Safest “Thing” to Eat at ARA:

- Onion rings — it’s a good bet all the bacteria drowned in the grease
- Something bought somewhere else
- Water
- The napkins
- Sack lunch from home
- Salt and pepper
- The silverware
- Coffee cups and milk cartons
- Yogurt (nuclear waste)

Worst “Thing” to Eat at ARA:

- Anything green
- The “food”
- Anything they cook
- Anything in the “hot” line
- I don’t know what it’s called

Cereal in the little boxes
Fries
Styrofoam boxes
The trays
Inanimate “things”
I don’t know — ask the mice!
Ice
Anything that’s definitely not moving
bacon bits
Pinto bean burritos
Itza pizza
Mystery meatloaf
The turbot
Monday steak on Friday evening

Best Theory

As to Why ARA Renovated:

I think I smell Clyde

Allowed Tech students to think they transferred

To disguise the scene of the crime

To use up excess money

Because it couldn’t be torn down

To give the roaches a better home

To make the lines longer

To lure freshmen and other naive people

Grease on floor layered so thick employees brought ice skates

Better use of lighting or mayonnaise — I can’t tell which yet.

To impress parents

Provide new condos and townhouses for rats

Best Theory As to What Renovating Accomplished:

Well, prices are higher.

Apparently nothing "false insecurity"

Nothing, zip, zilch, nil, nada

Made sophomores feel like freshmen when they couldn’t find the door.

Confused the employees

Employees kept their jobs for another year.

Rapid deployment of funds that could have been used on cooking lessons.

New silverware and trays to steal "Faster" service

Fooled some of us for awhile — that is until we ate.

Added a dangerous thrill to your eating experience

Temporarily closed ARA

Name Some Good Things About WREK:

- Its call letters
- School cancellations
- My car radio isn't tuned to it
- They play hand clapping
- They don't play industrial noise anymore
- It's not the only station
- I can't get it on my radio
- It has a range of about one half mile
- It's optional
- Now I know what kinds of music I don't like
- It's in English
- I don't have to pass over it while switching between my favorite stations

Clyde Speaks:

Clyde speaks about bricks:
"Bricks improve the aesthetic quality of campus and are synonymous with Georgia Tech."
"Brick just makes sense."
"Brick is indigenous to the area and adds to the beauty of campus."
"We think that brick adds to the aesthetic texture."

Clyde speaks about the Tech tower "T":
"They could steal one every night and it wouldn't make a difference."
"They are not very functional."
"They make nice coffee tables."

Clyde speaks about tradition:
"It was not my intention to destroy tradition."
"Where there are historical aspects of tradition, I try to preserve them."

Clyde speaks about parking decks:
"There's nobody standing around handing out parking decks and saying 'Here's a gift.'"
"A parking deck is not really that attractive of a feature."

Miscellaneous ramblings from Clyde:
"In a few years, this place is going to look like Central Park."
"I don't subscribe to the factory campus idea."
