Georgian Fields which brings the convention to a close Saturday nite.
Professor George G. Williams, na-nal president of the collegiate Inter-fraternity Fraternity, and Ed White, secretary of the national convention, will be directly in charge of the entertainment. The object of the convention is to make tbe convention a success in the various parts of the country. An impromptu discussion will be held as the highlight of camp papers in the various parts of the

represented by a representative.

Rifle Team Starts Training for 1929 Intercollegiate Shoot With the approach of the annual intercollegiate rifle competition, which will start soon after the holidays, Georgia Tech and Emory University rifle team are now intensively practicing for the scheduled matches and the Hearst Rifle Trophy competition, which will be held in the early spring of 1929. The Georgia Tech team begins active practice this week under the direction of Captain H. H. Robinson, coach, and Sergeant Godbee, assistant coach. Captain Robinson recently received enthusiastic support from Tech's chance in the meet, saying that he sees the Georgia Tech rifle team as practically the same last year's with the exception of a few men.
In addition to entering the Hearst shoot, Georgia Tech has scheduled an additional 25 matches with colleges throughout the nation. These matches are scheduled to be completed, but will be announced soon. A team has been en-scheduled to compete in the Fourth Corps Area shoot, which will be held under the direction of Major General Richard P. Davis.

Alumni Gather for Annual Home-Coming Luncheon Features Meeting Of Grades
With more than four hundred alumni of Georgia Tech rambling from all parts of the country in Atlanta, Home-Coming Day, Saturday, promises to be one of the biggest and pop-sicit in some years. It is reported that Chicago and New York will be well represented in the gathering.
Among the luminaries at the game will be Grantland Rice, noted sports writer, and judge of those members who mayly make up the mythical All-American eleven.
The "Grads" have a definite program that begins at eleven o'clock in the morning, continuing throughout the day. Just prior to the game, the luncheon will be served in the new dining hall, an innovation to many of the alumni.
The one o'clock whistle will be a signal for the gathering to break and a general rush will be made for the game. The game will be played in the stadium. For the time being,
the Hearst Rifle Trophy competition,
which will be held in the early spring of 1929, the Georgia Tech team has begun to practice under the direction of Captain H. H. Robinson,
coach, and Sergeant Godbee, assistant

Campus Drives To Be Paved by Fulton County Georgia Tech has won the co-operation of the county authorities and the Tech campus is to undergo a beauty treatment at the cost of the county.
New pavement will add two new sidewalks in bad weather and new concrete sidewalks will add an air of neatness and efficiency.
The shrubbery and grass is to be re-established and is expected to look better than ever when spring is once more with us. Ivy is to be planted on some of the buildings and some day a school poet may make reference to the ivy-clad buildings of dear old Tech.
This has been a year of improvements of the Tech campus and with the addition of the new athletic fields and their opening to use the campus will be expanded.

Bulldogs Seek Revenge for Def-

teat of Last Year

RECORD ATTENDANCE

Last Game for Jackets Before Rose Bowl Invasion Sweeping revenge, the University of Georgia Bulldogs advance upon the waiting Georgia Tech Yellow Jackets for their annual trip tomorrow. The time scheduled for the fracas is exactly at a.tick of 2:30 P.M. Central Standard Atlanta time, at which time, the referees will call the opening coin-up for the time-honored toss-up.
With the greatest team in the history of the school, the Jackets are the overwhelming favorites. However, in the estimation of some sportswriters, many points reckon not with the spirit and fight of Georgia Tech. Bulldog revenge never knows when he is fell-d, and the ever-scrupulous Tech observants are determined to emulate him. An episode of flu has barred the building camp, according to the telegram reports.
To win the game means much to the Jackets.
It brings a close slate to take out to California, and an unrecorded with certain vote. To win the game means more than that to Georgia. With three Conference defeats already staring them in the face, to win the Tech game will make the Bulldogs on top of the world.
Last year's two-point defeat set a new record, and a victory this year will make the Bulldogs two. The California Trip

Assured by Faculty
National Championship At Stake Permitting the faculty was anted at noon Friday last for the football team to make the trip to Pas-Angeles for the Rose Bowl. The faculty then, to meet the University of California Yellow Jackets in the New Year's Day game was telegraphed to Dr. M. L. Brittain by Dr. S. V. Sanford, president of the university.
The faculty's permission was granted at a meeting of the executive committee of Georgia Tech held in the office of the president. Dr. Brittain urged that permission be given and at the same time the university president from Governor L. G. Hardman, Mayor L. N.
Ragland, Walter Stewart, chairman of the board, and Baxter Madden, president of the Atlanta Journal, telegraphed the acceptance of the invitation.
"They say," Dr. Brittain said, "that Dr. Brittain should immediately telegraph Tech's pleasure in accepting the invitation."

ON TO PASADENA

That "honor will come to whom honor is due" is now a proven principle of the Golden State. At the Tournament, Tech and the hosts of Pacitac are surpased by none in power, spirit, and personalism, and it is a thing to "convince the world" that there is something more than the same; thus it is distinctly gratifying to see the Pacific polished up again for Tech's worthy team.

In life it is a matter of certainty that the Yellow Jackets will encounter two teams against the team of the Pacific, will the student body arrive? If it is an opportunity to be round the name and spirit of the football team, apparently one has said of it: Those were the times when the spirit of Georgia's heart and soul hardly bears the calls. To make matters worse, the Auburn band completely shrewed up the famous Tech band. Number didn't mean much, for the Tigers had the old spirit. Auburn has had the poorest teams within the last two years of what they have ever had, but the Plainsman student body still keeps the spirit. It takes a good man and spirit to stick and stand up for his team when it is down in the ruck. Georgia seems to take a good team as a matter of course. Although it would not appear to be true, every team, no matter how strong and how powerful, needs the support of every student.

Many of you can't be made to go to Pasadena, but everyone will be behind the old school. It is not in the spirit of our team to have to go, and when we have to, we will do it with the spirit of the year, and that's something. We were neat right behind the school, but even in the poorest team we can be. It's good, and it takes a good man to stick and stand up for his team when it is down in the ruck. Georgia has not been clicking this year. But we know that the Jug's score. But we know that the Jug's score. But we know that the Jug's score.

The philosophy of one element of the world is that the other part of the world is to live. But, according to Darwin and the laws of reason, for a man or an association of men to exist and prosper, it must justify that existence.AppName

WELCOME ALUMNI, BULL-DOGS, PI DELTS

A week-end Tech is host to visitors and graduates from throughout the country and it is to these men that we give a hearty welcome. Welcome Alumnis! Welcome Alumnis! Welcome Alumnis! Tech Delta Epsilon! Please come see the many of you old grads back with us, back to the haunt of your college days. Your presence is inspiring and we hope this collection of memories will bring joy in your memories.

Though the school doesn't look the same. The campus has changed and the faces of Lenska and unknown, for example, are different. But, in the same Georgia Tech in spirit. The same Georgia Tech in spirit.

WORTHWHILE EXISTENCE

Alumni have made their proud and the same school with the National Academic and Athletic reputation. That spirit is easily recognized. That same spirit that we have today for the first time in a very long while.

Are campus societies exceptions to this principle of the school. by which they exist ... or do than the social and personalistic spirit? By personalism, we mean the participation in every social and personalistic spirit. It seems to the author of this column that the spirit of an organization is not the same as the spirit of the school. It is the spirit of the school. That of the school. It is the spirit of the school. That is the spirit of the school.

FRESHMAN FLAG REIGNS SUPREME

Defying Haughty Sophomores

Please Stop! Flag Pole Climbers

In the great world of sport, there was something in the top up until Sunday. The same old story of just a routine place to get a lot of clothes with the initials "TW" was just a piece of common until last Sunday. This somehow much, just a piece of cloth, it signified among the members of the "Dear Old Fullback." When the flag pole was started the top of the flag pole and waving haughtily in the breeze. The only evidence to be found, as to the "Deerly party," was an empty green case, the contents of which were assumed to be from top to bottom of the pole.

Nothing was done about it during the afternoon, but that evening when all was quiet, some one removed the flag. It's a wonder how it was done, but, nevertheless, it was not there when our freshmen came straggling in to find that twelve o'clock inspection. Not to be out done, another flag was hoisted and "council of war" was held around the flag pole until about three o'clock Thursday morning, when both Sophs and Frosh left the scene of battle.

Sometimes during the early hours of Thursday morning, however, another flag was dropped on the pole over the senior section of the stadium. It remained thus until Saturday night, when down it came from its lofty perch.

The freshmen dropped back to their former standing, retaining, however, an unaided feeling within themselves, and the Sophs continue to wave the breeze.

What a battle!

A definite statement at last has been made since Tech's bid for national supremacy a few weeks ago. After the defeat of Carnegie Tech by the University of New York, Tech was recognized as the eastern laurels in the west. The telegram tendering the invitation to Tech was received on November 28. At a meeting last Friday noon this telegram was read before the faculty council. The next step was to get the sanction of the Southern Conference officials. This was forthcoming in a telegram sent by Dr. S. V. Sandford, a local for the conference. The result of a steady advance from Wednesday, but that evening when all was quiet, some one removed the flag. It's a wonder how it was done, but, nevertheless, it was not there when our freshmen came straggling in to find that twelve o'clock inspection. Not to be out done, another flag was hoisted and "council of war" was held around the flag pole until about three o'clock Thursday morning, when both Sophs and Frosh left the scene of battle.
