Graduates, Seniors Can Apply
For Weather Officer Ratings

College graduates and second-semester seniors with credit for one year of college physics and mathematics through integral calculus are now eligible to apply for USAAF commissions and government-expenditure training to become weather officers with the USAAF Air Weather Service.

Successful applicants will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Air Force Reserve and will be required to report for duty as soon as practical after August 15 to begin a 12-month meteorology course at two participating United States colleges.

Schools will offer the weather training course, the University of California at Los Angeles, the University of Pittsburgh, and the State University of Iowa, will be held in Atlanta and at as yet to be announced date in April, May, and June.

Men making this trip will travel by air with all expenses paid by the government. Those selected will have the opportunity to travel throughout the nation and to take part in all branches of meteorology with the Air Force Reserve.

Judges will be selected by the American Meteorological Society, and the selection will be made on a best-qualified basis. Not more than one candidate will be selected from any state or country. All such nominated men will be notified on a personal basis, and the weather training course will begin early in June.

The portfolio winner in the annual competition will receive a certificate of merit. Two major awards will be presented to the top three.

The technical staff of the University of Cincinnati is the sponsor for the project, and will be guided by Dr. H. W. Straley III, Associate Professor of Ceramic Engineering School.

Dr. Straley, a native of Georgia and a graduate of Lumpkin County, Georgia, is a past and present member of the frontiersmen who have attended the annual meeting of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers.

In honor of Dr. Straley, the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers of Georgia will present the student who wins the annual competition with an award of $25.00, to help defray the cost of the class while he is in residence.

GIVING BLOOD

...can fight Freedom's cause on battlefields of Korea.

Giving blood is giving of your very life. And by giving a little of your blood, which you will never miss, you, too, can fight Freedom's cause on the battlefields of Korea.

So of course you want to give blood. But the question is—when? The Mobile Unit of the Red Cross Blood Center may give you an opportunity in March when it sets up a temporary Blood Center at Georgia Tech for four days beginning March 3.

Right now our Armed Forces require 300,000 pints of whole blood a month. The quota for the Atlanta Center is 5,000 pints a month. Month after month we failed to meet that quota but in January we were able to meet the month we failed to meet that quota but make up some of our deficit. This was beginning March 3.

Sent over for two days and brought back in Atlanta as small mutt of the saved man. Accepted for mailing at special rate of postage provided for in Section 10 (a) of Act of October 2, 1937, entitled April 9, 1942.

Subscription rates $1.00 per quarter

Wrestlers In Spotlight
Of Intramural Program

By Mark Myers

The annual intramural wrestling tournament will take place next Monday night February 25, at 6:00 p.m. in the wrestling room. All Georgia Tech students are eligible to participate in the event and should report to the tournament office in the rear of the armory.

The intramural basketball teams are in their stretch drive for the league championships. Most all the league games have been close affairs and there will probably be some great basketball games in the next few weeks.

In the Tornado League Alpha Epsilon Pi lost their first game of the season to Theta Xi 46-42 in an overtime period. These two teams along with Kappa Sigma are in a triple tie for the first slot in the White League of the Intra-Club Basketball.

The Newman Club kept right on winning all their games in the IHO League. The boys from the Newman Club defeated the Wesleyan Foundation by an 82-64 score, swamped Burgess 44-14, downed the Navy A team 37-31 and the Navy B team 48-33. In another IHO league game Towers defeated Burgess 50-46 and then lost to the Navy A team 54-42. The Navy B team won two more league contests by downing Burgess 30-15, and BSU 31-23.

In a sidelight game within the IHO League games Towers defeated the Alpha Sigma Phi Fraternity last Sunday afternoon the pledges defeated the brothers by a 32-23 score.

The Gold League showed plenty of action with the Sigma Chi's playing four games and winning all these games by substantial scores. The Sigma Chi's won over Sigma Nu 37-28, Beta Theta Pi 59-37, Kappa Alpha 47-17, and had a forfeit win over Alpha Tau Omega. Sigma Nu managed to squeeze out a win over Alpha Tau Omega 31-29, Phi Delta Theta.

Jacket Quintet Defeated By Vols
In Best Played Game of Season

Wednesday night Georgia Tech lost its best game of the year to a scrappy Tennessee team. Tennessee was pushed to win 83-81 in the last few minutes. The Yellow Jackets looked like a different team against the Vols. Big Bill Clise and Pete Silas took most of the main scoring honors.

The lead switched several times as the game neared its end. With one minute left to play Bertelkamp slipped in a crisp shot that put Tennessee ahead 81-80. Kentucky's decisive shooting put them out in front 82-81 by half time.

The Yellow Jackets came back a revamped team. Coach Whack Hyder must have lit a fire under them during the half, because after a minute of play the Engineers had scored eight points compared to the Vols two. Silas and Clise were working well by tipping in rebounds and controlling the backboards. The team as a whole looked better with Clise in his old spot. The big center was missed very much under the goal.

The new Yellow Jacket team outscored the Vols from Tenn., 48-41 during the second half. They had cut Tennessee's half time lead down to 69-64 by the end of the third quarter. With five minutes left to play Silas tipped in one to tie the score at 69-60. Unstead's jump shot put Tech ahead 71-69 as the crowd went wild. Tech students and fans were really wanting this long waited for victory.

Queen Of Hearts Ball
To Be Held By Sig Ep's

The Georgia Alpha Chapter of Sigma Phi Epsilon Fraternity will hold its annual Queen of Hearts Ball tonight, February 22, 1952, at the American Legion Post Number 72. The festive occasion takes its name from the feature of the evening, the coronation of the lucky young lady chosen to be the Sig Ep's reigning Queen of Hearts for the coming year. Bob Axtell and his orchestra will provide the music for dancing from nine until one.

A Queen of Hearts is chosen each year by the fraternity to act as hostess for the chapter on all social occasions, to plan program of chapter functions, and to supervise their conduction. This year the queen will be chosen from a bevy of beauties: the Misses Betty Lou Bradford, of Decatur; Barbara Mason, of East Lake; Norma Fields, of East Point; Joyce Firks, of Atlanta; and Gyneth Lawton, of Atlanta. The men of the fraternity have been deliberating the choice of queen for the past month, prompted by the respective sponsors of the candidates. The final voting was held last Wednesday evening in the chapter meeting by secret ballot, and no one will know the identity of the new queen until the crowning ceremony at 11:30 this evening. A bouquet of roses will be presented to the new regent by the retiring queen, Miss Vivia Richardson of Atlanta, who has established herself firmly in the hearts of the brothers of SIGE for her untiring service in the past year.

The brothers and their dates will gather at the chapter house following the dance for breakfast. On Saturday evening, the week-end's festivities will be climaxxed by a house dance in honor of the new queen until the crowning ceremony.
