ANAK, the oldest honorary organization on the Tech campus, is the highest honor a Tech student may obtain. The members of ANAK are selected from the men of the senior class who are outstanding among their fellow students by their achievements for and services to Georgia Tech.

Since its founding in 1908, ANAK has numbered among its members many Tech men who have become leaders of national prominence. ANAK has been responsible for founding nearly all the other clubs that exist on the Tech Campus.
Omicron Delta Kappa is a national college activities fraternity for men. Members are selected on a point basis—a definite number of points being given for each honor or position attained by the student. When a student has amassed a minimum of thirty points and maintained a definite scholastic average, he is eligible for election—the ultimate election depending upon his character and popularity among his fellow students. O.D.K. ranks along with ANAR as the highest honorary organization on the Tech campus.

Omicron Delta Kappa
Tau Beta Pi, national honorary engineering fraternity was installed at Tech in 1925. Students are selected on the basis of character, scholarship, and leadership, and membership in Tau Beta Pi is considered one of the highest honors to engineering students throughout the country. Tau Beta Pi awards a cup to the senior judged by the faculty from a selection by Tau Beta Pi.
Phi Kappa Phi honors those members of the senior class who have distinguished themselves on the basis of scholarship and leadership. Next to the oldest honorary society on the campus, Phi Kappa Phi, a national scholastic fraternity, was established at Tech in 1914. Members are selected from the upper seven percent of the senior class including all departments. Phi Kappa Phi awards a cup to the senior having maintained the highest scholastic average while at Tech. Phi Kappa Phi also sponsors the annual Honor Day Exercises at which recognition is awarded the deserving students.

OFFICERS

The officers of Phi Kappa Phi are chosen by the faculty members from the faculty members.

CHEMISTRY AND CHEMICAL ENGINEERING FRATERNITY

Alpha Chi Sigma is a professional chemical fraternity and is today the second largest society of its kind in the world. It is composed of chemists and chemical engineers who unite themselves for the mutual advancement of their social and professional ideals.

The chapter at Georgia Tech tries to promote an interest in chemical affairs by sponsoring movies, exhibits, and lectures. In addition, it awards a handbook annually to the junior chemist or chemical engineer with the highest scholastic average.

Chi Epsilon is the only national fraternity composed entirely of men in the field of Civil Engineering. Founded at the University of Illinois in 1922, it reorganizes and encourages the qualities of scholarship, character, practicality, and sociability in the undergraduate Civil Engineer.

The Georgia Tech chapter of Chi Epsilon, founded in 1943, was formed from the Civil Crew, the oldest honorary organization on the Tech campus. Among its many activities are field trips, guest speakers, presenting news of the profession, and movies on various engineering subjects.

The Bulldog Club is one of our best known local organizations. It was founded by a group of seniors in 1910 to promote college spirit and interest. The club merged with the Junior Koseme Club in 1933 to form the present organization, whose members are selected from the most outstanding juniors and seniors on the campus.

Every year the Bulldog Club sponsors a Thanksgiving cake race for the freshmen; the homecoming decorations, awarding a loving cup to the winning fraternity; a Thanksgiving dance; and the bowling tournament. The Bulldog Club is best known, however, for its colorful initiations.

The Ramblin' Reck Club is an organization whose purpose is the upkeep of school spirit. Members of the club are chosen by Coach Alexander, and the number is kept small to insure efficiency.

The activities of the "Reeks" include instructions to incoming freshmen concerning the duties of a rat and the traditions of Tech. The annual homecoming dance is sponsored jointly by the "Reeks" and the Bulldog Club. Also, the club awards a trophy each year at homecoming to the winner in the "Reck" contest.

Kappa Kappa Psi is a national honorary musical fraternity established at Tech in 1924. It elects to membership those men from the upper classes who have upheld the highest standards of character, leadership and musical ability.

The Tech chapter is in charge of the football band and in many ways has helped the group attain a marked position on the campus.
Organizations
The 1946 Blue

The 1946 Blue Print, the thirty-ninth annual of Georgia Tech, presents the continuous history of the school from March, 1945, to March, 1946. Once again the accelerated program has made it difficult to assemble the necessary data. A complete turnover of the staff due to graduation has also added to the problem. Despite the above, the staff has strived to make this a complete coverage of the year's activities.
The Technique, published weekly by the students of Georgia Tech, strives to give the students of the school a complete and accurate coverage of the news as it occurs.

Although no course in journalism is offered at Georgia Tech, the Technique has advanced through the years until it is rated one of the best collegiate publications in the South.

Throughout the year the staff of this paper has taken the initiative in putting many of the drives and campaigns conducted on the campus over the top.
Since the Navy came to Tech, the Nautilus, formerly the N. R. O. T. C. magazine, has expanded to cover the whole school and has become increasingly popular with everyone. It has taken over the duties of the Yellow Jacket, which has been discontinued for the duration, in bringing to the Navy boys the spirit and traditions of Tech and making it seem more like their own college while stationed here. It is published monthly and has its offices in the Naval Armory.

The Student Council is the governing body on the Tech campus, elected by the student body itself. The purpose of the Council is to represent the student body in all matters affecting student interest, to provide a medium of communication between the students and school authorities, and to preserve the customs and traditions of the school. The Council also promotes and supervises the annual election of class officers, and elects student representatives on all student-faculty committees.

The Georgia Tech chapter of the American Institute of Chemical Engineers was established on this campus in 1933. Its membership consists of juniors and seniors from the Department of Chemical Engineering who are interested in furthering their knowledge of the field in which they propose to enter.

Through the medium of motion pictures, tours to plants, and lectures by prominent chemical engineers during the school year, the local organization has done much to stimulate the interest of the students in the chemical industries.

The Georgia Tech chapter of the American Society of Civil Engineers offers membership to all Civil Engineering students. The purpose of the organization is to aid the student through associations and contacts which will aid them as a practicing engineer. This is accomplished by means of luncheons, investigations, trips to nearby construction work, and lectures by practicing engineers.

ELECTRICAL ENGINEERING SOCIETY

The Georgia Tech chapter of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers was established on this campus in 1915. It is composed of men from the Department of Electrical Engineering who wish to further their knowledge of the field in which they propose to enter. By lectures, tours, and movies the organization stimulates the interest of the students.

One of the most active groups on the campus from the standpoint of creative work is the Glee Singers. It is a choral organization under the direction of Mr. Walter Herbert whose interests toward the organization have made it very successful with its entertainment programs.

The Glee Singers give programs before other colleges, city clubs and churches. The past year brought forward a program of Christmas carols led by the group.

CATHOLIC SOCIETY

The Georgia Tech Newman Club is the local chapter of the Federation of College Catholic Clubs. Its purpose is to promote the mutual interests of the Catholic students at Tech whether those interests be of a spiritual, intellectual or social nature. Its activities consist of a program of religious education in the form of talks and open discussions, supplemented by social functions of a recreational and fraternal nature.

The members of the Baptist Student Union include all members of the Baptist Church who are attending Georgia Tech. The Council of the Union directs the activities of the organization on the Tech campus. The group plans a Student Evangelistic Week, Vocational Training Week, student night services, and courses in church and Bible training. The Council sends delegates to the State and Southern Baptist Student Union convention. The Council itself affords the connecting link between the student and the neighborhood Baptist Churches and takes an active part in promoting the religious activities of the student body.
The Y. M. C. A. at Tech is made up of two separate units—the Freshman Council and the "Y" Cabinet. The "Y" Cabinet being the more important unit is composed of upperclassmen who have shown their desire to enter an extra-curricular activity of a religious nature.

The "Y" strives to show the students the part that religion plays in school life as well as in business. This is done by means of retreats, discussions, and lectures. The "Y" also sponsors a program of activities that consists of movies, receptions, and tournaments in table tennis, handball and horseshoes.

DEBATE CLUB
The Debating Club at Georgia Tech is an organization for members of all classes. Its purpose is to train the members in the principles of informal speaking, and to discuss topics of timely interest.

The society holds numerous debates with other colleges and has succeeded in maintaining high standards of the forensic nature.
Alpha Phi Omega, honorary scouting fraternity, is chartered by the National Council of Boy Scouts of America. Its purpose is to assemble college and university men in the spirit of the scout oath and law, to develop friendship and promote service to the youth of America.

Active membership is granted only to students who previously have been affiliated with the Boy Scouts of America, either as scouts or as scout leaders. The chapter at Tech is a recent establishment; however, they have already sponsored several noteworthy projects, including several major campus functions.

The International Relations Club is composed of those students at Tech who are interested in discussing world affairs. Several interesting speakers have attended the meetings of the club and given valuable information on topics concerning the United States relation with its foreign neighbors.
A product of the sincere interest in flying at Georgia Tech, the newly formed Flying Club boasts a fine and active membership.

Instructed by returned veterans, the members have many flying hours to their credit.

Every Saturday afternoon the club meets at Candler Field and takes to the air to enjoy a full afternoon of flying.
