Virginia from page 28

The Jackets hit a rocky path early in the second half. UVA junior forward Laura Mia Mikalauskas got the and-one and after Morrow was called for a foul during a lay-up. After the shot, Morrow was called for a technical foul. After UVA made all three free throws, they got the ball back and made another lay-up. The entire play accounted for seven points.

"[The official] said I pushed him, but I thought he pushed me. It was a heat of the moment thing," Morrow said.

Tech was also called for two lane violations during the game, both of which UVA was able to capitalize on.

"Two lane violations and a technical foul, that's four points. You can not give away four free points in a game that close...we can eliminate those mistakes we could walk out of here with a three or four point win...but in an ACC game you just can't do those things. It's just that simple, you just can't do it," Hewitt said.

"We hear this team before, As a team we should have won ahead and put them away early, but we traded buckets with them. When you do that the game almost never goes your way," Peacock said.

"You can not give away four points in [close games]...if we can eliminate those mistakes, [we can get a win]."

Paul Hewitt
Head Coach

Virginia from page 28

VT from page 28

10 points. While the Jackets allowed the Hokies to shoot 40 percent from the field in the game, Virginia Tech took almost 24 less shots than Georgia Tech. Georgia Tech's opportunistic defense forced 37 turnovers and 26 steals in the game while committing only 13 turnovers and allowing six steals.

In Georgia Tech's regular season finale, the Jackets were not able to hang on and lost to the Virginia Cavaliers on the road in double overtime, 103-101.

While Virginia had already wrapped a No. 4 seed in the ACC tournament and a guaranteed bye on the first day of play, Tech was playing to try and secure the No. 5 seed. A win would ensure this while a loss would leave their fate in the hands of other teams.

The Jackets came out strong, leading the Cavaliers 50-35 as they headed into the locker room. The offensive output in the first half was Tech's largest lead before half time.

In overtime, the Jackets were able to hang on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

Tech's momentum carried over into the first overtime period and they took a two-score lead with just over 30 seconds left, but could not hold on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

The Jackets hit a rocky path early in the second half. UVA junior forward Laura Mia Mikalauskas got the and-one and after Morrow was called for a foul during a lay-up. After the shot, Morrow was called for a technical foul. After UVA made all three free throws, they got the ball back and made another lay-up. The entire play accounted for seven points.

"[The official] said I pushed him, but I thought he pushed me. It was a heat of the moment thing," Morrow said.

Tech was also called for two lane violations during the game, both of which UVA was able to capitalize on.

"Two lane violations and a technical foul, that's four points. You can not give away four free points in a game that close...we can eliminate those mistakes we could walk out of here with a three or four point win...but in an ACC game you just can't do those things. It's just that simple, you just can't do it," Hewitt said.

"We hear this team before, As a team we should have won ahead and put them away early, but we traded buckets with them. When you do that the game almost never goes your way," Peacock said.

On Saturday, Tech ended a woe of flow. There were a couple of long throws, they got the ball back and made another lay-up. The entire play accounted for seven points.

When you do not give away four free points in a game that close...we can eliminate those mistakes we could walk out of here with a three or four point win...but in an ACC game you just can't do those things. It's just that simple, you just can't do it," Hewitt said.

"We hear this team before, As a team we should have won ahead and put them away early, but we traded buckets with them. When you do that the game almost never goes your way," Peacock said.

Tech played Clemson yesterday and lost to the Hokies to shoot 40 percent from the field in the game, Virginia Tech took almost 24 less shots than Georgia Tech. Georgia Tech's opportunistic defense forced 37 turnovers and 26 steals in the game while committing only 13 turnovers and allowing six steals.

In overtime, the Jackets were able to hang on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

Tech's momentum carried over into the first overtime period and they took a two-score lead with just over 30 seconds left, but could not hold on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

In the second overtime, Virginia helped break a tie that spanned much of the period with a shot by Virginia's Monica Wright, giving the Cavaliers a two-point lead with two seconds left. It was the difference in the game as Tech lost the heartbreaker.

Tech was still able to earn the No. 5 seed in the ACC tournament being held in Greensboro, N.C. Tech is matched up with Miami.

"Tech was still able to earn the No. 5 seed in the ACC tournament being held in Greensboro, N.C. Tech is matched up with Miami."

"You can not give away four points in [close games]...if we can eliminate those mistakes, [we can get a win]."

Paul Hewitt
Head Coach

Virginia from page 28

VT from page 28

10 points. While the Jackets allowed the Hokies to shoot 40 percent from the field in the game, Virginia Tech took almost 24 less shots than Georgia Tech. Georgia Tech's opportunistic defense forced 37 turnovers and 26 steals in the game while committing only 13 turnovers and allowing six steals.

In Georgia Tech's regular season finale, the Jackets were not able to hang on and lost to the Virginia Cavaliers on the road in double overtime, 103-101.

While Virginia had already wrapped a No. 4 seed in the ACC tournament and a guaranteed bye on the first day of play, Tech was playing to try and secure the No. 5 seed. A win would ensure this while a loss would leave their fate in the hands of other teams.

The Jackets came out strong, leading the Cavaliers 50-35 as they headed into the locker room. The offensive output in the first half was Tech's largest lead before half time.

In overtime, the Jackets were able to hang on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

Tech's momentum carried over into the first overtime period and they took a two-score lead with just over 30 seconds left, but could not hold on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

The Jackets hit a rocky path early in the second half. UVA junior forward Laura Mia Mikalauskas got the and-one and after Morrow was called for a foul during a lay-up. After the shot, Morrow was called for a technical foul. After UVA made all three free throws, they got the ball back and made another lay-up. The entire play accounted for seven points.

"[The official] said I pushed him, but I thought he pushed me. It was a heat of the moment thing," Morrow said.

Tech was also called for two lane violations during the game, both of which UVA was able to capitalize on.

"Two lane violations and a technical foul, that's four points. You can not give away four free points in a game that close...we can eliminate those mistakes we could walk out of here with a three or four point win...but in an ACC game you just can't do those things. It's just that simple, you just can't do it," Hewitt said.

"We hear this team before, As a team we should have won ahead and put them away early, but we traded buckets with them. When you do that the game almost never goes your way," Peacock said.

On Saturday, Tech ended a woe of flow. There were a couple of long throws, they got the ball back and made another lay-up. The entire play accounted for seven points.

When you do not give away four free points in a game that close...we can eliminate those mistakes we could walk out of here with a three or four point win...but in an ACC game you just can't do those things. It's just that simple, you just can't do it," Hewitt said.

"We hear this team before, As a team we should have won ahead and put them away early, but we traded buckets with them. When you do that the game almost never goes your way," Peacock said.

Tech played Clemson yesterday and lost to the Hokies to shoot 40 percent from the field in the game, Virginia Tech took almost 24 less shots than Georgia Tech. Georgia Tech's opportunistic defense forced 37 turnovers and 26 steals in the game while committing only 13 turnovers and allowing six steals.

In overtime, the Jackets were able to hang on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

Tech's momentum carried over into the first overtime period and they took a two-score lead with just over 30 seconds left, but could not hold on and allowed the Cavaliers to come back, tie the game and force a second overtime.

In the second overtime, Virginia helped break a tie that spanned much of the period with a shot by Virginia's Monica Wright, giving the Cavaliers a two-point lead with two seconds left. It was the difference in the game as Tech lost the heartbreaker.

Tech was still able to earn the No. 5 seed in the ACC tournament, being held in Greensboro, N.C. Tech is matched up with Miami for the third time this season.

The teams had met twice during the season, splitting the games with each winning on the road with a buzzer beater.
Baseball tops Western Carolina, Kennesaw St.

Freshman Deck McGuire pitched seven innings for his second straight start helping the Jackets come from behind to beat former Tech pitching coach Bobby Moranda and Western Carolina on Tuesday, 4-1.

In his time at the mound, he gave up just one hit. In the top of the second, J.C. Lyons hit a home run. For the freshmen, Jackets Derek Dieterich homered to bring in two unearned runs in the bottom of the second. An error by Matt Johns from second to first base allowed sophomore Tony Plagman to reach first. Senior Brad Feltes followed with a strike out that would have been the third out of the inning. Dieterich gave up a home run that scored Plagman.

The Jackets added another run in the following inning when junior Jason Haniger doubled and moved to third on junior Chris House's sacrifice bunt. Thomas Nichols RBI groundout scored Haniger from third. Later, in the seventh, Haniger led off the inning with a single and moved over to second when House walked and moved to third on a groundout by senior Charlie Blackmon. Haniger scored when Chris Masters threw a wild pitch that bounced down the first base line.

McGuire earned his second win of the year to go to 2-0, while Catawba's Drew Sabehahagen took his first loss of the season (0-1). The Jackets played another close one against Kennesaw State on Wednesday, winning 5-3 on a late RBI double by Feltes. Sophomore Andrew Robinson picked up his second win in relief while junior Chris Hicks got the save, his third of the season. Freshman Brandon Cumpton threw seven innings and gave up just two runs.

State scored their first run in the opening frame when Jacob Robbins led off the game with a walk and stole second. He scored on an RBI double by Tyler Stubblefield. Freshman Derek Dieterich answered with his second home run of the season in the bottom of the second frame.

The top half of the next inning saw State take a run lead again. This time, Stubblefield doubled and scored on a single by Josh Whiteraker and was driven in by Andrew Martin.

After Feltes doubled in the eighth, Patrick Long was intentionally walked to load the bases and sophomore Jay Daniel hit his sacrifice fly to drive in another run.

Softball loses two in home opener against Virginia

We print all the news that fits, but we need your help to do it.

Advertisers make the Technique possible each week. All spaces are available for campus, local and national advertisers.

Exposure your organization or business to nearly 10,000 readers every week!

Visit www.nique.net/ads for information about pricing, deadlines and more!

Will you TURN OFF the heat already?!
- Why isn't there a Sudoku puzzle in the Technique every week?
- Response: because it is hard to make one that is solvable. We've tried
- Just look at when we've done them...
- "Two numbers not in the same row, column, or box... impossible!"
- Monica P is the hottest girl here!!!
- I'll show you my silver box if you show me yours
- What smells like kitty litter and sex?
- "don't mess with angry aaron," "if you guys don't stop tickling me I will pull this car over"
- Tips for 'dressing up' to get guys: CoC= Princess Leia; Mngmt= Richard Nixon; * Eng= a sexy, female Tesla; COA= Le Corbusier... simple
- I wonder what real students are doing while I'm in CFY drawing charcoals of sunlight
- Tesla; COA= Le Corbusier... simple
- But we know clothes.

OFFERING BILLS KHAKI'S AND VINEYARD VINES

WWW.HSTOCKTON.COM

404.249.7002
404.233.1608
770.984.1111
770.396.1300
The Georgia Institute of Technology presents in association with the Ivan Allen College and the Consulate General of Japan in Atlanta

Tuesday, March 25
Zōkoku monogatari Stories of Moonlight
Mizoguchi Kenji, 1953
94 minutes, Black and White

Thursday, March 27
Kwaidan: Parts 1 and 2
Kubrick Asif, 1964
85 minutes, Color

Friday, March 28
Kwaidan: Parts 3 and 4
Kubrick Asif, 1964
85 minutes, Color

Monday, March 31
Kairo
Kurosawa Kiyoshi, 2001
118 minutes, Color

Ghosts, Legends, and Technology in Japanese Cinema
March 2008
All films are free and open to the general public with introductions made by faculty

Time: 7-9PM

Location: Student Success Center
Press Rooms A & B, 2R Level
219 Uncle Heine Way
Atlanta, GA 30332-0445

For directions and parking information visit:
www.cinema.gatech.edu

Meet and Greet organized by the Consulate General of Japan in Atlanta
March 31 at 6-7PM in Hall of Success, Student Success Center

www.cinema.gatech.edu
Women’s tennis bests Clemson, Notre Dame

By Steven Capetta
Contributing Writer

The women’s tennis team beat Clemson 6-1 last Wednesday in a long indoor battle in which Tech won every singles match and only dropped the doubles point.

No. 24 Clemson includes the No. 1 singles player in the nation, Ani Mijacika. The team won the first doubles match, but dropped the next two, both of which ended in tiebreakers. Senior Whitney McCrave and freshman Sadia Krupina finished their doubles match first over Federica van Adrichem and Esterfanya Balda 8-5. The teams of junior Christy Striplin with freshman Noelle Hickey and senior Kristi Miller with sophomore Kristin Flower lost both their doubles matches that went close to the end. Miller and Flower’s match came down to the last few points in the tiebreaker which they ended up dropping, 8-7 (7-5).

When singles play began, Tech was still struggling to take the lead. Slow starts from Miller, sophomore Amanda McDowell and McCrave led to early deficits. McDowell match around over van Adrichem and winning it in a third set 6-6, 6-2, 6-7 [5]. Flower took her match over Ina Hadziselimovic after winning her second set in a tiebreaker 6-2, 7-6 (7-3) to bring Tech’s team score to 3-1. Striplin sealed Tech’s victory of 4-1 after beating Alexandra Luc 6-2, 6-0. Miller’s match, arguably the most exciting of the night, was close the entire time with the No. 1 Mijacika close in matches, games and individual points. Miller won the first set 6-2, but lost the second in a close tiebreak 6-7 (7-9). In the third set Miller came from behind to bring the set to another tiebreak and eventually win the match and point for Tech.

On Saturday afternoon, Tech was able to win again at Notre Dame, 5-2. Tech started off the day by losing doubles. Flower and Krupina were the first to step off the court, losing to Cosmina Ciobanu and Colleen Kiely 8-4. Miller and McCrave lost their match to Brook Buck and Keely Tefft 8-2 to give the Irish the doubles win.

Hickey won her singles over Krisik and gave Tech’s first point for the day, evening up the score 1-1. Flower was the next to win over Ciobanu with a 6-4, 6-2 victory. McDowell beat Buck 6-1, 6-3 and brought Tech’s score to a 3-1 lead over the Irish. At the No. 6 position, Johansson sealed Tech’s win over Notre Dame with her individual win over Rafael 6-3, 6-4.

“Tech struggled to take the lead in singles. Slow starts from Miller, [McDowell] and McCrave led to early deficits.”

Kirsten Flower celebrates during a match at home. The team was able to overcome a slow start and rout Notre Dame on the road, 5-2.

---

By John Guthrie

sliver

www.nique.net/silver forgot. Good for the drivers! (& Maybe Jack Nicholson will come to campus!)

I was disappointed to get dropped from SAE during Spring Rush. Apparently I didn’t fit the criteria of already being flushed from three other houses.

Hey kid with goatee and red Saturn, I feel like a white van with no windows and “Free Candy” painted on the side would better fit you.

Having a viking ship in your front yard should disqualify you from Greek Yard of the Month.

Does SAE have a dress code in order to be out front of their house drinking?

why can’t gtpd put a security guard in the parking decks.... there’s way to many break ins and thefts these days.

I was the one who sent the mass email about the second test to every ECON2105 student, I clearly underestimated the number of replies I would get from a class of ~200, STOP EMAILING ME, the test is the week after spring break brw, thanks for the emails what kind of sick joke is “women awareness month”

To the one who insulted the redheaded chi psi: have fun being cut from the new national sorority.

---

40th Anniversary Wrektacular
March 29th, 2008
The Drunken Unicorn
Doors Open at 9 pm
Wrecktacular is a FREE show.

Featuring

JUDI CHICAGO

THE GLASS KINGS

ANDY DITZ

KING BLINDERS

THE SUBMARINER

THE KITEFISH

91.1 WREK

---

Pictures of Kirsten Flower taken during a match at home. The team was able to overcome a slow start and rout Notre Dame on the road, 5-2.
Tech splits conference games

Men win 87-79 over Wake Forest, lose 76-74 to Virginia

By Matt Hoffman
Contributing Writer

The Jackets fell to Virginia in a heartbreaking buzzer-beater on Monday night 76-74. The game was the Jackets’ first home win since Jan. 19 and their second in ACC play.

Georgia Tech in special uniforms that were Rewind Michael Gondry’s newest flick, Be Kind Rewind, fails to recapture the imagination of his past films.

By Hahnming Lee
Sports Editor

The two teams went to the locker room with Georgia Tech leading 29-28.

The game against Virginia Tech featured Georgia Tech in special uniforms that were in the style of the 1979 team. While they respected their past with the custom suits, they also overtook some of the records of the very players and teams they were paying tribute to in the historical game.

Juniors Janie Mitchell, Daphne Mitchell and Chioma Nnamaka all had double figures in points. Nnamaka set a new career-high with 27 points on 10-for-19 shooting and 7-for-13 free throw shooting.

Junior Jeremis Smith drives to the basket in the overtime win against Wake Forest. The win was the Jackets’ first home win since Jan. 19 and their second in ACC play.

By Jan Devereux / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

Georgia Tech’s women’s basketball team split their final two matches of the regular season, beating Virginia Tech 76-45 and losing to Virginia 103-101.

While the game was close for much of the first half, Georgia Tech ran away with the game in the second. An opening 12-0 run extended Georgia Tech’s lead to double-digits and they never looked back, building on that lead for the course of the second half.

Ingram was not the only one breaking records as both teams claimed several. The margin of victory was Georgia Tech’s largest in ACC conference play history. Virginia Tech’s set a record in offensive ineptitude, with their 43 points being their lowest output in conference play.

Juniors Janie Mitchell, Daphne Mitchell and Chioma Nnamaka all had double figures in points. Nnamaka set a new career-high with 27 points on 10-for-19 shooting and 7-for-13 free throw shooting.

Senior Janie Mitchell shot just six-for-19 from the field, but still added 16 points, three assists and four rebounds. Daphne Mitchell had

By Jan Devereux / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The two teams went to the locker room with Georgia Tech leading 29-28.

While the game was close for much of the first half, Georgia Tech ran away with the game in the second. An opening 12-0 run extended Georgia Tech’s lead to double-digits and they never looked back, building on that lead for the course of the second half.

Ingram was not the only one breaking records as both teams claimed several. The margin of victory was Georgia Tech’s largest in ACC conference play history. Virginia Tech’s set a record in offensive ineptitude, with their 43 points being their lowest output in conference play.

Juniors Janie Mitchell, Daphne Mitchell and Chioma Nnamaka all had double figures in points. Nnamaka set a new career-high with 27 points on 10-for-19 shooting and 7-for-13 free throw shooting.

Senior Janie Mitchell shot just six-for-19 from the field, but still added 16 points, three assists and four rebounds. Daphne Mitchell had

By Jan Devereux / STUDENT PUBLICATIONS

The two teams went to the locker room with Georgia Tech leading 29-28.

While the game was close for much of the first half, Georgia Tech ran away with the game in the second. An opening 12-0 run extended Georgia Tech’s lead to double-digits and they never looked back, building on that lead for the course of the second half.

Ingram was not the only one breaking records as both teams claimed several. The margin of victory was Georgia Tech’s largest in ACC conference play history. Virginia Tech’s set a record in offensive ineptitude, with their 43 points being their lowest output in conference play.

Juniors Janie Mitchell, Daphne Mitchell and Chioma Nnamaka all had double figures in points. Nnamaka set a new career-high with 27 points on 10-for-19 shooting and 7-for-13 free throw shooting.

Senior Janie Mitchell shot just six-for-19 from the field, but still added 16 points, three assists and four rebounds. Daphne Mitchell had