Senior Poem

Behind, already fading into blue,
Where distance lends enchantment to the view,
Are college halls. Before our eager eyes
The Old retires, supplanted by the New.

We mount in haste the chariot of the years
And laugh to scorn the thought of future fears.
Success (elusive mist) is near at hand;
The stars are steeds and we the charioteers.

And each year, as it rolls along the plain
Of fertile fields, replete with golden grain,
Reaps steadily a harvest rich, of life—
And life, once lived, may not be lived again.

So gather ye the harvest while ye may,
For many fall, along the harvest way,
And when ye reach the Mountains of the Dawn
Be well prepared to find beyond—the Day.

—W. S. S.
Senior Class History

In September of 1923 Atlanta was startled at the sight of eight hundred crude strangers, rubber-necking around the city, taking in the Bonita, Grant Park, Tom Pitt's five cent chocolate milks, buttermilks, chic debs, and other sights so dazzling to the uninitiated.

Thus it was that the Class of 1927 entered the arena—a motley crew of prep school heroes, self-elected geniuses, and ruralists who smacked of pine-nails and barns. Proud we were of our tag-new worsteds with high-water breeches, purchased expressly to wear up here, and why not be when they had been admired by high school sweethearts as they bade farewell with tender caresses to the college-men-to-be. However, water wears away stone, and likewise our rough edges and conceits were worn smooth by connections with the stern, debonair members of the Class of '26. High school heroes were made Freshmen and rubes turned to be gentlemen.

Finally we became a real class. Our first leaders were chosen—to Karl Nixon, Sam Murray and George Baker, fell the honors of President, Vice-President, and Secretary and Treasurer. At this time we would have felt out of place without the old shacks for which we had a kindly feeling in spite of their threatening to fall on us at any moment. Most of our fraternities were mingled with boarding-houses up and down North Avenue, which was made even more of an eye-sore by the illagitated wooden stands still on Grant Field. John Murray captained the Freshman football team and Cecil Jamison the Freshman basketball team. Sam Murray was elected our representative to the Student Council. Besides losing many of our numbers thru scholastic failures our freshman year went by without mishap. This does not mean that lack of brilliant performance in school work existed, for Twenty-Seven had some men who made a name for themselves scholastically. C. B. Myers averaged 96.14, breaking the school record.

Sorry to lose friends who had dropped out as we gathered again, we began our Sophomore year by naming Sam Murray, President, Walter Parrish, Vice-President, and Molly Williamson, Secretary and Treasurer. We were extraordinarily well represented on varsity teams to be only Sophomores. The best known were Vaughn Connally, Karl Nixon, Sam Murray, John Murray, Cliff Schwab, Cecil Jamison, and Tom Angley. This year saw the completion of the new stadium, the addition to the Chemistry Building, the new baseball field, and remodeling of Knowles Dormitory. Gilbert Boggs won the large Tau Beta Pi scholarship cup.

In the third year the Class of '27 distinguished itself as an outstanding class by winning laurels in many lines of activities. Sam Murray was again honored with the Presidency, Cecil Jamison made Vice-President, and Walherson Gunn, Secretary and Treasurer. A majority of the football team which beat Georgia in 1925 were Juniors of the Class of '27. On the basketball quartet two juniors were found, Jamison and Parrish. Sam Murray was elected Vice-President of the Student Council. Contrary to custom Juniors held the positions of Editor of the Yellow Jacket, Business Manager of the Blue Print, and President of the Marionettes. These were Barret, Boggs, and Scherffius.

Then came upon us the climax of our school lives—the fourth and last lap of our fierce race. Some had fallen out in the first quarter, some were beaten in the second, others could not stand the pace in the third; then, as the starter fired the gun for the last lap, we found only 275 in the race out of 800 to start. When the last lap started, Sam Murray was shown the esteem of his classmates by being elected their President for the third consecutive time. Cecil Jamison was re-elected Vice-President, and Judge Bearden made Secretary and Treasurer. As this book goes to press with nearly 250 survivors racing toward the goal—the coveted cap and gown, nearly all important campus positions are filled capably by members of the Class of '27. While all will not come out victorious, on the whole we have run the race well and fought to keep the White and Gold on top.

Junior Poem

We Juniors are the ones who have the brass
To hold aloft the banner of a class
That recognizes mental weight
And how all men and women rate
And when a man becomes a perfect ass.

Just anything will rouse our dormant ire
And any honor most beneath desire.
The Seniors are old bookish fools
And Freshmen live by silly rules.
The Sophomores to follow us aspire.

The college set all know our best nickname
And how we won our way to lasting fame
By sprinting in a hurdle race
Or getting hit to reach first base
Or falling down while dancing with some dame.

We've one more year to win a laurel wreath,
Wild oats to sow for which we'll come to grief,
But such it takes to make us men—
To leave us stronger in the end.
Our swords will ne'er be found within the sheath.

Sophomore Poem

From our high and mighty station
We frown upon the nation
With a sort of perturbation
And recklessness of fate.

To Juniors' crusty exhortation,
Weak-kneed Freshmen's expurgation,
And sordid Seniors' altercation,
Sophomores expostulate.

There's not much use of hardly trying,
The world is full of artful lying
And pretty, pink-kneed shebas crying
With vanity and hate.

Though full we are of vacillating
Freshman pranks and Junior hating
When our history starts rating
You will hear from Twenty-nine.

Freshman Poem

Collegiate! That's the term! In word and deed
You cultivate the graces of the great:
Acquire a pipe and woo the fragrant weed—
Sweet nicotine. You also imitate
The Sophomores. My friends, they, too,
Were only Freshmen once like you.

Collegiate! 'Tis a phase you undergo:
The effort to be languid with a grace
And point devise, yet never seem to show
In your blase behavior any trace
Of verdant hue. Your ignorance
We tolerate in sufferance.

L'envoi
So strive to gain the greater goal afar
And fighting on, remember well to mar
The beauty of the fool who says you are Collegiate!

—W. S. S.

Completion of the required courses of the Evening School of Commerce leads to the degree of Bachelor of Commercial Science, its curriculum being kept up to the standards required at the better known institutions. The success of the Evening School is further insured by having on its faculty several of Atlanta's best business men in addition to those professors who also teach in the day school.

Within the past year its enrollment has leaped from 357 to 485, a gain of 36%. The School of Commerce on the campus was an offspring of the Evening School, the latter being established in 1915, three years before the day school.

Section III. No prospective Tech student shall stay overnight in a chapter house.

Section IV. Any student of the Georgia Tech Evening School is eligible for membership in a fraternity upon the completion of the first term of the second year.

Section V. Students who enter Georgia Tech at any time other than at the beginning of the fall term must matriculate before being eligible for rushing.

ARTICLE III—INITIATION
Section I. A pledge may be initiated upon the completion of one term's work, provided that he is not deficient in more than twenty-one equivalent hours of school work.
I long not for the cherries on the tree,
So much as those which on a lip I see,
And more affection bear I to the rose,
That in a cheek, than in a garden, grows.

WILLIAM A. ALEXANDER

"Hi Coach! Hi Alec! Spell it out." How often, as we have heard these same words shouted up to the cheering section of our student body, and as the "yell" for one of the foremost coaches in the country went out across Grant Field, have we thought of just how much Alexander has done for Tech and her athletic teams.

To Coach William A. Alexander goes the credit for the fine teams which Tech has consistently placed on the field and for the indomitable spirit which is instilled into every man on the athletic squads.

Alexander began his career at Tech as a student in the Civil Engineering Department back in 1906. He made his letter as a member of the varsity football squad. After graduation Alec returned as assistant football coach to John Heisman. During the World War he served as a lieutenant with the American forces in France.

COACH ROBERT ALVA CLAY

"Kid" Clay, the little Napoleon of Southern college diamonds, is another Tech graduate to assume charge of one of his Alma Mater's athletic teams.

After receiving his degree at Tech in Electrical Engineering in 1915 he returned as assistant baseball and football coach. Here the great war interrupted his coaching career, but upon conclusion of the conflict he returned to his duties as head baseball coach and assistant football coach.

COACH BILL FINCHER

Bill is strictly an Atlanta product, having finished prep school at Tech High. His football career at Georgia Tech helped bring this institution into national prominence, and he was placed on Walter Camp's All-American team in 1920.

After graduating from Tech in 1920 Bill took over coaching duties at Williams and Mary College. Three years of coaching and he was brought back to his Alma Mater and assigned the task of developing a rush line. He has certainly done this and his linemen have caused more anxiety in the camps of opposing elevens than any other forward wall in the Southern Conference.

COACH HAROLD E. BARRON

Since making his debut as varsity track coach and trainer at Tech in 1923 Coach Barron has won a host of friends in addition to turning out a championship cross-country team and a state championship track team.

BORN at Philadelphia, he attended West Philadelphia High School, and graduated from Penn State. While at Penn State he won five national championships in high hurdles and in 1920 was a member of the United States Olympic team at Antwerp, winning second place in the high hurdles, forcing Earl Thompson to break a world's record.

COACH ROY MUNDORFF

Born at Philadelphia, Coach Mundorff received his early schooling at Gettysburg Academy, and later attended Pennsylvania, where he captained the basketball team and was selected as All-Eastern forward for two years. He also played halfback on the football team.

Since taking over the coaching reins Mundorff has turned out successful freshman basketball teams in 1924 and 1925 and baseball team of 1926. He is also coaching the freshman baseball team.

COACH HENRY B. BJORKMAN

"All-American" football player at Dartmouth College, Bjorkman captained both the football and baseball teams of that institution before graduating in 1925. A year's coaching experience before coming to Tech fitted him admirably for his duties on the coaching staff of the "Golden Tornado."

Although concerned chiefly with the varsity ends, Bjorkman also has charge of the scrubs.

COACH DON MILLER

Although time has passed since the feats of Coach Rockne's "Four Horsemen" were emblazoned on the pages of newspapers the country over, Don Miller is still remembered as a part of this famous football history-making quartet.

Miller came to Tech in 1925 as an addition to our coaching staff, and was placed in charge of the freshman football team. The splendid showing of certain members of last year's freshman squad with the varsity team this year is a result of training under his instruction. Miller is now in complete charge of Tech's backfield material.

The Blue Print

DRIVING through the year at a killing pace the far famed Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets collected their share of the championships awarded to Southern athletic teams. Although only one major title was won, in winning it the baseball team set a record which may stand through the ages. That baseball team acquired fame from the time the season opened until it closed in a blaze of glory and praise of that team is still being sung, with the notes reverberating with increasing loudness.

That Southern baseball championship aggregation was the greatest slugging team to ever play college baseball. A record of twenty-one games won, four lost, and one tied was made during the season in which the best teams in the South were defeated. The Jackets had a team average of .393 runs per inning, scoring 210 runs in 222 innings. This is a new world’s record for scoring in twenty-five games. The team had a batting average of .332.

A few more statistics show that the team made twenty-seven double plays in twenty-six games and also a triple play thrown in for good measure. This was more than a double play a game.

Facing a death crew of sluggers as Doug Wycoff, Captain Bobby Reeves, who is now with the Washington Senators; Gus Merkle and Tom Angley, there is no wonder that many pitchers were forced to give up in utter despair and crumble before the deluge of hits.

Bob Reeves drove eleven home runs, while Wycoff and Angley each clouted out nine. The last hit of the season was a home run by Wycoff, who closed one of the most brilliant college athletic careers of any in the South when he did a Frank Merriwell, slamming out a home run in the tenth with two down, giving the Jackets the Southern championship and a one-run victory over Georgia before the largest crowd of college baseball fans ever assembled. More than 10,000 frenzied fans went wild when he broke up the game.

Coach Robert Alva "Kid" Clay, the little Napoleon, was proud of that team and so was the entire South. That team will go down in the annals as the greatest college baseball team in the South.

Following in the footsteps of the baseball team Coach Hal Barron’s cinder path artists won the Georgia State track championship in addition to the other feats during the season. The 1925 cross-country team won the conference title and Lindsey Roberts romped home to victory for individual honors in that race at V. P. I.

Papa Hood set a new record in the shot put in the annual relay carnival. The mile relay team of Captain Bill Crowder, Ernest Kountz, George Wilde and Julien Saks won the championship for technical schools in the Penn relays.

The swimming team turned in a great record, making a clean sweep of the season and

The greatest basketball team ever turned out at Tech made its debut under the tutelage of Coach Roy Mundorff, who took over the reins for the first time. Not counting the Christmas tour, the Jackets won 14 games during the season and lost only four. Ten straight victories were registered in a row. Up to the time of the tournament Tech had the best record of any Southern team, but after licking the Mississippi Aggies, 40 to 24, the Jackets blew up and in a slow game were eliminated by South Carolina, 32 to 18. One of the great feats of the season was defeating the Georgia Bulldogs.

Tech 87
Total Opponents 87

FROM the standpoint of games lost the 1926 football season for Georgia Tech was the most unsuccessful in the eleven years I have been covering football games for the Journal. And yet there was a spirit about that 1926 gang, and they waged such battles against odds, and went down only to rise again in the next engagement to fight all the harder—all this I say made me love and admire that bunch as much as any Tech gang I ever pulled for.

It was an interesting and colorful team despite the five defeats. Only in one of these games was Tech badly beaten and that was against Alabama, the team that later tied with Stanford in the battle for the National Collegiate championship.

Tech's comeback against Notre Dame was one of the most thrilling things I have ever witnessed. Routed in the first few minutes, in which time the great Irish team scored two touchdowns, the Jackets seemed destined for an overwhelming licking. But they turned on the enemy and fought them off their feet the rest of the way. In the second half Rockne put his entire first string backfield in and kept them there. Yet the Jackets kept the Irish backed up against their goal posts throughout the second half and Notre Dame never threatened again.

Tech was rated the underdog in the W. & L., the Notre Dame, the Vanderbilt, and the Georgia games. Notre Dame was rated four touchdowns better, Vanderbilt two, Georgia three, and Washington and Lee one. Tech beat W. & L., held Vandy to a margin of two field goals, lost to Georgia by one point, and played a whale of a game against Notre Dame.

At the end of the season I had no disposition to wear sackcloth and ashes or commit suicide. On the contrary I was doggone proud of the Jackets. It was one of the most interesting teams Tech ever had and I enjoyed that season more than any in five years. There were few if any growlers or soreheads over the record. The fans recognized the fact that it was largely a sophomore team, and there was so much shown to warrant high hopes for the future, that optimism reigned instead of pessimism. For instance, one could visualize what a new season would mean for such halfbacks as the two Bobs—Parham and Horn—reinforced by such brilliant freshmen backs as Stumpy Thomason and Mizell. Also we are awaiting eagerly the drastic campaign of one Mr. Raleigh Drennon. If this guy doesn't wreck a lot of offensive formations of the enemy next season I will be badly disappointed. Then there are others who are going to make history for Tech on the gridiron. I have every hope that Tech will be formidable candidate for the conference championship next season.

Tech's two best games last fall from an offensive standpoint were against W. & L. and Auburn. The Jackets were hitting on all six here. We have no desire to make any alibi for Tech's 1926 team, but in all justice it must be said that in Carter Barron, the Jackets' best backfield man, was so badly crippled that he played in only a few games. If Barron had played through the Vandy game, and had been able to get in the Georgia game these scores might have been different.

We lift our hat to that brave band of 1926 Jackets, who despite the five losses, won the respect and love of all students and fans. I bid the sons of Tech be of good cheer. A new day is dawning and by the eternal we'll put the old Gold and White flag up at the peak again where it belongs.
Captain Owen Pool
CENTER

Captain Pool was the wheelhorse of the grid machine this season when he closed his successful career. Unfortunately just at the time when Owen was headed for an All-Southern berth he suffered a broken shoulder and was forced from the game. However, he staged a comeback and in the closing games of the season played great ball. Owen was All-Southern in 1925 and was considered one of the best in the South. His football career at Tech has been a brilliant one and the beaten path which he plodded is a monument to his great deeds. He was always a fighter, played the game clean and hard and was respected by all opponents.

Francis Lewis Irwin
End

Sweeping down on an opponent with terrific speed and drive the gentle flankman from Atlanta won the nickname of “Bull.” With the strength of a piledriver, “Bull” played havoc with his side of the line. He will be sorely missed next fall when the call is sounded.

William Waller Hearn
Tackle

“Tiny,” the giant of the team, was substitute tackle, but the experience gained during the past two seasons should put him right for a first string position next year. His strength, height and powerful build should make him an outstanding lineman next year.

Carter Tate Barron
Halfback

Opening the season with a flash which would have made him one of the South’s greatest backs, “Little Red” was dealt a bitter dose by fate when he suffered a wrenched knee. His undaunted spirit and fine playing won favor in the hearts of the fans. His 80-yard sprint to a touchdown in the Washington and Lee game was the greatest run of the season. Red was forced from the Tulane game after circling the ends and ripping off gains through the line in brilliant style. Following in the footsteps of his older brother he won fame and many friends by his brilliant work on the gridiron.

Edgar Jewel Crowley
End

Playing one of the most spectacular games on a Southern gridiron Ed won fame everywhere the Terrans went and when the smoke and dust of battle had cleared he was elected captain of the 1927 team. A great and capable leader he should be, for in the thick of the fight he remains undaunted and stands out as a tower of strength. Going down under punts with terrific speed, Ed crashed upon his opponents, nailing them to the ground in their tracks.
ROBERT HORN
Halfback
Bob came through with flying colors in his first year on the varsity after creating such a sensation on the frosh team. Under the tutelage of Coach Don Miller he developed into a great ground gainer and played consistent ball throughout the season.

KENNETH M. THRAM
Tackle
Following in the footsteps of his father, Kenneth broke into the limelight by his fine work in the line which brought him to the front as a first-stringer for the 1927 campaign. He will be back for another year at least and maybe more which should give him a great grid career in college circles.

JOHN BUTLER LILARD
Guard
John came through during the past season to win varsity spurs. He displayed his wares in fine style and gave the opposition plenty of trouble from start to finish. John has another year on the varsity and should reach his prime during the campaign next fall.

John Mills Brewer
Quarterback
The steady rise of the native son of Griffin has been phenomenal during the two years he has played as varsity signal caller. John is par excellence when it comes to flinging passes as a southpaw. He played a fine brand of ball during the season and was a consistent ground gainer. He should break into the limelight in brilliant style next year, playing through his last campaign for Tech.

JOHN HOUSTON MARSHALL
End
"Johnnie" closed his football career at Tech in brilliant style, winning an All-Southern end position. He came into his own from the start of the season and was one of the outstanding flankers on Southern gridirons.

LOUIS JACOB MARTIN
Guard
Paired with Angley, "Firpo" was an outstanding lineman throughout the entire season, playing a whale of a game. He won his spurs as a substitute guard for Walt Godwin, and the 1926 season saw him come into his own as one of the most promising guards in the South. His splendid playing should win for him an All-Southern berth in his last year on the gridiron.

HENRY RUDOLPH
Center
"Peter" broke into varsity circles when Captain Pool was forced from the game with a busted shoulder. However, Peter filled the vacancy in splendid style and received favorable comment from all the sport writers for his great playing. He should be one of the best in varsity circles next year, for he has the makings of an All-Southern center.

DONALD FINLEY McRae
Quarterback
Finley got a whack on the knee early in the season which put him on the injured list for a time, but while he was in there he certainly did make the opposition step lively. He will be back next year and should enjoy great success, for he is a keen student of the game, is cool under the most terrific fire and a rising field general of note.
SAMUEL DelRose MURRAY
Fullback
Sam was the outstanding line plunger on the Golden Tornado during the season, winning wide recognition in closing his grid career at Tech. He was the mainstay in the backfield, filling the gap left open by Doug Wycoff. Finishing at Newton High, Sam has made a splendid record during his three years on the varsity.

CLYDE SMITH
Halfback
"Shorty" proved one of the most consistent ground gatherers of the season and his work at safety was beyond reproach. A splendid ball carrier and a wizard at returning punts, he carved his name on the rocks early in the season and before the last game was over had won many laurels.

CECIL JAMISON
Fullback
After persistent efforts Cecil came through this past season and won his grid letter as substitute fullback. Filling Sam Murray's shoes Cecil performed creditably in the pinches and kept the opposition on the go the entire time he was in the game.

MERCER McCall THARP
Tackle
The 1926 season saw "Mack" at his best and his splendid playing won for him All-Southern guard on the composite pick. In every game he was commended for his hard, ferocious playing and won recognition on every gridiron during the season. Mack closed his career as alternate captain.

ROBERT Coleman REED
Halfback
"Be" got his first start on the Marietta High eleven, where he distinguished himself in prep circles. After making a name on the freshman team he faced stiff opposition on the varsity, but he plugged it out and came into his own during the 1927 season, winning his letter after playing brilliantly all season. He is one of Tech's most promising backfield stars for next season.

ELBERT Jesse HOO
Tackle
"Father" is alternate captain of the 1927 Golden Tornado and he should be of great assistance. "Papa," one of the biggest men on the team, hails from Texas, where men are men in the wide open spaces. During the campaign he was a terror in the forward wall, lashing his opponents with unusual force. He was an outstanding lineman and he should have a most successful year in closing his career as alternate leader.

ROBERT PHELPS
Halfback
Bob hails from the hills of North Georgia, where he began his grid career in high school which was to remain with him during his four years in college. On the freshman team he was a wizard and in his debut on the varsity was the backbone of the team when it came to punting out of danger. During the season he was one of the best punters in the South in addition to being a ground gainer of note.

RALEIGH DRENNON
Guard
It was not until Coach Bill Fincher needed a terror that it was discovered that Raleigh was one of the best linemen on the field, but once he was found he proved himself a wheelhorse in the forward wall. He will be back next year to rise to even greater heights and should have little if no difficulty in cinching a varsity position.
Robert Lee Randolph
Fullback
In his first year on the varsity Bob made good after starring on the freshman team the year before. In closing his prep career he won all-prep fullback while on the Southern prep championship Tech High eleven. When the yards were needed Bob was there ready and responded in splendid style. He will be counted upon next year to carry the burden in the backfield.

Ralph Bolland
End
When Coach Hank Bjorkman was confronted with the situation of filling the flank vacancies his attention was called to Ralph, who filled the position in fine style. He was outstanding in several games and won much favorable comment.

Thomas Samuel Angley
Guard
In closing his career as a football star, Tom played splendidly during the season as first-string guard and was a powerful factor in the middle of the line. With wide, powerful shoulders the opposition found it very difficult to rush over the chubby guard. He won favor on every gridiron and his loss will be keenly felt next year.

Ralph Earnest Carson
Tackle
Having been dealt a severe blow by fate early in his college grid career, “Kid” battled hard and came through to win his coveted football T. Coach Alex paid a high tribute to “Kid” for his stick-to-itiveness, even though nursing a bad knee since his first year on the varsity.

1926 Freshman Football Season
Coach Kid Clay guided the destinies of the freshman grid team through a heavy season against strong opposition. The Junior Tornado performed splendidly during the season, winning four games and losing only one, that being to the Florida Baby ‘Gators on Grant Field.

Starting off the season in fine style the Junior Jackets set out and immediately avenged the defeat handed the varsity by the Stormy Petrels by handing the Junior Petrels a bitter dose by a 7 to 0 count. The debut of the freshmen by a victory was quickly followed by a brilliant 32 to 21 victory over the Georgia Bullpups in Athens, in which the crowd was kept pop-eyed till the last whistle. Georgia had the lead shortly before the game ended but with less than five minutes to play the Junior Jackets slashed their way through to two touchdowns and victory.

Florida brought a powerful rat team to Grant Field and a youngster by the name of Clyde Crabtree did everything possible on a gridiron and defeated the Junior Jackets 23 to 7. Coach Clay’s charges upset by the defeat sought condolent in handing Sewanee a 12 to 6 licking in the mountains. The freshmen had a merry time in defeating the Junior Alabama Crimson Tide 14 to 7. After the varsity was dished out a 21 to 0 defeat by the Alabamians. That defeat snatched the title away from the Junior Tidesmen.

Playing on that great freshman team were Stumpy Thomsan, Big Ben Sloan Coot Watkins, Frank Speer, Keith, Cy Cassidy, Mace, Sanders, Jetton, Mizell, False, Morris, Brumby, Oltz, Law, Daniel, Russell and DeVaughan.

Winning the 1926 Championship

By Ed Danforth

Sporting Editor, Atlanta Georgian

0 more dramatic championship dash has ever been staged in college baseball than marked the spectacular finish of the 1926 Georgia Tech baseball team in winning the Conference title in one magnificent thrust.

Doug Wycoff hit a home run with the score tied in the tenth inning of the final game of the season with the University of Georgia at Spiller Field. That dramatic blow brought 8,000 hysterical people to their feet, eyes straining, blood pounding. It brought a championship to the boys that Coach Robert Alva Clay had already piloted through nineteen Conference games with only four defeats and one tie.

But it ended so many things that good sportsmen could only choke to think of it. It closed out the career of one of the most colorful athletes who ever wore the White and Gold. It closed out Tech's most successful baseball season and passed into the limbo of the past an array of devoted athletes who had helped Doug stage his stunning adieu.

The Yellow Jackets had as smart a college club as the South ever saw in 1926. Angley, Reeves, Wycoff, Merkle, and Crowley were consistent hitters. The infield, composed usually of Brewer, Moreland, Reeves and Crowley was clever on defense. The pitching staff had such capable flingers as Snead, Conn, Edwards and Florrid.

The club tore through early Conference opposition without halting. The second game of the season was lost to Clemson by one run; the second of the Alabama series was tied 8-8 in a litter battle; Virginia nosed them out by one run in a free hitting fracas. But the pride of the Conference had been cut down one after another and only Georgia remained between Tech and a title.

The first two games of the crucial series were played in Athens and Georgia won both of them. Georgia was doped to lose by the deep thinkers but the Bulldogs fought so fiercely that only inspired baseball could have licked them—and Tech did not produce that sort.

The scene changed to Atlanta and Spiller Field. Tech's fortunes had been slipping while Georgia's had been improving until it appeared that unless Tech took both the return games, no championship flag could float over the Flats.

The first game was a show in itself. Tully of Georgia was pitching at top speed and had the Jackets baffled for five innings. Meanwhile the Athens folks had been knocking Edwards steadily one run at a time until they led 5 to 0 as Tech started the sixth frame. Here Tully cracked under his desperate pace and Tech scored three to tie the game as the Tech sections fairly exploded with excitement.

Shivar, of Georgia slammed a homer with one man on base to put Georgia two runs in front. Tech worked a man around in their seventh but Georgia matched it in their eighth and Tech seemed beaten.

Then Gus Merkle picked one out from what Waller was offering and drove it into the left field stand for all four sacks. That blow put Tech one run in front and the game ended with Tech on top. 7 to 6. That was sensation enough, for in their half of the sixth, the Jackets tore into Kain viciously. Moreland singled and Bob Reeves doubled. Kain was tiring some when he faced Wycoff and Doug retrieved his recent error by lifting a sacrifice fly to score Moreland. Gus Merkle the hero of the day before, poked a single to score Reeves. Then Kain gathered himself together and retired the others in order.

Tech was still one run short and the game was being clicked off with what to the Tech supporters was a sickening pace. Wycoff playing with all the zeal of a religious fanatic delivered a double in the eighth that scored Bob Reeves from second and tied the score as the Tech sections fairly exploded with excitement. While strong men wept and women fainted the game slipped away to the last of the tenth, and Tech's most formidable trio faced Kain—Reeves, Angley and Wycoff. Kain put all he had on the ball and fanned Reeves. He bore down a squeeze bunt, Scrappy Moore scored easily. This gave the Bulldogs a three run lead and the Jackets were seemingly in full retreat.

That squeeze play flustered in their faces must have aroused some much needed ire, for in their half of the sixth, the Jackets tore into Kain viciously. Moreland singled and Bob Reeves doubled. hips. The ball was flying high and far and dived into the covered stand for a home run. The crowd gasped and for a moment was inarticulate. Then a tornado of sound burst over the park. Wycoff was all but mobbed as he crossed home plate. Tech had won 4 to 3—and the manner of winning was most astounding. That is one baseball story that will never grow old in telling however poorly it is told. The mere recital is dramatic enough. It packs its own punch. That victory made the season series square with Georgia and gave Tech a Conference record of 15 games won, 1 tied and 4 lost. I understand that in Tech's 26 games for the season against all opponents a total of 223 runs were scored which broke the collegiate record hiterto held by Georgetown University.

Review of The Freshman Baseball Season

Coach Roy Mundorff's Junior Jackers baseball team more than doubled their opponents score during the season. Out of eleven games only one defeat and one tie was chalked up against them and these were scored by the Oglethorpe freshmen. In the opening game the Junior Petrels won 7 to 6, and in the following game which broke up before the end, the score stood six all. However, the team came through in the following games scoring nine straight victories, and their claim for the conference championship was never protested.

Those on the team included, Parham, If.; Waddey, cf.; Stevens, c.; Shorty Smith, ss.; Carney, p.; Wilson, p.; Hill, p.; Bates; Arnold, rf.; Dempsey, 2b.; Dunaway, 3b.; Shulman, e.

The Basketball Season

1927

"Dynie" captained the best basketball team ever produced at Tech and one which went through the season in a blaze of glory dropping only three games during the season to southern foes before the annual conference tournament. It was his speed in taking the ball up the court and his knack of always making trouble for the opponents which fared him well during the grind. In the previous season "Dynie" won the cup offered for the greatest improvement of any member of the team. He is famous for his brilliant floor work.

CAPTAIN DYNAMITE WILDER

The 1927 Basketball Season

By Julian Griffin

OND parents preparing little children for kindergarten and the endless, if sometimes fruitless, quest of knowledge, tell them that to "Love your teacher" is the first lesson in the book.

Athletic directors, preparing their charges for competition, never fail to stress the important advice: "Keep your eye on the ball."

Tech's basketball team of 1926-27 loved its teacher and the boys kept their eyes on the ball. Consequently, the Yellow Jacket basketeers of 1926-27 comprised the best quintet that ever represented the institution on an indoor court, in the opinion of many, which is thoroughly borne out by the record for the season.

Professor Roy Mundorff, whose youthful features cause one to question the title, assumed charge of the team last season for the first time. He had coached freshman teams at Tech and the Central Y. M. C. A. Varsity since winning an all-Eastern basketball berth at Penn College several years ago, and had demonstrated his ability as a basketball instructor to the satisfaction of all concerned.

WILLIAM HEARN
Center

"Tiny" was the wheelshorse of the team throughout the campaign playing the major role in practically every game. His goal shooting was the feature of almost every game and through his scoring the Jackets chalked up many victories. When Tiny was right Tech supporters could sit back and rest easy for they knew the Jacket giant would produce the points. Dan Cupid shot a goal when he hit Tiny and it is feared that he will not return next year.

DUNCAN MORTON
Playing a fine floor game either in the capacity as forward or guard "Scotty" won his spurs during the season and played a major role in many of the games. He gave a fine account of himself in every game and made the proverbial hoop ring out with a clang dealing death blows to the opposition. He should go good next year.
“Tiny” Hearn, prominent bridegroom, was the outstanding star of the Jacket quintet. Tiny stands six feet and seven inches in his sock feet and shot fully two-thirds of Tech’s 922 points last season. “Tiny” was practically, if not fully, as tall the previous year, but was not so good.

More than once Tech players have told me that Tiny’s respect and admiration for Mundorff caused him to put his whole soul into the game and become the leading lady of Southern basketball circles.

But Tiny was not the whole show. There were Captain “Dynamite” Wilder and Bob Moreland, the irrepressible “Golddust Twins” who alternated at a forward position; Cecil Jamieson, Nick George and Frank Player, who made up the first varsity.

All of the first five (counting Bob and Dynamite as one) were veterans from the past season, but they improved so much until even their best friends could not recognize them.

Although the local season did not open until after Christmas, Coach Mundorff packed his boys up and carried them on a nine-game intersectional excursion into Ohio, Indiana, etc., while most of the other college boys of the south were at home looking up a clean pair of golf hose in preparation for a visit from Santa Claus.

The invasion did not prove a tremendous success from a standpoint of games won and lost, as the Jackets conquered just two of their nine foes. However, they learned a lot of basketball and came home ready to show their Southern playmates just how the indoor game should be played in winning circles.

After making their Atlanta debut while losing to the veteran cagesters of the Atlanta Athletic Club, Coach Mundorff’s boys won consecutive victories over the following teams: Auburn, Georgia, Jewish Progressive Club, Vanderbilt, Kentucky, Southern Bell, Georgia, Jewish Progressive Club, Alabama and evened the count with the A. A. C., before dropping their first Conference game to L. S. U., by one field goal.

Auburn, represented by a real contender, also won from the Jackets before

Nick George
Guard

From the first of the season experts picked Nick as one of the greatest guards in the south and when the season was over they still had the same opinion. Had Tech stayed in the tournament through the semi-finals there would have been little doubt of his ability. He was concentrated arsenic to the opposition throughout the season breaking up their attack and at the same time getting in a couple or so of sensational goals.

Frank Player
Forward

Winning his way through a large field of opposition Frank was one of the best shots on the team and played a steady game. He will close his career next year as alternate captain of the team and in doing so he should be one of the outstanding forwards in the south. His consistent playing brought him into the limelight two years ago and since then he has done his share.

Cecil Jamieson
Guard

Cecil closed his career as alternate captain and one of the best guards on southern courts. Playing in the hole a few snow-birds were ever chalked up against the Jackets. The opposition always found him a heavy barrier to get by to ring a shot. His fine guarding aided greatly in the splendid record made by the team during the season.

Ben Largen
Guard

At standing guard Ben distinguished himself and showed that with a little more seasoning he will be ready to make room for no one. Coming up from the freshman team he showed the stuff and made a fine showing in his first year on the varsity. He should enjoy a prominent place in the limelight before he lays away his basketball togs.
they regained their stride and sailed through Tulane, Oglethorpe and Georgia and rested a few days before the Southern Conference tournament, which was won by Vanderbilt.

Tech entered the tourney a decided favorite and sustained that contention through the first night by eliminating the Mississippi Aggies, 40 to 24. However, South Carolina came along the next night and caught the Jackets off their stride and put them out of the running, 32 to 18.

Out of 27 scheduled games (including the tournament) Tech won 17 and lost 10, scoring 922 points against its opponents' combined efforts of 804. An even dozen conference games are on the list, of which Tech won nine and lost three.

Most notable on the list are three victories over Georgia, two victories over the Jewish Progressive club and an even break in two games with the Atlanta Athletic club.

Everything considered, a more representative, gallant or nobler team never carried the banner of the White and Gold in any line of athletic endeavor.

Freshman Basketball

Under the capable tutorage of Coach Bill Fincher, who made his debut as freshman basketball mentor this year, the Junior Jackets blazed through the season in brilliant style, losing only one game, that being the last of the season and incidentally to the Georgia Bullpups in Athens. The splendid record of the team is seen in the figures which show thirteen victories, one tie and one defeat out of fifteen contests.

During the season such stars as Hank Heeke, “Wild” Oltz, “Count” Lemon, Mears Coker and Sid Goldin led the attack for the freshmen. Probably the three outstanding stars of the team were Heeke, Oltz and Goldin. This trio should go good in varsity circles. Those awarded numerals included Heeke, Oltz, Lemon, Goldin, Coker, Adams, Eaton, Nichols and Mears.

Review of 1926 Track Season

BY ED WHITE

ONLY one victory came to the track team during 1926 and that being the state championship held at Emory University in which the Jackets piled up 64 points to 49 for Emory, 43 1-2 for Georgia, and 3 1-2 for Oglethorpe.

The season opened with the annual Relay Carnival, in which five relay records were broken, three new marks set, with more than 62 schools and colleges represented. Papa Hood set a new mark of 42 feet 7-8 inch in the shot put, Indiana sprinted the half-mile relay in 1 minute 31.8 seconds and the distance medley in 8 minutes 19.8 seconds, while O'Dell, of Clemson, vaulted to a new height of 12 feet 4 inches, and the Baylor half-mile relay team broke its previous record for a new time of 1 minute 34.2 seconds. The relays were great and fared as the best ever held and as the greatest track meet held in the South.

Auburn took the measure of the Jackets, 69 to 43 in the dual meet held on the plains, while in the triangular meet with Clemson and Davidson, Tech finished second, with Clemson first and Davidson third.

Vanderbilt edged out to a 68 1-3 to 64 2-3 victory over the Jackets on Grant Field in a dual meet. There was keen competition in this meet and both teams displayed unusual ability.

In the relays Tech took third place in the one-mile and four-mile relays, while the freshmen also took third place in their one-mile race. Perkins won first in the high jump, while Hood set a new record in the shot put.

In the Penn relays the Jacket quartet of Julian Saks, Ernest Kontz, Captain
Bill Crowder and George Wilder won the mile relay championship for technical schools, winning a large, handsome plaque and each member of the team a gold wrist watch. The team set a new record of 3 minutes and 37 seconds in the race, clipping one second from the record formerly held by Boston Tech.

Georgia won a 70 to 42 victory in Athens, taking eight first places and four entire events. Kontz set a new record in the quarter mile of 49.4 seconds, but it was discovered that the track was a few feet short. However, Lindsey Roberts set a new record in the two-mile run at 9 minutes 48.6 seconds. Turner, of Georgia, equaled O’Dell’s mark in the pole vault at 12 feet 6 1/2 inches.

Seven Southern records fell in the conference meet, which North Carolina won, with Virginia second and Tech tying with N. C. State for ninth place. Elliott, of N. C., ran the mile in 4 minutes 21.2 seconds; Roy, of Clemson, sprinted the quarter mile in 49.2 seconds, breaking the record set by Kontz in the trials the day before; Watts, of N. C., stepped the low barriers in 24.6 seconds; and Lund, of V. P. I., set a mark of 136 feet 5 inches in the discus. Newman, of Clemson, ran the half mile in 1 minute 57.6 seconds, and Brady, of Kentucky, jumped 22 feet in the broad jump. Twenty Southern Conference colleges were represented in the great meet.

The Jackets came to life in the annual Georgia State meet, winning the championship, with Emory second, Georgia third and Oglethorpe fourth. Three records were broken, including the two-mile by Dick Fickett, who ran 10 minutes and 25 seconds in a downpour of rain; Wilder ran the quarter in 52.4 seconds, nosing out Saks, and the Jacket quartet of Crowder, Wilde, Saks and Cabaniss set a new mark in the mile at 3 minutes and 24 seconds. Tech was second in the S. E. A. U. meet in Birmingham, which Auburn won. The Jacket relay team won the Joe Sewell trophy, Kontz tied the record of 50.8 seconds in the 440, and Hood heaved the shot 43 feet 1 1/8 inch for a new record. Six records were broken during the meet.

Review of 1926 Cross-Country Season

Dick Fickett captained the 1926 harrier team which rode to a 23 to 32 victory over Clemson and a 19 to 36 victory over Georgia in dual races, finishing fourth in the annual Southern Conference five-mile championship and second in the annual Birmingham road race. Captain Fickett closed his cross-country career during the season leaving behind him a brilliant record. He was the mainstay of the team and during the three years on the varsity was classed as one of the most consistent point winners.

The conference five-mile cross-country race held in Athens was won by North Carolina with Galen Elliott finishing first, nosing out Maryland at the tape. The Tarheels finished with a 33 score, Auburn second with 64, Maryland third with 68, Tech fourth with 94, Washington and Lee fifth with 141, Clemson sixth with 145, V. P. I. seventh with 150, and Georgia eighth with 172.

Auburn won the Birmingham race with 43 points, Tech second with 61, Mississippi A. and M. 71, B. A. C. 89, Georgia 128, Mississippi College 129, Alabama 135, and Birmingham Southern 149.

Tom Wright, stellar star, will lead the 1927 team through its campaign and the young star should close his career in brilliant style.

The members of the team included Captain Dick Fickett, Tom Wright, Julien Saks, Roy Brewer, George Morgan, Emil Williams, Ed White, L. Q. Head, Jack Stein and Hart.

Review of the Swimming Season

No aquatic champions of the south in the past have ever had a more brilliant team than the 1926 Jacket crew which won its way to a southern championship with a splendid record. During the season the Jackets headed by Spec Hollingsworth, one of the foremost swimmers of the south, defeated The Citadel, Vanderbilt, Florida and Georgia on two different occasions.

In the Vandy meet, Captain Spec established a new record in the 100 back of 1 minute, 13.4 seconds, Wadley Glenn hung up a new record of 1 minute and 21 seconds in the 100 breast. Tech won all the first places except two in the meet with Florida winning 54 to 17. Hollingsworth lowered the southern mark in the 220 dash to 2 minutes and 36.3 seconds in the meet with Georgia. In the other meet with Georgia the fancy diving decided the meet with Race first and Glover second.

The members of the team included Captain Spec Hollingsworth, Manager Bolan Glover, George Race, Bill Noyes, Peter Bruce, Wadley Glenn, Tom McCutcheon and Warren Oliver.

Review of Lacrosse Season

Interest in lacrosse has steadily increased since it was first introduced by Dr. J. B. Crenshaw, former Johns Hopkins star and now coach of the Tech team. During the season the Jackets played six games, four with Georgia and two with Fort Benning. The freshmen played two games with the Georgia Bullpups.

In the first with Fort Benning, Tech won, 2 to 0, while the soldiers copped the second, 2 to 1. In the first Georgia series, the Jackets won handily, 7 to 4, but lost the second by the same score to the Bulldogs. However, in the two games played in Atlanta, Tech took both victories, the first 6 to 3 and the second 8 to 4.

For the Jackets, Captain Rupert Getzen was the outstanding player on the team, being the wheel horse in every game. Carter Barron, Mack Tharpe, Papa Hood, Felix Diamond, "Bull" Irwin and Captain-elect Red Riley starred during the season. Charlie Atkinson was one of the best goal keepers in the game.

The 1926 Golf Season

THE 1926 golf season was an unusually successful one although the Jacket golfers were pitted against some of the best amateurs in the south and east.

Tech defeated Penn State at Philadelphia, Huntington Valley Club at Baltimore, Baltimore Country Club at Baltimore and lost to Princeton at Princeton on the eastern invasion. In the match with Alabama the Crimson Tide team won a 10 to 8 victory with Crimson shooting a 71 for low score. Druid Hills Golf Club of Atlanta fell before the onslaught of the Jacket niblick wielders in a very thrilling match.

In the quadrangle meet with Sewanee, Vanderbilt and Tennessee at the Cherokee Country Club, Tech won first with Sewanee second, Vanderbilt third and Tennessee fourth. Watts Gunn and Bill Spalding established a new amateur record of 70, one under par during the match.

Seven colleges were entered in the annual S. I. G. A. meet at the Roebuck Golf Club, Birmingham, Ala. Alabama won the match with Sewanee second and Vanderbilt third. Bobby Baugh of Alabama won the individual trophy.

The team was composed of Bill Spalding, captain, Watts Gunn, Johnny Bachman and Joe High Williams. In the S. I. G. A. meet Smith and Watterson substituted for Gunn and Bachman.

Watts Gunn, captain of the 1927 team, sailed to Europe with Bobby Jones, former Tech star, and the world's greatest amateur golfer, as a member of the Walker cup team.
Review of the 1926 Tennis Season

Tech made a clean sweep of the tennis season, winning seven dual matches, the conference championship and the Georgia state intercollegiate title.

The Jacket net stars made a clean sweep with Wofford, winning all 6 matches. Sewanee, Alabama and Clemson managed to win only one match against the Jackets, while Vandy was defeated 4 to 2 and Georgina 5 to 2 during the season. Captain Berry Grant and E. B. Merry won the doubles in the conference tournament thus giving Tech the title.

In the conference tournament Tom Slate of Florida won the singles title defeating Chamberlain of Tulane 6-4, 2-6, 7-3, 7-3 and 7-5. Grant and Merry won the doubles defeating Chamberlain and Bayne of Tulane, 6-0, 4-6, 6-3, 6-6, and 6-8.

The members of the team included Captain Berry Grant, "Pee Wee" Merry, Scotty Morton, G. B. Strickler, Fred Wagner, Walter James, Walter Merkle, Righton Swicegood and Chase Hunter.

The 1926 Freshman Swimming Season

The freshman swimming team followed in the wake of the varsity in winning the Southern Conference Championship. Every meet was won by an overwhelming amount. The stars of the team Young and McKinstry, displayed their prowess in every meet and showed that they would aid the varsity team the following year.

The members of the squad were: Holleman, Harris, Knapp, McKinstry, Merrill, Simpson, Young and Wilson.

The frosh conquered all the local prep teams with no difficulty, besides outswimming Central "Y" to the tune of 56-17. But the results which brought joy to the hearts of Tech supporters were: Frosh 43, Georgia 10, and Frosh 44, Georgia 17.

The season was the most successful one ever enjoyed by the swimming teams of Georgia Tech.

Functions of the Student Council

The Student Council of Georgia Tech, a student governing organization, came into existence during the school year of 1922-23. At about this time the Honor Court had been abolished and the Anak Society nominated the Student Council to take its place on the Tech campus.

The main purpose of this organization is to act as a medium between the student body and the faculty. All cases of infraction of the school regulations regarding honor or conduct are handled by this body of students. In case of dispute between the Student Council and the faculty, the faculty has the final deciding power.

Members of the Student Council as provided by their constitution are, the President of the Senior Class, the President of the Inter-Fraternity Council, the Editor-in-Chief of the Technique, the President of the Y. M. C. A. Cabinet, and the President of the Athletic Association. Other members are elected as follows, five men from the Senior Class, four men from the Junior Class, two from the Sophomore Class, and one from the Freshman Class.

To be elected to serve on the Student Council is one of the highest honors that can be conferred on a Tech student, as only those who have proven by their past actions to be trustworthy and competent are elected.

Your Annual

The 1927 Blue Print did not just happen along because its appearance at the end of school is another small event each year in the routine of life. Twelve months of constant grinding and sacrifice were required to produce your annual. At times it seemed that there would be no book at all; difficulties appeared which seemed to be unsurmountable, but these were overcome by the desire of the staff to perform this thankless task to the best of their abilities and hasten the joyful moment when this book would go to press.

Errors exist in this volume and omissions have occurred in its make-up, causing quite a few to criticize us severely. For these faults we are sincerely sorry. We can only offer for an excuse that in the handling of several thousand pictures and hundreds of different kinds of materials such mistakes are necessary. Our paramount object has ever been to please you, at the same time furnishing for Georgia Tech a year book which will be comparable in quality to any of its size. If we fail to meet your approval we have fallen short of our mark, for this is your book. We have realized our responsibility and honestly given our best.

The Art Staff has attempted to use the Colonial motif from cover to cover, with simplicity and pleasing effect of the whole as their aim. Only as much written matter as we thought the student would like to read has been used, since a book of this nature is necessarily semi-pictorial. Useless write-ups about seniors have been discarded in accordance with the popular trend of the better class of annuals. Originality, coherence, consistency and good taste have been striven for.

We would be indeed ungrateful if we failed to express our appreciation to those who have contributed so generously of their time and services striving to make this book a success. It has been pleasant to deal with the Ben Franklin Press and White Studio, both of whom have served this book beyond expectations. The staffs of the book have voluntarily assumed a share of the responsibility which rests upon the Editor-in-Chief and the Business Manager, and cooperated to build a publication of which Georgia Tech may be proud. Whatever our degree of success may be, it is measured by your approval.

The Glee Club of the Georgia School of Technology was organized nineteen years ago, and since its first bow before a Southern audience it has suspended operations for only two years, during the World War, after which it was reorganized. Since the time of its origin, the Glee Club has each year shown vast improvement over all previous efforts. At the present time it takes its place among the finest clubs of similar nature throughout the Southern schools.

The Glee Club is undoubtedly one of the most popular of the non-athletic activities of Tech. Each year a wealth of material turns out for places in the club, the chief difficulty being the choosing of the best talent offered in order to present those finished programs for which the club is so justly famous. The result may be found in the well-rounded performances with singers, dancers, musicians and comedians—all artists in their particular lines.

The Glee Club of the season 1926-27 was well up to the standard and the popularity of the performances wherever given attest the excellence of program and personnel.
Review of the Glee Club Season

By BILL SHERIFF

THE IDEA of a Glee Club in a Technical school has always seemed incongruous to the general public, the niceties of singing and the Thespian's art being usually associated with those colleges where literature and art hold undisputed dominion. It remained for the Georgia Tech Glee Club, in the South, at least, to demonstrate that the engineer could leave his transit or engines, doff his overalls and produce such harmony from behind his tuxedo front as would make the critics sit up and give their unstinted praise and undivided attention.

The Glee Club of the season 1926-27 departed from the vaudeville policy of the previous year and reverted to a more classical form of program, and the enthusiastic manner in which the efforts of the club were received was ample tribute to the success and popularity of the "South's Liveliest Singers."

James Alderson, who was Musical Director of the Georgia Tech Glee Club last year, again guided the organization through another season, and as a result of his long and varied experience, moulded an excellent chorus. His ideas and services this year as Musical Director were invaluable.

The Glee Club is this year again greatly indebted to Professor G. M. Sparks, whose advice and wealth of publicity ideas have made the season, and particularly the road trips, a financial success, and a possibility. He has been a true friend, a hard worker and a wise counsellor and the club is unanimous in its vote of thanks.

The program was divided into three acts, the first featuring the soloists, chorus and quartet, in harmony from the "Student Prince," the operas and negro spirituals, while the instrumental trio and mandolin club added that touch of variety that completes a well-balanced program.

Following the first intermission, the Tech Ramblers and chorus treated the audience to "twenty minutes of jazz," presenting, with energy and enthusiasm, the latest song and dance hits from Broadway, while the third act again reverted to the classical and semi-classical, with lively interludes by the mandolin club.

The Glee Club opened their season in Marietta, Georgia, early in February, and one month later took their long trip, traveling, this year, in busses loaned by the Georgia Military Academy.

Five days through North Georgia and Tennessee were followed, on the night of April 2nd, by the performance of the singers before a packed house at Erlanger Theatre, in Atlanta, the Glee Club finishing the season in a blaze of glory.

The many friends of Georgia Tech, both in Georgia and the neighboring states, have been hospitality itself, and the "South's Liveliest Singers" are unanimous in their praise and appreciation of the splendid reception accorded the club wherever it appeared. Those who provided homes are to be particularly remembered as contributing so largely to the success of the trips.

It has been a great year and though there will be many new faces in the ranks when the club again takes the road, the season closes with even brighter prospects for another year.

The Marionettes of Georgia Tech—"The South's Leading College Dramatic Club"—was founded early in the twentieth century and has, since that time, made for itself an enviable reputation, not only in Georgia but also in the neighboring states, by the general excellence of its work and the finish of its presentations.

Since talent is recruited solely from the Georgia Tech campus, the club has, naturally, to resort to female impersonations for the feminine roles. The finished performances testify what hard work can accomplish in this line.

The Marionettes offer opportunity to aspiring members in several fields, other than his- trionic; scenery construction, electrical work, business, publicity and musical talents are all necessary toward the presentation of a successful production.

The close of the season 1926-27 finds the Marionettes more firmly established than ever in public popularity. A great deal of the credit should go to Bill Scherffius, president and director, and Hal Chaille, business manager, for it is largely through their efforts that the Marionettes have maintained their place among the leading dramatic organizations of the Southern schools and universities.
Marionettes

REVIEW OF SEASON

The Marionettes of Georgia Tech, leaving behind them the sweeping plains of Texas and the Mexican border, benevolently terrorized by "The Bad Man," returned to the Middle-Eastern States for the setting of the 1926 summer production, their vehicle being "The Backslapper," by Mann Page and Paul Dickey.

"The Backslapper" was undoubtedly the most serious effort yet presented by the "South's Leading College Dramatic Club," but under the able directorship of Joe Duckworth, himself an old Marionette, the play rapidly rounded into form and its first performance in Atlanta proclaimed it an immediate success. Bill Scherffius, president of the club, played a long and heavy lead, ably supported by a splendid cast, and the play, both as regards histrionic perfection and excellence of technical production, reached a new highwater mark of Marionette history.

The fall presentation of the club was very reminiscent of the previous play, and the "Show Off" of George Kelly, directed by Bill Scherffius, again demonstrated the ability of the thespians in comedy.

Lathrop Lane and Leon Brown carried away the major honors of the play, Lane playing the title role and Brown the long and difficult part of the "Show Off's" mother-in-law. The supporting cast was one of the best ever assembled in a Marionette production, and the first trip into South Georgia before Christmas assured the club of their success.

Following the Atlanta performances of the "Show Off" in February, the Marionettes took their annual spring tour of South Carolina, playing to good audiences for one week and being received with wonderful hospitality everywhere.

It has been an excellent year and the wealth of material and interest and enthusiasm of the club will do much to carry the Marionettes through many more successful seasons.

Honorary Organizations

Phi Kappa Phi is the oldest honorary fraternity on the campus and is the highest scholastic honor a student can gain, since membership to it is limited to those who have distinguished themselves in both scholarship and activities during the first three years they have been at Tech.

Tau Beta Pi rates on a par for engineering students with Phi Kappa Phi, its membership being confined strictly to engineering students. Members are chosen from the upper quarter of the Senior class and are those who have shown unusual ability in their studies and general activities.

Pi Delta Epsilon is a national journalistic fraternity, membership to which is a reward for proficiency on some school publication for at least two years and general ability in other lines of campus endeavor.

Rho Gamma Sigma, a national scholastic commercial fraternity this year granted a charter to the local Cosmos Club. Membership is limited to the upper ten per cent of the Senior Commerce Class, providing their average is eighty per cent or above for three years and they have not had more than one deficiency, which has been successfully removed by re-exam.

Alpha Delta Sigma is an honorary commercial journalistic fraternity, election to which carries with it admissions to membership in the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World. Only those students taking advertising or marketing in the Commerce Department are eligible for membership.

Phi Psi is an honorary textile fraternity, membership in which is conferred upon those textile students who have shown all-round ability in school and campus activities.

Delta Sigma Pi is one of the strongest honorary commercial fraternities at Tech. Members are elected to this organization from those upperclassmen of the Commerce Department who have shown themselves to be unusually proficient in class work and school activities.

Kappa Kappa Psi is an honorary musical fraternity, membership in which is restricted to outstanding musicians in the band and school.

Alpha Kappa Psi is an honorary commercial fraternity composed of commerce students of marked ability in school work and outside activities.

Georgia Tech was honored by the Navy Department in 1926 by being selected as the only school in the South and one of only six in the United States to have a Naval Branch of the R. 0. T. C.

The selection was made after the naval authorities had investigated all of the leading southern colleges in which R. O. T. C. units are located, which is considered a great compliment to the efficiency of the local R. O. T. C.

Only fifty men were admitted to the new organization when the fall term began. Fifty new men are to be admitted each year, so that after four years, a maximum of 200 men will be included in the unit. Transfers from other units are not permitted.

It is said that one of the chief factors in the selection of Georgia Tech for the Naval Unit is the excellence of its mathematical training, since a considerable amount of mathematics is necessary in the making of a good naval officer.

The Naval Unit has another interesting feature, other than being distinct individuals on the campus. Each summer the students, as planned by the authorities, will go on a three weeks cruise. These trips will be so arranged that the student will be able to obtain first hand information and practical experience on board ship, which is essential to a naval officer.

The Rifle Team and Its Season

Realizing an ambition which it has had since its organization, this year's Rifle Team won the silver cup and the championship of the Fourth Corps Area, leading the field of fourteen colleges in the area comprising Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, South Carolina, Mississippi, Tennessee, and Louisiana.

Gaining a big advantage in the third and fourth stages of the annual Fourth Corps Area intercollegiate rifle competition, the Yellow Jacket sharpshooters rang up a total score of 7,671 points out of a possible 8,000. Georgia came second with 7,581 points.

Last year the Tech team placed near the top of the list in the match after defeating some of the best tennis in the country. The rapid rise to the corps area championship this year has been a brilliant one with the Jacket shooters winning all the matches fired with the exception of one tie.

Military Football

For the third consecutive time the Infantry won the annual regimental football tournament. The Infantry won five straight games to end the season with a perfect record. Close on the heels of the Infantry came the Coast Artillery Corps in second place, losing only one game and tying one. The Air Corps tied the C. A. C. 7 to 7 in a hard tussle.

The regimental tournament was far different from any held in the past; in fact it had only slight earmarks of the ones of previous years. Coach Alexander turned loose his Black Devils and the scrubs who failed to qualify for letters and these sturdy varsity candidates held the limelight with only a few of the unknown stars cropping into the limelight.

After the season was over the commanders seated themselves in the council circle and picked an All-R. O. T. C. football team consisting of: Baker and Daniel, centers; Crow, Boston and Littleton, guards; Savage, Hoffmnn and Corbitt, tackles; Von Weller, Rentfroe, Stephens and Hatcher, ends; Conley, Deb, Dempcy, Daniel, Keener, Passalaigue, Shull, Russ, Lee and Luna as backs.

Regimental Basketball

Had it not been for the one defeat suffered at the hands of the Air Corps, the Infantry basketball team would have finished the season undefeated. However, in winning the championship for the second consecutive time the team won nine games and lost but one. The Signal Corps finished hot on the heels of the Infantrymen, losing two games to the champions.

The tournament, taking place early in the season, created a great deal of interest and furnished many candidates for both the varsity and freshman teams. The Infantry displayed splendid teamwork throughout the hard schedule, playing every team twice.

This was the second championship that Captain Howland had put in the race and the boys were there with the goods. The members of the team included, S. L. Coker, A. H. Roane, H. C. Nichols, W. H. Emory, R. L. Gordon, J. Passalaigue, J. T. Adams, L. W. Huntsinger, R. B. Camp and A. A. Hutchinson.

The 1927 Tech Terror and Tatler

FOREWORD

You have seen the mugs and turned through countless pages of names. Maybe your fellow, sweetheart, son, daughter, brother, cousin or sister were among the lists, we thought they looked good too. Our problem at present, however, is to write a foreword to this department of the Tatler and so far we are going along nicely, covering several lines. As long as we can hold our own and take up the space the public will never notice that it does not contain a thought. For the few who have clamoured through this far we are going to do something different. We are going to congratulate you, for we know success lies at your door.

DEDICATION

As has been said many times before, "Dedications should be simple." We therefore dedicate this section to those who do not follow us. Without explanations.
Cross Sections Through the Collegiate Air

The biggest obstacle at the boarding house is, to speak in the natural tongue, the dam victrola. "Who started it—you've played that a thousand times—my god—Valencia, again—Baby Face—I'll move tomorrow."

In rushes the athlete, "I've gotta make a hurried call to the Piedmont, the Father of American Football is in town and—what? That dam Billy Fitz filling another date over the phone—say we fellows got to do something about this." A few more dirty cracks are made under the breath and the big man on the campus stomps out.

"Did you see that Dizzy Blond at the dance last night, where did she hail from?—not bad—not half bad—what's that—Hendlock 1112-0—Thanks."

The boys are gathered around the evening papers. "See here where Dave Young broke the back stroke record—but at that I never thought he was such a good swimmer. I remember when we used to—"

When we entered the doorway of his room the knot on his head was still aching.

The sounds of college yells, the music from the college band, mad shouts from the cork kingdom, the cracking of peanuts, the gentle whistle of an October breeze, filled the air for the first game of the season. The alumnae would get their first opportunity to see what the coach could do this year.

Nobody thought of the Phi Beta Kappa prospect that reposed in his room studying the problems of his next week assignments. Nobody could realize what he was sacrificing, for the sake of a high average and a star by the side of his name. Nobody tried to picture such an incident because it would have been such an original idea.

Two lumberjacks stopped at a preacher's house for dinner. One began eating before the divine had time to say grace. His partner whispered fiercely to him:
"Wait a minute, you hog, the parson wants to say something."
The other replied, without stopping: "Let him say what he likes, he can't turn my stomach."
—Widow.

She: "I have a chance for the football team."

The sad looking man at the corner table had been waiting a very long time for his order. At last a waiter approached him and said:
"Your fish will be coming almost any minute now, sir."
"Oh, yes," said the man, looking interested. "And just what bait are you using?"
—Chaparral.
