Tech-Georgia Board Tries Four Students

The tribunal of the Tech-Georgia Better Relations Committee tried four students last Thursday morning, November 9, in a haphazard with "Tech" painted on the tribunal.

The students confessed to having left bright yellow banners on the University of Georgia's flagpoles, and granting changes in the University of Georgia campus.

The members of the Better Relations Committee selected to serve as the tribunal were: Cecil Spencer, George H. Harris, and Carl T. Decker of Parker of the University; and Dan Gordon, Dick Clement, and Deck Huggins of Tech. Dan served as non-voting chairman of the tribunal.

The banner from Dean Tate was read to Fincher and Northern, who both plead guilty to hanging the banner, but stated that neither had been discoursive to the Dean. When the other students were called, Finchler told the tribunal the case of the wire, and was questioned by the members of the tribunal. He stated that two other students accompanied him and Northern to Athens, but was unable to give their exact names.

Northern was heard from next. He told the story of the trip to Athens. He stated that he was with the students of the tribunal. He stated that he stated the other two men were Rock McPherson and "Rusty" Miller.

The members of the tribunal discussed the case and alternatives of punishment for Tech students.

Wynberg physical damage had resulted from the episode, the tribunal felt that the case was not serious enough to warrant recommendation of a permanent offense.

Realizing that if some action was not taken, persons of a more serious nature might result, the tribunal recommended that all four students—Lonny Fincher, Harry Northern, Bimmy McPherson, and "Rusty" Miller—be severely reprimanded by the Executive Dean.

The fact that the students involved were members of fraternities is of no importance. Many students will serve as non-voting chairman of the Tech-Georgia Better Relations Committee this year.

Interfraternity Council Plans Winter Quarter Blood Drive

The Interfraternity Council has chosen for their annually sponsored drive the last Friday and Saturday in February. The last blood drive sponsored here yielded the disappointing total of 511 pints of blood. The IFC hopes to increase this figure to 1000 pints of blood after the first time for students to have this record.

The scheduling of the drive for this year is new, and demands that students be present for the entire two days. The Interfraternity Council requests that students do not plan on being away for the entire two days.

Fraternity Meeting To Aid Empty Stocking Fund

JC's To Award Trophy To Winning Solicitor

Early Sunday morning, Tech fraternity men will rise and prepare for the annual sale of newspapers for the Atlanta Junior Chamber of Commerce. This is the 20th consecutive year that fraternity men from the campus of Tech and Emory have participated in the annual sale so that they may be on the job promptly at 8:00 the next morning.

Technique

It is suggested that the solicitors develop a technique for selling the papers, rather than simply asking for contributions. A newspaper should be left at every home regardless of whether donations are received. Another helpful suggestion is that each solicitor deliver a dollar bill to the lapel streamer and that he wish a solicited person a very happy day.

By 8:30 the workers will return the bags of money to their section leaders. If any Tech solicitors do not fulfill their wishes of previous years.

Contributions

Students should remember that money is not the only type of contribution. Donations of all types will be accepted, including such old clothes, canned goods or any other articles that can be used for domestic purposes will be grateful. The Empty Stocking Fund is open for the benefit of children who must depend on the generosity of the community for a part of their livelihood, will be a cruising success only if we all work together.

With an expected 6000 collectors on the job Sunday, it is hoped that the total of $25,000 in last year's drive can be topped. Work from Tech may pick up all of the needed equipment at the Naval Armony at 3:00 Saturday afternoon.

Arnold Air Society Elects Twenty-Six

From Junior Class

Twenty-six outstanding ROTC cadets were made members of the Arnold Air Society, the student chapter of the American Society for Aeronautical Sciences.

To gain admittance to this organization each of the students had an average grade of B in their major field. In addition, each had to receive a majority vote by the society for acceptance.

Essay Contest for Seniors Provides $5,000 Worries

Talk about worry. . . . ever offer to give away $5,000? If not, you don't know what worry is, according to the sponsors of an essay contest for college seniors on "The Meaning of Academic Freedom." They describe their worries in a recent news release to The Technique.

"When we first announced the contest, we had a different sort of body out there in the audience? Is anybody writing? What moves because alas, we do not possess a crowd. Academic freedom is a senior? $2,500? Maybe he expects to make millions next year. Whatever he thinks is relevant. Is he concerned about the requirements of academic freedom, or least understood about it, as most likely to contribute to public understanding of it—that is relevant. Most important, we are convinced that the senior has not even studied it!

"We hope the senior does not have this worry. His essay will be superbly understood, because contest judges are Supreme Court Justices William O. Douglas, Dr. Ralph Bunche, Nobel peace prize winner, former Attorney General Thurman Arnold, Mrs. Douglas Horton, former president of Wellesley College and Dr. Abram Sachar, president of Brandeis University."

"But does the senior know what kind of essay is wanted? Maybe he doesn't know that he has utmost latitude, and may discuss whatever he thinks is relevant. Is he concerned about the requirements of academic freedom? Or its responsibilities? Or its value to students? Or its history? Or its meaning as applied to current events? Whatever he believes to be the most important about academic freedom, or least understood about it, as most likely to contribute to public understanding of it—that is relevant. Most important, we are convinced that the senior has not even studied it!

"We hope the senior does not procrastinate. We hope he will write his 2,500-word essay and send it in practically immediately."

Fifteenth Student Earns Place In Sigma Delta Psi

By Wilfred Smith

The yellow Jackets Wednesday night evening. It was the first Auburn's third straight win of the season.

Bill quinted points on each of the first half, but as seen the ball was put into play in the third quarter the Jackets took command and ended the game 45-27. Gott did not threaten seriously there.

The final score read SAE 15-3. The closest games played last Tuesday, the latest games, played last Tuesday, SAE 15-3 scores. The teams played. The SAE 15-3 meet to determine the fraternity champion in each sport. The winners in the playoffs for Friday match Sigma Alpha Epsilon against Sigma Phi Epsilon for the school championship. Games for Friday match Sigma Alpha Epsilon against Sigma Phi Epsilon and Tau Epsilon Phi against Delta Psi. The SAE's won their first two games in the playoffs, SAE and Delta Tau Epsilon won one and lost one while Tau Epsilon Phi lost both of their starts. In the recent games, played last Thursday, SAE jumped off to an early lead and held onto it to win by a 29-6 lead advantage. The Jackets from the University of Georgia will battle with the Jackets in the Tech gym.

Arthur Kern, a third quarter freshman hailing from Kingsport, Tenn., became the fifteenth student in the history of Georgia Tech to gain admittance to Sigma Delta Psi, national honorary fraternity in the field of athletics. A trackman in high school, Arthur, who prefers to be called Art, is not out for a varsity sport at Tech. He is probably the first freshman to ever gain admittance to the local chapter of Sigma Delta Psi.
