IN HIS TWO YEARS as president, Dr. Harrison has not only become a well-liked person; but a respected and admired person as well. He has attended to his administrative duties in a tactful, courteous yet forceful manner that has won many friends for Georgia Tech.

Since his appointment, he has seen and been partly responsible for the construction of the new classroom and the Radio Isotope buildings. Also he has worked hard on getting a new Infirmary, Electrical Engineering building, dorm, and Nuclear Reactor.

A native of Arkansas, Dr. Harrison attended the U.S. Naval Academy. After serving in the Second World War, he earned his M.S. degree at V.P.I. and later his Ph.D. at Purdue University.
The Board of Regents

THE CONTROLLING body for the University System of Georgia is the Board of Regents. It is the responsibility of this board to regulate all affairs concerning policy and finances of every state supported college and university. They in turn make recommendations to the state legislature for funds to run the schools.

The board is composed of fifteen members. These members represent ten districts, with five members being from the state-at-large. They are appointed by the governor and approved by the legislature for a seven year term unless they are appointed to fill an unexpired term.

Since its origin in 1932, the board has through the years maintained colleges and universities for the state of Georgia to be proud of. Both Georgia Tech and the University of Georgia are recognized as being among the top schools in the country.

THE 1958 CHEERLEADERS, Gerry Carson, Heidi Neal, Ed Summers, Alan Misroon, Sonny Sammons, and Henry Moon, kept Tech's spirit alive throughout the year. Without Gerry Carson, head cheerleader, and the other cheerleaders under him, Tech's spirit could have amounted to almost nothing at several points during the season. However, these boys provided the spark which the student body took and fanned into a flame with such cheering as has not been heard around Tech for several years. Carson, Neal, Summers, Misroon, Sammons, and Moon, in addition to being able to keep their voices going through hours of cheering, also seemed to be a team of gymnasts as they performed their various tumbles and flips in the process of cheering the White and Gold to victory.

FLOYD FAUCETTE, Tech halfback, rips into a hard Kentucky line which was hard to move in the drizzling rain and mud at Lexington.

TECH JOURNEYED to Lexington, Kentucky to open its 1958 season with a night game against the Wildcats. They were greeted by a downpour when they arrived Friday and it didn't let up until after the game. Tech began the game testing its new-type platoon system, but it got little chance to prove itself because of the weather. Both teams played the kicking game, afraid to handle the ball until the middle of the second quarter when Kentucky drove to the Tech 36 yard line, and later scored on a pass. The game then reverted back to a kicking game until once again Kentucky got a first down on the Tech end of the field. This time Bobby Cravens circled his right end for the score. Tech's offense never got moving due to the weather conditions.

GEORGIA TECH made its first home appearance of the 1958 season with a night game against Florida State University. Tech drew first blood with a field goal by Tommy "The Toe" Wells. Florida State drove back in the next series of downs and also kicked a field goal. Tech's second scoring drive came in the second quarter and was highlighted by a six-yard run by Frank Nix. Tech again scored in the final quarter. These points brought the score to its final value of Georgia Tech 17, Florida State 3. Coach Dodd commented on the game as follows: "We're glad to get back into the win column again. Looking over the team in the game overall, I'd say that we were very mediocre the first half, but played good football the last two quarters."

TECH TOOK ON TULANE and Richie Petebon on the first Saturday in October and came out a 14-0 winner. Against a wide-awake defense, Petebon was unable to generate any successful offense as Tech threatened many times. Tech drove close to a score in the first quarter by a 33-yard pass to Fred Murphy who had managed to get behind the Tulane secondary, only to have a Braselton pass intercepted to kill the threat. The first score came in the second quarter after a short kick with Walter Howard sneaking across for the final yard. In the third quarter, Tech called on Joe Delany and he responded with a 14-yard scoring pass to Fred Murphy. The game ended with Tech once again knocking at Tulane’s door but again being unable to push the ball across the goal for the score.

TECH GOT REVENGE for its worst defeat of the 1957 campaign by defeating the University of Tennessee 21-7 in their annual football encounter. This was Tech's first win over the Vols since 1954 which made the victory mean even more. Scoring began with a field goal by Tommy Wells. Then later, Frank Nix returned a punt for 74 yards for one of the most spectacular plays of the season. Tennessee broke the ice in the third period with a TD. Moments later Joe Delany quick-kicked for 72 yards putting Tennessee in a hole they never recovered from. Two more touchdowns were added on runs by Ronnie Lewis and Fred Braselton. Without Johnny Majors from the previous year, Tennessee's single-wing attack lacked the punch and vitality that was needed to generate a strong offensive threat.

Tech's BIG DAY of 1958 came on the day when the Jackets tied Auburn 7-7. Auburn completely dominated the first half, but determined efforts by Tech's defense in their own half of the field resisted Auburn's advance except for a 75 yard touchdown drive at the beginning of the second quarter. Since Tech could not move against the big Auburn line, they played the kicking game hoping for a break. Late in the third quarter it payed off. Fred Braselton intercepted a pass and Tech took over on the Auburn 36. Successive passes to Green, Nix, and Rudolph moved the ball to the Auburn one yard line. From this point Braselton sneaked over and Wells kicked the point. Tech had another chance late in the final period when Leon Tye intercepted a pass, but was unable to score.
TECH LEFT GRANT FIELD for the second time in the season and for the second time tasted a shutout defeat. The battle weary Jackets were beaten by the SMU Mustangs for the first time since 1950. Early in the game Floyd Faucette reeled off a beautiful 68 yard run to the Mustang 20, but Tech could go no further. The passing of quarterback Dunn led SMU to a 7-0 halftime lead. In the third period Mustang fullback Welsh ran 71 yards to the Tech 15 and later plunged over for the score. Now two touchdowns behind the Engineers began to pass but still couldn't muster a sustained drive. Late in the game SMU scored again on a pass from injured quarterback Meredith. This ended the scoring and handed Georgia Tech their second defeat of the season.

TECH TOOK ON the huge Blue Devils from Durham again on foreign soil and resumed their winning ways. Early in the first quarter a bad snap by a Duke center gave the Jackets the ball on the Duke 7 yard line. Four plays later fullback Marvin Tibbets leaped across the goal for the score. Midway in the fourth quarter Tommy Wells made good a field goal to give Tech a 10-0 lead. Then Duke drove 60 yards for their first score of the game. The Devils then connected for a two point conversion making the score 10-8. The Engineers stopped a last effort by the Blue Devils when Maxie Baughn tipped an enemy pass to Gerald Burch. Tech held on to the ball the remainder of the game, running the clock out in the last few minutes to win the game 10-8.

WALTER HOWARD AND MARVIN TIBBETS LEAD FLOYD FAUCETTE FOR THE START OF A 54 YARD TOUCHDOWN RUN AROUND THE RIGHT SIDE.

THE JACKETS CELEBRATED their return to Grant Field with a 13-0 ducking of the Sugar Bowl bound Clemson Tigers. The Engineers played heads-up ball, halting all attempts by the Tigers to start a passing attack. Floyd Faucette again led the Jacket ground attack all day and scored the first touchdown on a beautifully executed end-sweep which netted 54 yards and six points. In the third period, Joe Delany took a pitch-out and at the last moment fired a 30 yard bullet to end Jimmy Beasley who made a falling catch on the one yard line. Braselton sneaked across for the score. Clemson was greatly handicapped in the game by the injuries of their two great quarterbacks White and Shingler. Without them and against a determined Tech defense, they were unable to muster a sustained drive.

JACKET PLAYERS SHOW BY FACIAL EXPRESSION THE PROGRESS OF THE GAME.

BEAR BRYANT'S Alabama Clemson Tide profiting from early Tech mistakes, upset the Engineers 17-8 to spoil Tech's Homecoming festivities. The Jackets, losing the ball by fumbles and interceptions, fought back gamely after a slow start but couldn't cash in on but one of five scoring opportunities. Floyd Faucette spearheaded the Jacket attack by rolling up about half of the total Jacket yardage. The Engineers had drives stopped at the two, four, eight, and one yard line. The Jackets' only touchdown came as a result of a fumble recovered by Billy Shaw. Tech attempted and successfully completed their only two point conversion of the game after this touchdown. Led by quarterback Bobby Jackson, the Crimson Tide were not to be denied the entire game as they played heads-up football.
FOR THE SECOND YEAR in a row, the University of Georgia Bulldogs defeated the Jackets. During the first quarter neither team had an advantage. Then midway in the second period, Georgia blocked a Tech punt and several plays later scored a touchdown. They also kicked a field goal shortly before the half. During the second half Tech threatened several times but came up with only a field goal. Then Georgia again scored to end the scoring for the day. Valiant efforts by Floyd Faucette and Walter Howard moved the ball 70 yards in the final period but an interception ended the threat. Georgia took over the ball and ran the clock out to end the game. To end the day the Bulldog players triumphantly carried Coach Butts off the field on their shoulders.

HALFBACK CAL JAMES struggles to gain his footing after being hit by a Georgia Bulldog lineman close to pay dirt.
THE BABY JACKETS, under the direction of Coach Tate and his assistants Jim Caelin and Johnny Menger, had a terrific season. They played four games and won all four games with impressive scores. They stomped South Carolina and Tennessee with scores of 33-6 and 26-6 respectively. They beat a tough Clemson team 14-7, which gave them the spirit they needed to meet the Georgia Bullpups. The Baby Jackets met the Bullpups, and took revenge on last year’s upset, by a score of 20-0. The co-captains of this team were Bob Lincoln and Jim Paulk who were outstanding players throughout the season. Some of the outstanding players are ends, Jim Powell and John Furgeson along with Terry Evans who was converted to fullback for the Georgia game. Others were tackles Bob Lincoln and David Steedmann; guards Harold Erickson, Jim Polk and Jack Moss; and center Raymond Holt. Quarterbacks, Stan Gann and Bob McKenzie; halfbacks John Tomblison, Johnny Welch, Ken Thompson, and Bill Williamson. Lee Reid and Larry Lalkowitz filled the fullback spot.

Freshman Team Ends Year With Perfect Season

Red Dogs Prepare the Varsity in Gamelike Scrimages

ONE OF THE IMPORTANT FACTORS necessary for the fielding of a major college football team is an aggressive, and talented B-team. Under the skillful guidance of Coach Bob Cummings, one of the highest quality B teams in the conference stood prepared to help this year’s Georgia Tech Varsity. The major role of the B team is to prepare the varsity for future opponents by running the foes’ offense and by using their defense against the Varsity. This requires, not only an energetic and aggressive spirit; but, alert mental and physical ability to duplicate as closely as possible Tech’s conference foes. Since the Varsity squad must be kept at a certain number, some of the talent which will be used in the future has to be held out or “red-shirted” to the B-team. Therefore a secondary aim of the B-team is to prepare individual members of the squad for conference competition the next season. There are several boys who were outstanding performers on this year’s B-team who will probably see some action on the Varsity squad next year.

1958 Cross Country

This was a season filled with disappointments. Starting out with better than fair prospects, the 1958 team lived to see the entire season collapse around their heads. A fine squad turned out but after the first week action of the faculty cut the squad exactly in half. It takes seven good men to make up a real cross country team but after the bout with the faculty only three runners were left to make up the backbone of the squad. They were as follows: J. W. Bergert, Capt. E. R. Maddox 62, co-op and J. G. Clayton 62, co-op. The rest of the squad worked hard, gave their best and showed great progress but starting without experience and lack of knowledge of cross country running, they made many mistakes and lost every meet but one by close scores.

ATO Takes Grid Crown

ALPHA TAU OMEGA, undefeated and once-tied, won the intramural football championship. The White League proved very competitive as Kappa Sigma and Lambda Chi Alpha finished the season in a tie for first place. Kappa Sigma won the resulting play-off game, and finished third in the play-offs. Delta Upsilon and Chi Psi tied for first place in the Yellow Jacket League. The DU's won the tie-breaking game and finished fourth in the play-offs. Phi Kappa Tau took second place in the play-offs.
ATO Wins Volleyball

ALPHA TAU OMEGA swept through the volleyball playoffs to finish the season losing one game, that to the Phi Kappa Sigmas, who came in third in the school playoffs. Sib Bryan and Charlie Dodds led the Alpha Tau Omega's over the Delta Tau Delta's, who placed second in the playoffs. The Delts won the White League, while the Phi Sigs captured top spot in the Tornado League. The champions of the Yellow Jacket League, Phi Kappa Sigma, gave all the teams a hard time by working the ball around to good set-up positions; only the lack of height limited their team. Smith Dormitory copped the championship of the Dorm League but could not hold out against the more organized teams of the Frat League. The Hellenic Club took the Independent championship over the Newman Club and the Vets Club.

Phi Delta Theta Wins Intramural Swimming Crown

PHI DELTA THETA stormed to the Intramural Swimming Championship for the fourth straight year, taking two first places and placing in every event except one. The Sigma Chi's had a blistering 46 points, only four behind the Phi's 50 points, and the Kappa Sigs were third with 32 points. Alpha Tau Omega continued to be among the tops in fall intramurals by taking a close fourth with 30 points. Gathering firsts in the eight-event affair were Phi Delta Theta in the 200-yard medley relay, Eddie Chambless of Delta Sigma Phi in the fancy diving, and Bob Soderholm of Kappa Sigma in the 75-yard individual medley swim. Other first place winners were Saunders of Theta Chi in the plunge, Summers of Sigma Chi in treading with weights, Phi Delta Theta in the tug-of-war, and Alpha Tau Omega in the 200-yard free style relay.

Hamler of ATO Paces Cross Country Meet

ALPHA TAU OMEGA continued its supremacy of fall intramurals by sweeping the cross country meet. Ed Hamler led the Taus to a sweeping victory over the Sigma Chis and the Phi Delta Thetas, who were the closest contenders. Tommy Mann paced the Phi Dels to a third place spot. Robert Hobbs of Delta Tau Delta grabbed third place; Richard Reeves of Phi Kappa Sigma took fourth and Steve Frame copped fifth for Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
