One-Stop Course Materials Guide: The University of Denver offers instructors a variety of tools and resources for course support and creating and delivering course related materials to students. The purpose of this web page is to describe these services.

- Blackboard is an online learning management software program that allows instructors to create web-based content for their courses (syllabus, gradebook, assignments, exams, lectures, outlines, presentations, images, web links, etc.). Blackboard facilitates online and group communication through the email, discussion board, wiki, group and real-time collaboration tools available within the system. Contact Kathy Keairns at x14156 or kkeairns@du.edu if you have questions or would like more information about Blackboard.

- Bookstore Textbooks, coursepacks, electronic texts, and custom course materials can be requested through the DU Bookstore’s website at www.dubookstore.com then select “textbook adoption” to request materials for your classes. Contact Annette Nelson at x12635 or annnelso@du.edu if you have questions or would like more information about course materials.

- DU Portfolio Community (DUPC) is a web-based system providing the academic community with a searchable database of electronic portfolios for the DU community. Course portfolios can be used to deliver course related materials to students. Contact Carrie Lorenz at x17719 or email portfolio@du.edu if you have questions or would like more information about course portfolios.

- DU VAGA is a courseware tool for organizing and presenting high quality images and videos to course participants. Instructors have access to over 20,000 art and world history images and over 200 library reserve videos. Contact Alex Martinez at x14879 or email alexmart@du.edu if you have questions or would like more information about DU VAGA.

- E-Reserves is a service in which library materials are made available electronically for students in a specified course. Articles, book chapters, syllabi and other documents can be requested for e-reserves at the Circulation Desk at the Penrose Library or online at: http://library.du.edu/services/reserves/.

- Traditional Reserves are for items such as books, videos, CDs and DVDs and will be held at the Circulation Desk for a limited checkout period. Materials to be placed on Traditional Reserves may be requested at the Circulation Desk or online at: http://library.du.edu/services/reserves/.

- myWeb is the interface to our administrative database. Faculty can view class rosters, wait lists, process registration overrides, submit grades, email individual students or the entire class. Faculty can also get a list of their advisees, run academic progress reports, and view students active registration and registration history with this tool.

- Multimedia Services provides a wide variety of services to faculty members including technical support for audio/visual course materials. Contact Multimedia Services at x13595 or email multimedia-svcs@du.edu if you have questions or would like more information about any of the services they provide.

- webCentral is our web portal, a one-stop shop providing secure access to webMail, Blackboard, myWeb, DU Portfolio, Penrose Library account, calendars, and personal announcements. Contact Jeff Dirksen at x12104 or email jderksen@du.edu for questions or more information about webCentral.
