Tech-Ga. Committee OnStudentRelations
Meets in Athenstown

By Howard W. Woodham

The quarterly meeting of the Tech-Ga. Committee on Student Relations was held on Tuesday afternoon, February 18, in the University Demonstration Hall on the campus of the University of Georgia in Athens.

Mr. Norman A. Shutt, Georgia Campus Leader and chairman of the committee, opened the business session. Dean Tillet of the university extended a most hearty welcome to the Tech members of the committee and expressed his assurance of more friendly relations between the students of the University of Georgia and those of the two great institutions of learning.

The minutes were held for the six positions on the committee. Following the business meeting, the Georgia Tech alumni were conducted on a tour of the University campus. An opportunity was given to the watch Georgia Bulldogs in the football stadium, and the students were entertained by the usages of Mears Burns and Trippe.

The last of the day came in the form of a sumptuous banquet in the University of Georgia, attended by the members of Georgia's Co-ed Blue Print Council. The meeting was held in the Blue Print Council meeting in the administration building and will be held this evening in the Crenshaw Field House.

As an added feature the renowned Sigma Chi quartet will present a skit during intermission. Many students heard the Don Shureon Cressh choir several Sundays ago; so now comes the chance to hear Georgia Tech counterparts. Although the volume will not be quite as powerful as that of the Russians', it is felt by Tex Branson, chairman of the Student Council's Dance Committee, that only 2.7% of the students are married students. If everyone would make it a point to talk and dance with more strangers, it would make it a lot easier for the people who are always watching. Each person slowly builds up a reputation. Tech Bridge Tournament Features Spirited Playing

"Four spades, pass, five no-trumps, pass, six spades, double, redouble." That was the general trend of conversation which was carried on by many of the entranced bridge players competing Saturday for the winner of the bridge tournament at Georgia Tech.

Much publicity and anticipation was attached to this event. A crowd of 750 competitors were expected to join in and give their all to win. Trophies had been contributed for prizes by Chip Robert, Jr., (Tech '48) and a national bridge title holder Mrs. Margaret Wagner had come to supervise the tournament. But much to the disappointment of some, the crown was a mere few hundred—not all what had been expected.

The players were truly put to the test. Instead of playing regular bridge, the kind in which the cards are shuffled and then dealt, they played duplicate bridge, in which the hands are very unusual—that is, the distribution of the cards was odd. After playing a hand, the fixed cards were moved to the next table and a couple would move a table in the opposite direction. Theoretically, everyone had an opportunity to play with each participating couple.

The final play-off will be Friday, February 20. The four winning couples of this pay-off will compete on Saturday, February 21, in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament. This elimination will be played by mail. Of the winning couples the sixteen highest in the National Intercollegiate Bridge Tournament will be sent to Chicago in April to compete.

Let's hope that Tech gets right up there in the finals—let's show everybody that we've produced engineers and architects. Tech it up when it comes to a good game of bridge.

FRESHMAN MEETING WILL DISCUSS DANCE

There will be a meeting of the Freshman Class at 11:00 o'clock Saturday morning, February 28 in the Gymnasium. Plans for the class dance will be discussed. All freshmen are urged to be present.

Dorm Assignments For Spring Quarter Are Being Made Now

The Director of Housing has announced that dormitory assignments for the Spring quarter are being made during the period February 16 to March 15. Applications must be available in the Housing Office, 108 Housekeeping Building.

Present dormitory occupants should not submit new applications. They will be contacted by their student inspectors and requested to indicate their desires to retain their present assignments or to change to other rooms.

Other students, including those attending night school, who are new dormitory occupants but who desire rooms for the Spring quarter, should come to the Housing Office as soon as practical and file their applications.

Engineer Experiment Station Urges Scientific Forestry

Economic surveys made at Tech through its Engineering Experiment Station indicate that the United States is becoming increasingly dependent upon the Southeast for its timber products. One of the region's major producers of wood and wood products is Georgia. However, the potentialities of the state in this important field of agriculture and industry will not be fully realized unless every interested citizen takes it upon himself to cooperate in a long-range program to:

1. Substitute scientific forestry procedures for the poor and destructive ones now used by the majority of owners of small wood acreages.

2. Consolidate the thousands of small timber holdings into a series of cooperative unified tracts thus permitting the economical and profitable use of trained personnel in their management.

3. Advance in every possible manner the "Keep Georgia Green" project of the Georgia Forestry Association in order to prevent forest fires and to grow more trees.

Keeping Georgia green offers a special challenge to all admirers to instill in the minds of our citizens, especially the youth, their responsibilities in this worthy project.

IFC Dance Tickets
The Inter-Fraternity Council's plan for IFC Dance ticket distribution is one which deserves commendation. All students, fraternity and non-fraternity men alike, will benefit from this action by the IFC.

To start, all university men have been required to buy a book of IFC tickets to all the weekend dances, regardless of whether they intend to attend or not. Under the present system, they are given their choice of purchasing tickets to any, all, or none of the dances.

In this way, only those men who really desire to attend the dance will buy tickets. Consequently, the usual confusion and congestion which have existed at these dances will be decreased to a large extent. Those men who attended the dances merely because they were paid to buy a ticket will stay away and allow the other students the benefits of a more enjoyable, less crowded dance.

This distribution plan has another advantage. It will make the fraternity men to attend the dances. In short, all students, fraternity men and women, who wish to go to those dances, will be given the privilege, and will also be given the opportunity of attending without being crowded out as was previously the case.

Learning to Live Together
If we continue to live at all, it is necessary that we learn to live together. We shall either live together or die together.
We must not overlook the fact that it is exceedingly difficult for men to live together. It seems the same as it has been for ages, and different personalities, tastes, and ideas will stretch to make the world a comfortable place for any boy to live in which to live. But before we are able to get along with others we must be able to get along with ourselves. That is the point in which most of us fail. We never discover the art of mastering our own lives.

Race and class are powerful forces working against man's living together. Powerless forces and blind principles dominate our thought rather than understanding. Politicians grasp their soap boxes and make speeches and suspenders and suspenders and the nigger' and get elected. One day man ought to realize that even as the black and white spend their money to work together to produce harmony, so can the white and black man. Suspicion among the nations further destroys man's chances of being able to live together. It seems that it's either the world against Russia or Russia against the world. We have lost our trust for one another and by our imagination we have poisoned each other.

Yes, man can live together. It is not a hopeless situation. But even as states delegated some of their power to the Federal government, so must we as individuals pool our rights and power to fight these elements which are trying to keep us from the see the other fellow's point of view. Then we must discipline a sense of what is important. We must realize that the future of the human race is at a crossroad. We must make the other fellow think about his own selfishness and greed. When men begin to think like God, then we will be able to make it a great from that which is trite and small, and be as we should be.

The greatest necessary factor in learning to live together is the understanding of the world as a whole. The greatest number of people live in ignorance of the world as a whole. No one knows how many thousands upon thousands of people are striving for the same end and are aiming at the same goal. Only then can we begin to see the world as God sees it.

But have we tried a common loyalty to God? This common loyalty alone can unite all efforts toward the building of a world peace.

Book Review:
My Name Is Christopher Nagel

For those of us who know what the National Student Association is and how it works, last week's decision by the Student Council was not more than an ordinary one. The discussion at the Council meeting brought to light most of the virtues of the NSA along with some objections to Tech's affiliation with it. In keeping with the Council's policy of informing the student body, the reason given for the action of this section of the NSA is as follows:

"The greatest necessary factor in learning to live together is the understanding of the world as a whole.

The greatest number of people live in ignorance of the world as a whole. No one knows how many thousands upon thousands of people are striving for the same end and are aiming at the same goal. Only then can we begin to see the world as God sees it.

At the last meeting, officers were elected: President—Charles L. Beaty; vice-president, Allen Katz; secretary-treasurer, Ram Curotto. Plans were made for maintaining a bulletin board in the Administration Building to keep students posted on outstanding events in international affairs.

WE APOLOGIZE! To The Thousands of Atlantans Who Have Been Unable To Obtain Tickets For the "Twelfth Night" at Agnes Scott College, we must think of his strong arm as a temporary concealment behind a potted shrub. Actually, he’s as attractive really out of this world—and his girl who dances with this man needs to straighten up and dance right! He says, “Shall we dance?” She says, “Let’s!” Then he dances in the dance floor; but it’s the considered. He is a ’Bryanist!’ The girl who dances with this man must think of his strong arm as a sort of steering wheel—and lead with his arm.

Jackets Face Kentucky Tonite; Lose Close Duke, Georgia Tilts

Nolan Top Scorer In Georgia Loss

By Lenny Frieden

Bounding into the final week of the 1948 cage season, Georgia Tech's bustling Yellow Jackets journey into the bluegrass region of Kentucky to invade the lair of the mighty Kentucky Wildcats tonight in Lexington.

Coach Adolph Rupp's powerful basketball team is currently parked on top of the SEC ladder and are undefeated in conference competition. The Wildcats have lost only two contests this season, bowing to Temple and Notre Dame.

Leading the Kentucky forces will be All-American Ralph Beard, the scrappy guard who is considered by many as one of the finest saggers the SEC has ever produced. Beard will be flanked by a host of other All-Americans including center Alex Gross and forward Jack Parkinson. Despite yeoman efforts on the part of center Jim Nolan, the Yellow Jackets lost their final game with the Georgia Bulldogs, 65-56, before a capacity audience Wednesday night in Athens.

Nolan led all scorers for the evening with 19 markers, but the Bulldogs came out on top on the basis of a great performance by diminutive guard Joe Jordan. Jordan scored 17 markers, intercepted countless Tech passes, and was a thorn in the side of the Jackets throughout the evening.

In addition to Jordan, Karl Davis and Bob Hasley paced the Red and Black with 12 and 11 respectively, while DC Dold's 11 was second best for the Jackets.

Jackets Basketball Leagues Busy As Finals Near

Interference-free basketball got back into the limelight this week as play was resumed in three leagues according to league standings.

The outstanding game of the week was in the Gold League, as the Phi Delta's handed the GA's their first defeat in seven starts Wednesday evening. The game started out as runaway for the Phi Delt quintet, and at the half they lead by a score of 11-0. As the second half got under way, however, the GA's got back their old form and matched the boys from Fowler Street point for point. In spite of this hard try, the GA's finally went down to defeat, 35-14. In the other games in the Gold League, the second place Chi Phi aggregation romped to an easy win over the cellar-dwellers Sigma Chi's, 26-23.

In the White League, the league leading Delta Tau Delta five showed the Beta's nothing but a cloud of dust as they romped to their ninth straight win, 40-17. The Phi K's also managed to keep sight on the leaders' tail, as they won from the Kappa Sigma's by forfeit. Wednesday night, the Bata's came back to return third place by turning back a fighting Tau Delta quintet, after a close first half.

In the other only other game played, the Phi Kappa Tau five showed the Phi Kappas of Georgia Tech, 40-28. At the same time, the league leading Lambda Alpha squad edged out the Gamma Sigma quintet, 52-47.

Blue Devils Win In Final Moments

By Lenny Frieden

Paced by the brilliant sharpshooting of forward Corren Youmans who hit the nesh for 17 markers, the Duke Blue Devils outlasted a scrappy Tech five to defeat the Jacket cagers 60-55 in a thrill-packed contest Monday night in the Tech gym.

The Techmen were always in the thick of the fray, and it was only in the last minute of the game that the Devils finally managed to nab ahead of the tiring Jackets.

In the early part of the contest, both teams fought a nip and tuck battle with the lead changing time and time again. With only three minutes remaining in the first half, the scoreboard read 26-26, but then the Jackets faltered and the Dukemen went into the lead, splitting four straight goals in succession to run the score to 33-26 at the half's end.

When the second portion of the ball game began, the rejuvenated five of the White and Gold bounded back to tie the score. Big Jim Hughes, held to a mere three points in the first half, finally found the shooting range and the Jackets were once again very much in the ball game.

In the first half of the game, the officating was extremely questionable. The White and Gold attack was considerably weakened. Keener had two close charges called and a technical foul called on him within a minute, and the crowd voiced such a feeling of disapproval of the close officiating that the game was unable to proceed.

Coach MacArthur then walked across center court and calmed down the Tech routers, and the tilt was then able to progress. Throughout the game, the officiating was extremely close and proved distasteful to both the Jackets and the Blue Devils.

In addition to Youmans, Tommy Hughes and Dick Gordon sparked the Blue Devils to victory with fancy ball handling that made the spectators take notice. Hughes' 17 markers was second high man for the well oiled Southern Conference machine.

Anderson was the big gun for the Jackets as he hit the hoops for 16 markers, the Duke Blue Devils to victory with fancy ball handling that made the spectators take notice. Spectator Sportsmanship
Hit New Low This Week

At the Tech-Duke basketball game this week, we happened to be present to see one of the most interesting exhibitions of spectator sportsmanship in many a year. This type of rowdiness has been prevalent to a small extent throughout the current season. It reached its height last Monday evening and proved to be a sight to behold.

The head referee had been making some close foul calls against the local quintet which is the depreceal of the Jacket boisterous. Naturally the close ones called on Duke were ignored as our proud engineers hooted and roared went up from our student section.

This trend of events continued during the half-time presentation of the Draper Trophy to Captant Bill Hyatt as a result of the Tech football victory against Georgia last Fall.

Regardless of how boring or exciting an occasion may become, it is only common courtesy to be quiet during a time when such a condition is desirable. But exhibitionism is a natural human tendency and has both a normal and abnormal outlet. The former took place on the gym floor as the two teams vied for victory. The abnormal state was exhibited by a portion of the spectators who for one reason or another were unable to participate in the actual competition and hence chose mob rowdiness as their contribution for the evening.

The culprits are not in need of chastisement, but do deserve sincere pity from the remainder of the student body for their lack of emotional control. Brown is a highly regarded sprinter and in the distance events. He will swim tonight.

Semi-Final Pin Matches
To Begin Monday Night
By Johnny Roga

The person or persons who made out the schedule for the inter-fraternity bowling this year certainly hit the jackpot as far as important matches on the final night of bowling are concerned. Six of the seven teams still in the running for the playoffs will clash with each other and the seventh is a cinch to make it anyway.

As things stand now, the SAEs have clinched a berth in the White League playoffs with Phi Delta Theta almost in and the Beta still having a good chance. In order to make the playoffs, Beta Theta Pi

A. A. has the advantage of making the playoffs.

In the Gold League  is as though a tie could easily be produced for second place. Phi Kappa Sigma and Chi Gamma Delta are tied for first and will meet each other in their final matches. The team who comes out on top in this match will take first and the loser may have to fight it out with somebody for second. Phi K. A and Pi Kappa Phi rank third and fourth respectively and both have a mathematical chance of making the playoffs. They, too, will clash with each other on the final night.

The semi-final playoff matches are scheduled to get underway on Monday, February 22, followed by the finals on February 27.

Monday's matches the biggest upset of the season took place when the lofty Chi Psi team almost knocked-off Phi K. A's chances into a cocked hat by taking two of three from them. Young, of SAE, rolled a high game of 138, and Johnson, of Phi Kappa Sigma, was close behind with a 136.

THE TECHNIQUE, ATLANTA, GEORGIA
Saturday, February 21, 1948

By Joe Tarcomi

Coaches Lane is none too optimistic about the outcome of the meet. Johny Hiles, star distance man, has been out with an injury for the past two weeks and there is little hope that he will swim tonight.

Florida's unimpressive record of two wins and two losses by no means an indication of their strength. Their only losses came at the hands of North Carolina and North Carolina State, the two top teams in the South. With Hiles out of action, Tech's chances will depend on how they fare in the distance events.

The strong events for the visitors are the sprints, distance, and diving. Tech Tankmen

March of Dimes Campaign Totals Announced
Dean of Students George C. Griffin announced this week the results of the March of Dimes campaign on the campus.

"The fraternities at Ga. Tech donated $102.02 to the campaign," said Dean Griffin, and the total contribution by Tech students amounted to $106.07."

The campaign was carried on to raise funds for the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

Dr. Walker Gives Parliamentary Procedure Course at YMCA

Are you a wheel on the campus? Or do you feel like an ellipsoid? Perhaps that is because you do not have the knowhow when it comes to keeping your motions from being tabled. Perhaps there is a member in your organization who persists in monopolizing the floor? Believe it or not, there are ways and means to keep this from happening. And they don't give you ten years for manslaughter.

Dr. A. J. Walker of the English Department will present a course in Parliamentary Procedure which will last for four weeks. This class is sponsored by the Tech Y.M.C.A. and will be held each Monday night from 7:00 to 8:00, beginning the 23rd of February.

In view of the large number of organizations on the campus and the complexity of their operation, a working knowledge of procedure seems to be an important requirement for the efficient promotion of ideas and plans. This course is not restricted to the officers of an organization but is open to all who wish to attend. It promises to be an important addition to one's complete education for the need of this type of knowledge is felt also in city, state, and national group work.
