The supreme goal, the highest achievement of all the brass-shining, mirror-gazing, officers of the Army, Air Force and Navy Cadet Corps is that of being selected by the National Society of Scabbard and Blade. Theirs is a national honorary military society composed of men who have proved to be the best in leadership and scholarship and most likely to continue as an outstanding member of society.

The principle aim of the organization is to promote a feeling of unity among the military leaders and to maintain a high standard in the military activities of the Corps.

The Arnold Air Society is one of the newer organizations on the Georgia Tech campus. The members of this society are selected from Air Force R. O. T. C. advanced students with at least a "B" average in military and who show outstanding interests and abilities as Air R. O. T. C. cadets. The organization is designed in purpose to promote closer and more efficient relations among students of the Air Force R. O. T. C. program.
The N. R. O. T. C. Activities Committee has as its purposes: (1) to provide a student organization to aid the common welfare, morale, and endeavors of the N. R. O. T. C. Unit, and (2) to aid in training the officer candidates by experience in administration of welfare duties.

The committee coordinates all intramural sports participated in by teams from the Naval Unit, provides recreational facilities for Midshipmen on the main deck of the Naval Armory, and sponsors the Annual Navy Ball.

Pershing Rifles is a fancy drill team which is a national society of the college Army R. O. T. C. units throughout the nation. All members of the organization have joined of their own free will and have met the standards and qualifications of good citizenship and discipline as set forth by the founder, John J. Pershing. Pershing Rifles, wearing their white leggings, white gloves, and white helmets, represent Georgia Tech and the Army R. O. T. C. in drills and competitions.
