dual meet with Georgia: Tech, 28; Georgia, 28.

Southern Conference meet: V. P. I., first; W. & L., second (Lexington, Va.); Tech, third; Univ. Va., fourth.

Birmingham meet: Georgia, 66; Tech, 79; Miss. A. & M., 88; Auburn, 93; B. A. C., 122; Miss. College, 172; Birmingham Southern, 216; Unic. of Miss., 185.

Those winning their letters for their prominent work during the season were: Mitchell, Captain; Goodburn, Davis, Davis, Seno, Boyd, Fickert, Roberts and Stellino.

Review of 1924 Golf Season

The golf season of 1924 was a very active one and the Tech team had plenty of opportunity to distinguish themselves in the various meets they engaged in. The results of the season were as listed below:

The golf team was composed of Bill Spalding, J. H. Lynn, J. H. Taylor, and Bip Farnsworth, captain, with Walker Inman as alternate.

Review of 1924 Swimming Season

The 1924 Varsity swimming was a very successful one from the number of victories chalked up to our credit; however, we were unfortunate in not securing as many matches as should have been played.

The results of the season were as follows:

March 29: Meet with Florida in Atlanta: Tech 59, Florida 16.
April 12: Meet with South Carolina in Atlanta: Tech 69, South Carolina 25.
April 30: Meet with the College at Charleston: Tech 69, Charleston 25.

The members of the swimming team were: Blodworth, Farmer, Bulloch, Farmer, Glover, Hollingsworth, McVey, Murray, Neeson, Rockwell, Turner, virgin, and Welch Armstrong, captain, and Bulloch, manager.
Review of 1924 Tennis Season

The results of the tennis season of 1924, which was composed of three meets and two tournaments, follow:

April 19: Alabama, singles, Tech 3-1; Doubles, Tech, 1-1.
April 26: Furman, singles, Tech, 4-0; Doubles, Tech, 1-1.
May 1: S. I. C. Tournament, Tulane, winner; North Carolina, runner-up. Tech eliminated by Tulane, 5-0.
May 3: Sewanee, Doubles, Tech 5-0.
May 17: Georgia State Tournament, Emory winner singles, Tech winner in the doubles.
The team was composed of Carnes, Jackson, Van Winkel and Matheson, captain.

Review of 1924 Freshman Swimming Season

The tank season for the freshmen during 1924 was a very successful one and developed some remarkable talent, which will be used to advantage during the coming season with the varsity.

Entering several meets the freshmen team showed up well, defeating Tech High 45 to 19, winning first place in every event with the exception of one. In this meet Rahner, a Tech freshman lowered the Tech record for the 40-yard, free style, set by Weiss, in 1920, time 20 1-5 seconds.

In two meets with the varsity the freshmen pushed the varsity hard for a victory falling short by close scores. In the city invitation meet the freshmen scored 5 points. Results: Tech varsity, 49; Tech High, 15; Boys High, 11; and the Atlanta Athletic Club, 13.

The freshmen comprising the team were: Rahner, Connolly, Noyes, White, Ed., Walsh, McKay, Ott, Barnett, Wardlaw and Virgin.
