Military
The Army

REGIMENTAL STAFF

CADET COLONEL C. B. HERBERT . . . Regimental Commander
CADET LT. COLONEL R. H. TROWBRIDGE . . . Executive Officer
CADET MAJOR S. W. VAN LEER . . . . Regimental S-1
CADET MAJOR J. D. LANIER . . . . . . . Regimental S-2
CADET LT. COLONEL R. D. ADAMS . . . . . Regimental S-3
CADET MAJOR E. ZELLER . . . . . . . . . . Regimental S-4
CADET LT. COLONEL F. B. FAUST
Artillery Battalion

CADET LT. COLONEL R. E. ENGLE
Chemical Corps Battalion

CADET LT. COLONEL J. P. PERRYMAN
Engineer Battalion

CADET LT. COLONEL D. M. SHEPPARD
Infantry Battalion

CADET LT. COLONEL A. F. GANDY
Ordnance Battalion

CADET LT. COLONEL W. T. HULL, JR.
Signal Corps Battalion

ROTC Trains Cadets for Future Service
Cadet Colonel C. B. Herbert receives his colonel's bars from Brigadier General Werner and Colonel Curren, PMST, of the local unit.

"Aright you guys, fall in on the double!" . . . It was these charming words that began six weeks of military life and procedure. . . . The uniform line was filled with remarks about the poor taste in color and someone even asked what happened to the belt buckles on the backs of the pants. . . . Of course there were the more enjoyable moments such as marching through the rain on bivouac. . . . Remember that inspecting officer in the barracks? Boy, I'll bet his wife catches it! . . . Those days on the rifle range weren't too bad except that we

The uniform brings a cadet to the realization that he is now an actual part of the army ROTC training program.

Army ROTC teaches the cadet a sense of responsibility for his weapon.

Much practical experience is gained at the summer camp.
The training at the summer camps produces cadets ready to serve.

couldn't hit the targets... "I'd sure like to get my hands on the guy who invented those obstacle courses!"... Remember how we used to get up in the middle of the night (it seemed). Seems like they could find a different eight hours in which to do a day's work... How about the night all the guys slept on the floor so they wouldn't mess up their bunks for the inspection next morning?... Remember the "milkshake" party the last night?... However, when the "hurry up and wait" days were gone it seemed as if they began only the day before...
BATTALION STAFF

MIDN. CAPTAIN J. P. KLINKE . . . Battalion Commander
MIDN. LCDR R. W. DEVANE . . . Sub Commander
MIDN. LT. W. T. LANIER . . . . Operations Officer
MIDN. LT. W. J. DOUGAN . . . . . . Adjutant
MIDN. LT. J. E. DILTS . . . . . . . Supply Officer
MIDN. CPO D. M. GAY . . . . . . . Chief Petty Officer
Trains Men for the Fleet
Chapel services on deck serve to promote the spiritual lives of the men.

Life aboard a training ship has many varied and interesting phases.

Midshipmen are introduced into the aviation aspect of the Navy during one of their summer cruises.

Staring in awe as he climbed the gangway, our midshipman stumbled onto the quarterdeck and saluted the OOD. . . . After finding his compartment and bunk he then looked for the chow line, which had just been secured. . . . His first enemy aboard ship was that "%&*##" Bos'Un who piped reveille in the middle of the night. . . . However, all was not bad; the holystone and swab handle provided hours of entertainment all during the day. Also, G.Q. (general quarters) drills provided the ultimate in chaotic scrambling above and below decks. . . . Will he ever forget eating while sliding across the deck during that storm? Fond in his memory are the messengers who vigilantly shined the flashlight in his face while looking for the midwatch relief and, of course, the Bos'un on the 1MC who constantly shouted, "Now all midshipmen who have not done so, do so immediately!" or "Hereafter, there will be no — be no — be no — !" . . . But hitting port made all well again. London and its Piccadilly Circus and Paris and its Moulin Rouge! . . . Um boy! Of course, the fun was short-lived and soon the ship was on the high seas once more. . . . Two weeks more of the routine of watch standing, turning to, and long chow lines. . . . Guantanamo Bay, Cuba, was the next, and last, stop. . . . After gunnery practice in the Caribbean, the ship finally weighed anchor and nosed out of the bay and headed northward — homeward bound after a long and definitely educational eight weeks at sea!
A regular Navy student receives practical experiences in flight training while on summer cruise at Corpus Christi, Texas.

The Supply Corp offers many opportunities for service.

The midshipmen are indoctrinated into many phases of the Navy's varied training program through active participation.
WING STAFF

CADET COLONEL R. M. LITTLE . . . Wing Commander
CADET LT. COLONEL J. K. WILLIAMS . Deputy Commander
CADET LT. COLONEL R. M. LEEPER . Operations Officer
CADET LT. COLONEL J. E. WORM . . . Inspector General
CADET LT. COLONEL C. H. CRANDALL . . . Material Officer
CADET MAJOR J. C. KELLEY . . Information Service Officer

Wing Staff: Williams, Stevens, Worm, Crandell, Little, Meloof, Leeper, Kelly
CADET COLONEL T. L. GOSSAGE
Commander Group I

CADET COLONEL J. S. WALKER, JR.
Commander Group II

CADET COLONEL W. B. GRANT
Commander Group III

Trains the Future Pilots of the Air Force
Summer camp also offers the cadets an opportunity to relax.

Nothing could have been more frightening than going through the Base gates and reporting to the cadet office for the first time. . . . To insure maximum enjoyment for everyone, morning inspections began immediately and the usual spit and polish brilliance and measured 45 degree corners on the beds seldom met with complete approval. . . . No one ever figured out why a bunch of air force cadets had to march, and Future pilots receive training in high altitude flying under simulated atmospheric conditions while at their summer camp.

The actual flight is the all-important moment for the cadet.

not fly, everywhere they went. . . . Perhaps the most enjoyable moments of the entire six were spent in the lecture hall—asleep on the floor! . . . Who will ever forget the gas attack and the time the cadet OD was grabbed and mauled during bed check. . . . Those T-33's looked like iron monsters at first but after an hour up the cadets landed and walked and talked like thousand-hour men. . . . That evening the Officers Club was filled with tales of these new veterans. . . . Of course, on the last night the tactical officers were dumped in the swimming pool! . . . Passing through the main gates for the last time brought sudden realization that it was all over and then also came the realization that it wasn't so bad after all. . . .
The supreme goal, the highest achievement of all brass shirring, mirror-gazing officers of the Army, Air Force and Navy is the National Society of Scabbard and Blade. It is composed of men who have proved outstanding leadership and intelligence.

In addition to being an honor society, the organization annually sponsors the Military Ball, which ranks second only to IFC as the year’s outstanding school dance. This year the Society waited until spring to have the Ball so that Billy May could be obtained to play. In the winter the usual tapping ceremony took place at a special dance at the Atlanta General Depot.

OFFICERS

THOMAS F. DAVENPORT
Captain

NEWTON G. HARDIE
First Lieutenant

RICHARD W. DEVANE
Second Lieutenant

HOMER J. BOATWRIGHT
First Sergeant

MEMBERS NOT PICTURED

DIFFLEY, J. J.
KENNEDY, D. B.
OLIVER, A. G.
OZMER, P. R.
PRINGLE, J. J.
ROBERTS, V. T.
SCHRIMSHIER, B. R.
SUMMER, J. L.
TRAMMEL, R. D.
WALKER, J. S.
WANNAMAKER, J. K.

Scabbard and Blade, Top Military Honor
Arnold Air Society Is AFROTC Honorary

One of the youngest college honor societies, the Arnold Air Society strives to promote better student-faculty relations and better inter-school ROTC relations. Perhaps the most important objective is a broad program of public relations whereby the layman may better know and understand the Air Force and as a result, raise the standards of the Air Force.

Membership in the Society is limited to those advanced students who have maintained a 'B' average and, moreover, have displayed outstanding leadership traits during their first two years of Air Force ROTC training.

OFFICERS
Robert M. Little Squadron Commander

W. Burton Grant
Executive Officer

T. M. Wannamaker
Adjutant-Recorder

T. L. Gossage
Operations Officer

J. S. Walker
Finance Officer

MEMBERS NOT PICTURED

Dyer, F. B.
Ecker, H. A.
Ozmer, P. R.
Roberts, V. T.
Stanley, M. P.
Stewart, J. W.
Sutton, R. D.
Walker, J. S.
Wannamaker, T. M.
The Pershing Rifles

Bailey, J. B., Jr.
Ballie, A. C.
Berry, A. W.
Bond, J. E.
Bowen, J. D. R.
Brannon, R. L.
Brown, B. S.
Brown, F. K.
Brown, J. E.
Campbell, J. F.
Clark, G. M.
Collazo, J. L.
Cone, J. C.
Curtis, D. B.
D'Alessio, A. T.
Davis, D. L.
Dunham, K. B.
Edwards, B. D.
Elmore, D. W.
Erlenkotter, D.
Falcon, G. D.
Field, H. H.
Field, S. E.
Gilliam, R. N.
Gilmore, R. A.
Godfrey, C. S.
Hammond, W. R.
Harling, B. L.
Harris, C. T. B., Jr.
Harris, D. E.
Hartford, R. B.
Henley, C. F., Jr.
Herrington, T. N.
Hodgson, E. W.
Hill, C. A.
Hilton, R. G., Jr.
Hollingsworth, W. F.
Hubbard, J. B.
Hughes, R. R.
Hullener, J. R.
Jones, A. O.
Jones, M. D.
Kirk, L. R.
Kollie, T. G.
Lambert, G. B.
Langston, D. L.
Latimer, R. T.
Lu, H. H.
Mahal, R. R.
Mann, C. K., Jr.
Martin, J. R.
McDonald, W. D., Jr.
McDowell, G. M.
McDuffie, G. L.
McGee, B. D.
McGregor, A. J.
McKinney, H. G.
Miller, P. S.
Minter, J. T.
Moore, B. L.
Morris, J. W.
Nichols, A. C.
O'Donnel, P. E., Jr.
Owen, J. D.
Patterson, R. W.
Peavy, J. H.
Pilkinson, G. B., III
Pou, R. F.
Pou, M. E.
Preister, K. C.
Ray, R. W., Jr.
Reehes, H. F.
Richmond, H. G.
Schmidt, J. D., Jr.
Sheer, M. A.
Silver, J. F.
Simpson, C. L.
Sirmans, J. W.
Somber, T. R.
Steitz, R. A.
Stevens, R. R.
Surrey, J. R., III
Swancy, G. W.
Taylor, L. J.
Thomas, D. O., Jr.
Thurmond, R. H.
Tillison, J. R.
Tomlin, H. F.
Vickery, R. H.
Walker, B. R.
Ware, J. M.
Winn, D. B.
Wrigley, F. L.
Pershing Rifles is a fancy drill team which is a national society of the college R.O.T.C. units throughout the nation. All members are volunteers who have met the standards and qualifications of good citizenship and discipline as set forth by their founder, General John J. Pershing.

The Pershing Rifles have selected as their officers for this year: J. W. Sirmans, captain; D. D. Curtis, first lieutenant; B. L. Harling, first lieutenant; G. M. Clark, first sergeant.

During the past year the Pershing Rifles have made an outstanding show while participating in drilling maneuvers on the drill field. They comprised the main feature of the halftime show during the Tech-Georgia game this year.

Under the leadership of Captain Jones the Pershing Rifles, wearing their white helmets and leggings, have represented the Georgia Tech Army R.O.T.C. in many drills and competitions.

Excel In Fancy Close Order Drill
Since its founding several years ago the Navy Student Council has done much to promote student-faculty relations within the Unit. Membership is determined by election from each of the four classes with the Battalion Commander as automatic chairman. The Council advisor is Lt. Commander Roberts, who, in his first year at the Unit, did an excellent job in coordinating the activities of the Council.

In addition to monitoring a fine intramural athletic program, the Council sponsored the annual Navy Ball and spring picnic. This year's Ball was held at the Officers' Club at the Naval Air Station and featured a buffet supper as a new addition. The spring picnic offered the best in swimming, softball and charcoal broiled T-bone steaks.