Van Voorhees Elected President of Tech 'Y'

Nesbit, Mann Win Out in Race for Offices of Vice-President, Secretary

By R. Reiser

In the YMCA election held last Monday, Kirk Nesbit won the position of Vice-President, and Bob Mann, of Marianna, Ark., was elected Secretary for the position and year. Kirk Nesbit, Sophomore vice-president, and Bob Mann won out in the race for the secretary's job.

Bulletin were distributed in classes throughout the school Monday morning, and students who did not have the opportunity to vote in class were allowed to cast their ballots at the Y desk up until 5:00 in the afternoon. Voting was heavy, since practically every student at Tech comes to that hard job, leave your name and address at the Y desk so that you may keep up with campus affairs and humor by receiving the YELLOW JACKET. There will be a mailing charge of twenty cents for the three remaining issues of this semester.

Reminder For Co-ops

Before leaving school to get back to that hard job, leave your name and address at the Y desk so that you may keep up with campus affairs and humor by receiving the YELLOW JACKET. There will be a mailing charge of twenty cents for the three remaining issues of this semester.

Captain Rollie Blanecc, Tech Graduate, Visits Dr. Brittain

Paying a recent visit to Dr. Brittain was Captain Rollie Neel Blanecc of Calhoun, Ga., who graduated from Tech with a Civil Engineering Degree in 1933. Captain Blanecc was the officer in charge of building the largest pontoon bridge that has been built since the Civil War during the war maneuvers last summer. The pontoon bridges are loaded to their destination on big trailers and then pushed into position by small outboard motors.

The plant manufactures 6,000 shirts a week, this job requiring 875 workers. An interesting sidelight of the trip was the fact that 93 per cent of the employees of the firm were women, probably more women than a Tech man has seen in a long time. The plant was conducted by three of the firm's executives. After the tour refreshments were served and a round-table discussion was conducted by the Corp's board of directors.

Musical Fraternity Elects New Officers

At its last meeting, the Iota chapter of Kappa Kappa Psi, national honorary band fraternity, elected officers for the next school year. These men will hold throughout the summer semester and will take their corresponding positions with the football band next fall. Officers elected are as follows:

The chapter will hold its annual banquet in a few weeks, at which time these men will be officially installed.

Bell Bomber Assembly Plant Will Need Over 1200 Tech Graduates

Jobs for Tech graduates as well as undergraduates are being offered by the Bell Aircraft Company for work in the new assembly plant near Atlanta. Approximately 1200 to 1400 Tech men will be needed. According to present plans 60% of the positions will be open to graduates and the remainder to under-graduates. Graduates will be rated as engineers, while under-graduates will be classified as unskilled.

The principle qualification needed will be elementary shop training. Prospective employees may obtain further information from the Georgia State Employment Service, 101 Martin Street, N.W. All jobs connected with assembly work will be open to Tech men; the majority of Tech employees will be taken from the M.E. and I.M. departments.

Company officials expect to have the plant in full operation this coming November. Necessary managerial staff will be from the Buffalo plant.

April 23-24 Are Set For ROTC Inspection

The annual federal inspection of the Georgia Tech Military Unit has been tentatively set for April 23 and 24. This inspection determines whether it is possible in most colleges to go to war by the end of their junior year.

Two Parties Present Candidates for Tech Student Council Primary Election

Sophomores, Four Freshmen for Council Monday

Next Monday, Technmen will nominate their representatives for Student Council. The primaries Monday the top twenty-two candidates will be placed in the running for the finals to be held the following Monday. Of these, eleven will be elected seats on the Student Council, and will be pro-rated as follows: five juniors, four sophomores and two freshmen.

Dr. Kenneth G. Mateson, assis­tant professor of economics at the Institute of Technology, has been granted a leave of absence from his duties at Drexel to accept an ap­pointment as business economist in the Office of Price Administration, Washington, D. C. He will take his new position July 1.

Son of Former Tech President Accepts Position with OPA

Dr. Kenneth G. Mateson, former presi­dent of Georgia Institute of Tech­nology and Drexel president from 1931 to 1933, has been a member of the Drexel faculty since 1933, and Drexel men's tennis coach for the past seven years. He is a graduate of the Georgia Institute of Technology and the Uni­versity of Pennsylvania, receiving the degree of B.S. in Mechanical Engineer­ing in 1917, the Masters' degree in Industry and the Ph.D. degree in Economics.

A few features in these elections, the Student Council announces, will be a system to check duplicate vot­ing. A list will be made of those names with conflict. "Ballots will be and placed on Dean Skiles' office door. A confirmation with the student's regis­ter card in a day will, enable the voter to choose the proper ballot."

Why Do a Few Want To Disgrace Tech?

Last week over four hundred visiting students, most of them girls, came to our school for the nineteenth time. As the delegates left Brittain Dining Hall after attending luncheon and dinner meetings, they became the objects of much heated and yelling. Above all, we wish to say that the delegates were treated, or mistreated, by certain —at the girls.

We speak of the disgraceful antics of some of the freshmen inhabitants of Harris and Claudia dorms. As the delegates left Britain Dining Hall after attending luncheon and dinner meetings, they became the objects of much heated and yelling. Above all, we wish to say that the delegates were treated, or mistreated, by certain —at the girls.

Of course, that the seven-pound little Hopper made his important role in international relations, but—do you think that Tech played host to the 20th south-eastern regional convention of the International Relations Club, they knew of Dr. Irvin’s great honor? Of course, the convention was a tremendous success, and the campus looked exceptionally beautiful with all those pretty girls gathering over the quadrangle chewing their Wrigley cuds. But, like bananas, conventions come in bunches—so the Delta Tau Delta lads had a thorough and successful celebration of their own. The fact that these fun-loving Techsters were quite unaware of all the human events taking place around them. They, too, were totally ignorant of the honor which came to Dr. Dominico Savant, who was selected for WHO’s Who in America for 1942.

But Abbott and Lou Costello are with us again—and funnier than ever! Lovely Anne Gwynne, Dick Powell, The Merry Macs, and the great Ella Fitzgerald help to make this one of the season’s best musical comedies. It is the midnight show and starts Thursday at the Fox Theatre.

Tech Organizations Deserve Publicity

This year, as in years past, THE TECHNIQUE has tried to encourage all campus organizations to let us know just what these organizations are doing. We want to give them the publicity that they deserve. But with few notable exceptions, these groups have failed to comply with our order.

We are, on the Tech campus, over 40 organizations. Of these, over 20 are recognized by ODK. Yet, few students seem to believe that the majority of these groups accomplish anything. The reason—no publicity.

If each and every campus organization will elect one "publicity man" from among its membership, it will receive if we lost our accredited rating ten times unfavorable publicity to Georgia Tech than we would.

Every year, they were tossing certain objects—which by no stretch of the imagination could be called "bouquets"—at the girls.

If we can not call ourselves gentlemen, then what hope is left for us, for our school, or even for our country, which we will no soon be serving?

Bimatte Hotel Host to Delt, Phi Gam Convention; Minister, General Speak

Last Friday, the Delta Tau Delta fraternity held its annual convention at the Atlanta Biltmore Hotel with fourteen chapters represented by forty delegates. A dance was given Friday night for all attending the convention. The national vice-president, and Deans of Deans, were the guest speakers at the convention. The Emory chapter gave a dinner Friday afternoon for the delegates, and the local chapter here at Tech gave dinner with a touch less Saturday night.

Among the last-day visitors to the campus barber shop were Archibald F. Wright and John Rankin. The two were seen talking with Mr. Moore, the barber. Mr. Wright was talking about his recently developed invention, the "Bush-Whacking Low-Down." Mr. Rankin was interested and decided to try it out. He agreed to have his hair cut in this manner and Mr. Moore worked on it for some time, finally producing a result that pleased both the customer and the barber. Mr. Rankin was so satisfied that he recommended the service to his friends who came to the shop after him.

The Barber Shop.

Mr. Moore, the campus barber, is doing a steady business. He has noticed that more and more students are coming to his shop to have their hair cut in the latest fashion. He has even begun to offer special services, such as the "Bush-Whacking Low-Down," which is proving to be very popular among the students.

Mr. Moore commented that he had not seen such a fashion in his shop before and that he was happy to be able to offer it to his customers. He also added that he had received positive feedback from the customers who had tried the new service.

The Barber Shop is located on the first floor of the Student Union Building. It is open from 8:00 am to 5:00 pm, Monday through Friday. Students are encouraged to visit the shop and experience the latest fashion that Mr. Moore has to offer.
Swimming Team Defeats Eight Opponents in Unbeaten Year

A heavily favored Tech team will be ready to take to the water this week-end and possibly add another trophy to Tech’s Hall of Fame in the forthcoming Southeastern Conference tilt. The Jacket squad has been lining its way through pools all over the southeast this season. It has been up against some mighty stiff competition all along the way. During the season the team met eight first class opponents and eight wins have been registered. The crowning achievement of the season was the win against Emory which splashed through a seven year winning streak. This was the first defeat for the Alligators in seven years. The Jackets successfully opened their season against Emory and then invited the Texas A&M swimmers to Atlanta for a bout. The western team held the championship of their conference and had made quite a record for themselves in all departments, winning seven out of ten starts last year. The two teams were deadlocked at the final relay and it was only with a final surge of skill and energy that the Jackets won the day. Georgia and Clemson, being next in line, gave the Tech swimmers little worry, so they paddled about until their invasion of the waters of Tennessee. Here the Jackets again displayed that level of superiority.

Swimmers for the rifle team will be announced on April 1st. Major Watkins thanks all those commissioned and non-commissioned officers who assisted in the running of the rifle matches, which will be fired on the Atlanta Rifle Club Saturday, March 28th. The names of the contestants will be posted today or Saturday, March 21st.

There will be time trials both afternoons at 2 o’clock and the rest of the season will be held tomorrow night at 8 o’clock.

Florida Conquered

Under a blazing semi-tropical sun Tech captured Florida 43-34 with a well-rounded squad. Though Florida won five first places the Tech boys took nearly all of the places. Herb McAuley won the 220 yd. and 440 yd. freestyles and Bill Harris walked off with the diving. Tech won the medley relay with Caldwell, Barrett and Stradtman swimming. Roger Holmes, of Florida, was high point man, winning both dashes and swimming on the final relay. The other veterans, Bill Van Clief, won the 200 yd. breaststroke.

The convention was termed a great success by its president, States President Marion Metcalf.

By Dickie Touchstone

The International Relations Club held its annual meeting here at Tech last Friday and Saturday, March 13 and 14. Members of the local chapter were hosts to over four hundred representatives from 64 colleges in the South. The convention was termed a great success by its president, States President Marion Metcalf. He stated that the most encouraging point concerning the convention is the fact that the discussions were entered into by all present.

A number of interesting round-table discussions were presented by the members. A few of the more interesting topics of discussion were: The Totalitarian Challenge to Democracy, After the War—What, and Nati Dominant.

Both Dr. Wilson L. Godshall and Mrs. Vera Michele Dean lent vitality to the discussions. Dr. Godshall's presentation was a well covered talk on "Basic Factors in the Far Eastern Situation." Mrs. Dean's contribution was received with equal enthusiasm. Her topic of discussion was "Building a New World."

The convention was not altogether a matter of speeches and discussions; there was also a gay side. At ten o'clock, Friday evening, the Empire Room of the Atlanta Biltmore hotel was opened to the conventioners for the convention hall.

After the convention President Metcalf interviewed a number of the "on-lookers" to obtain their criticism of the convention. Their comments were all focused around one point— the fact that all of the members displayed a great knowledge of world affairs. They all shared the opinion that the convention was a good practice and that it should be continued.
