The Yellow Jacket tennis team has depth, depth that will help them compete with the best in the conference and the best in the country. Head men’s tennis coach Kenny Thorne returns six players, and welcomes three newcomers that should make an immediate impact this spring. An intense fall campaign revealed marked improvement in the top of Tech’s line-up, while underclassmen stepped up to college-size competition, improving their raw talents.

Luke Rassow-Kantor, a six-foot-three Westport, Conn. Native, is a freshman at Georgia Tech and his game saw consistent improvement in his first few months on campus. Rassow-Kantor brings to the team a massive wingspan, size, strength and a good serve. His aggressiveness and wingspan enable him to finish points at the net and defend well against the pass.

“Luke can play at a very high level as a freshman due to his big serve and aggressive game,” said Thorne.

Countering Rassow-Kantor’s strength and size is fellow freshman, Austin Roebuck who brings to the team strong fundamentals and a technically sound all-around game.

“Austin has a very good all around game,” said Thorne. “He can stay with anyone from the baseline and attack and finish points at the net as well. He has improved quite a bit this fall by winning numerous singles matches.”

Also new to the Tech tennis family is Eric Molnar, though he is no newcomer to college tennis. Molnar is a senior from Ontario, Canada who transferred to Georgia Tech from Colorado after that tennis program disbanded. Last spring at Colorado, Molnar competed as the team’s No. 1 singles player. He finished the season ranked 49th in the nation and earned the school’s first NCAA Tournament berth since 1998. Nicknamed “Rambo” by his teammates, Molnar is six-foot-three and weighs in at 190 pounds. He is one of the strongest members of the team with a big serve and strong forehand that can blow opponents off the court.

“Eric is one of the strongest players out there,” added Thorne. “He has a big game and is very intimidating to play against on the court. He will have a huge impact for us in singles and doubles. He is a great competitor and comes to us with three solid years of college experience.”

Perhaps the most improvement came in Tech’s All-America, David North. North, a six-foot junior from Durbin, South Africa, worked extremely hard in the off season helping him notch an impressive 14-4 fall record. North possesses a strong all-around game and has greatly improved the accuracy and power of his serve. North’s superior athleticism, sound all-around game and work ethic have earned him a spot near the top of Tech’s spring lineup.
“David has become one of the hardest workers on the team,” said Thorne. “He is a very good athlete and has a good all-around game which will help us in singles and doubles. David is serious about improving his game and will be one of the better college players in the nation this spring.”

Red-shirt junior, Jose Muguruza will return to the lineup this spring after sitting out last spring and undergoing wrist surgery that kept him out of the fall tournament season. Muguruza is quick, competitive, and possesses extreme mental toughness combining for an unorthodox and entertaining style of play. Thorne credits him for his never-give-up attitude and endurance on the court.

“Jose is coming off wrist surgery and is anxious to get back on the court,” said Thorne. “I think he is the most talented and entertaining tennis player in college tennis. He is a competitor and once healthy, Jose can beat anyone in the nation.”

Jordan DeLass, last year’s team MVP, returns with improved play at the net and the ability to finish off points at the net. DeLass has been an impact player in doubles this fall and continues to exhibit speed on the court. Thorne expects DeLass to have a breakthrough season for the Jackets this spring.

“Jordan finished last season playing his best tennis and has become more aggressive and maintained his ability to make people work extremely hard for every point,” said Thorne. “He was our well-deserved MVP last year and helped us secure a NCAA bid as well as a win in the first round of the tournament.”

Lone returning senior, Zach Rath, spent the fall on the bench with a sports hernia. He is expected to rebound fully after surgery and with his experience should contribute significantly in the spring. Rath’s height and athleticism make him a strong all-around player for the Jackets. He is not afraid to take chances on the court, thrives under pressure and has won some hard-fought matches for this team.

“He is ready to get back and have a great senior year,” Thorne said of Rath. “Zach has won some very high pressure matches for us in the past and is one of the guys you want on the court when it’s all on the line. He is working hard to get healthy and will definitely be a major factor in our success this year.”

Junior Scott Blackmon had a strong fall campaign, exhibiting his natural tennis abilities and improved flexibility. Thorne describes Blackmon as a fighter on the court with great awareness and superior knowledge of the game. He has tempered his aggressiveness, using experience and patience to know when to attack the net and how to work his opponents.

“Scott was able to get some valuable playing time last year in singles and has improved his all-around game,” said Thorne. “He is a natural doubles player and played some of our best doubles matches throughout the season last year.”

Thorne is confident in his diverse Yellow Jacket lineup and knows that if he can keep his squad healthy and working as a team, the Jackets will be successful around the league and around the nation.
Kenny Thorne recorded one of the most successful tennis careers by a player from the state of Georgia, winning seven pro titles and defeating four of the world’s top-10 players in the 1990’s. Some of Thorne’s notable victories include wins over Richard Krajicek, Wayne Ferreira, Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin. As a pro, he achieved his highest singles ranking of No. 121 and a doubles ranking of No. 67. Thorne brings his love of tennis and impressive professional playing experience to his alma mater, Georgia Tech.

Charged with building the Georgia Tech tennis program back to the level it was when he was a player, Thorne was named to the newly-created position of Director of Tennis on June 30, 1998, becoming the ninth head coach in Tech men’s tennis history.

Thorne took over the reins of the Tech program after spending one season as the team’s assistant coach and wasted little time in taking steps toward his ultimate goal of turning the Yellow Jackets into a perennial contender.

In 2006, the Georgia Tech men’s tennis team once again earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament for the seventh time in eight years under Thorne and reaching the second round for third time. The team finished over .500 for the sixth consecutive season with a 12-10 record. In 2005, Tech had a doubles team compete in the NCAA Tournament for the first time since the 1994 season and also an individual compete in the NCAA Singles Championship. After dropping tough matches to Virginia and Georgia Tech finished out the regular season winning six of six matches, including a 5-2 win over Florida State and a 4-3 come from behind match at South Carolina.

During the 2003 campaign, Georgia Tech earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament and climbed into the 14th spot in the national rankings midway through the year. The Jackets also boasted their first All-America honorees since 1988, as the doubles team of Roger Anderson and Scott Schnugg earned the honor after finishing the season as the country’s 10th-ranked tandem. The duo also earned All-ACC honors.

after winning the league’s Flight One Doubles title. Tech finished with a 12-10 record and notched seven wins over ranked opponents, including a 4-2 victory over ninth-ranked Texas on February 16.

In 2002, Tech defeated eight ranked teams and reached the finals of the ACC Championship, en route to a 15-11 dual-match record, while also reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years under Thorne. In the ACC Tournament, the Jackets upset top-seeded and 14th-ranked Duke in the semifinals by a 4-0 score and ended the Blue Devils four-year reign as ACC Champions. On an individual level, Roger Anderson earned All-ACC honors for the second time and earned his first berth in the NCAA Individual Championship, becoming the first Tech player to do so since 1999.

During the 2000-01 season, Thorne made great strides toward achieving his goal. When the Yellow Jackets climbed to No. 20 in the national rankings on April 11, they claimed their highest ranking since 1988, when Thorne was an All-American and team captain.

Thorne led the 2001 Yellow Jackets to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Roger Anderson earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and three Tech players earned ACC Flight championships in singles or doubles.

Under Thorne’s guidance in 2000, Anderson became the first Tech player to earn ACC Rookie of the Year honors after leading the Yellow Jackets with a 24-8 singles record, including a 15-5 mark in dual matches.

In his first year as head coach in 1999, Thorne earned ACC Coach of the Year honors after guiding the Yellow Jackets to a second-place tie in the regular-season conference standings, a runner-up finish at the ACC Tournament, an NCAA Regional berth and a final national ranking of 32 by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA).

Senior Benjamin Cassaigne was named the ACC Player of the Year, earned all-conference honors and captured the ACC Flight Championship at No. 1 singles under Thorne’s guidance. Fellow senior Matt Cozad was also named all-ACC and won the ACC Flight Championship at No. 2 singles. Cozad and sophomore Sergio Aguirre also won the ACC Flight title at No. 3 doubles.

With Tech’s 1999 NCAA Regional berth, Thorne became the first person in ACC history and just the second nationally, joining LSU’s Jeff Brown, to lead the same school to postseason competition as a player, assistant coach and head coach since the current NCAA team dual-match format was instituted in 1977. (Prior to 1977, team finishes were determined by an accumulation of points based on individual play.) Thorne helped Tech to NCAA play as a senior in 1988, as an assistant coach in 1998 and as head coach in 1999.

Thorne earned an Industrial Engineering degree from Tech in 1989 and during his four seasons as a player from 1985-88, the Jackets posted a 70-38 dual-match record and a 20-7 ACC mark, including wins over nationally-ranked foes such as Georgia and Clemson in 1988, his final season. Tech climbed as high as 10th in the ITA national rankings during Thorne’s senior season before the Jackets ended the year ranked 12th nationally.

He qualified for the NCAA singles tournament in 1986 and 1988 and advanced to the second round on both occasions. Thorne also competed in the 1988 NCAA doubles tourney with partner Bryan Shelton.

After turning professional in 1989, Thorne spent eight years on the tour, achieving his highest singles ranking of 121 and doubles ranking of 67 in the world. He was also a six-time participant at Wimbledon, the U.S. Open, French Open and Australian Open.

Thorne’s best career wins were over 1996 Wimbledon champion Richard Krajicek, ATP No. 11 Wayne Ferreira, Australia’s Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin of the United States.

He posted two career ATP doubles titles, one career Challenger singles title and four career Challenger doubles titles.

An All-American in 1988, Thorne finished his Georgia Tech playing career as a four-time All-ACC honoree and the career leader in singles victories with 112.

He was also a two-time captain and an Academic All-ACC honoree. Thorne was inducted into the Georgia Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995.

Thorne married former Yellow Jacket cross country standout and Tech Hall of Fame inductee, Bridget Koster, in 1990.

The couple has two daughters, Rachel, 11, and Kenedy, 7, and two sons, Zachary, 9, and Daniel 5.
Josh Hausman, formerly a head coach at University of South Carolina-Spartanburg, was added to the Georgia Tech tennis coaching staff in July of 2004 and begins his third season as the assistant coach.

As the men's head coach at USC-Spartanburg, Hausman helped the Rifles finish with a No. 7 final ranking in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA) poll during the 2003-04 season. The team finished with an impressive 20-5 record and advanced as one of the final 16 teams in the NCAA tournament that year.

Hausman, a former player and team captain for USC-Spartanburg, led the Rifles to a No. 23 national ranking during his senior year in 2001. Before transferring to USC-Spartanburg, he played two years at Kilgore Junior College in Texas, where he led the team as captain in 1999 to a Top-5 national ranking. Hausman finished his career at Kilgore with a Top-50 national singles ranking and Top-15 national doubles ranking in the ITA Tennis rankings. Prior to his position as head coach of the USC-Spartanburg tennis program, Hausman spent two years as assistant coach at his alma mater where he helped propel the men and women's tennis teams into national prominence and earned a share of the regular season Peach Belt Conference championship in 2003.

"Josh has been a great addition to our coaching staff with his three years of collegiate coaching experience," said Thorne. "He is an extremely determined coach who understands the academic and athletic recruiting challenges at Tech and has coached some very good players over the past few years. I don't think we could have hired anyone with a more positive attitude or better work ethic than Josh."

A native of Alice, Texas, Hausman, 28, graduated from USC-Spartanburg in 2001 with a bachelor's degree in corporate fitness.
Dr. G. Wayne Clough
President

The chief engineer of Georgia Tech’s determined effort to provide technological leadership in a changing world is Dr. G. Wayne Clough, the Institute’s 10th president and the first alumnus to serve in that capacity.

Dr. Clough received a bachelor of science degree in civil engineering in 1964 and then added a master of science in civil engineering from the Institute in 1965. He later earned his Ph.D. in 1969 from the University of California at Berkeley.

Clough’s skills as a civil engineer are evident in reshaping the campus to meet the needs of Tech’s world-class programs and students. He has overseen the construction of more than a dozen academic and research buildings, with several more on the drawing board. The campus is fully wired with 1,700 miles of fiber-optic cable and offers a comprehensive wireless environment as well.

To provide the additional resources required to reach this goal, Clough engineered the Campaign for Georgia Tech, which raised a record $712 million in five years for 54 endowed faculty chairs, 233 endowed scholarships, 11 new buildings, and a host of academic, research and athletic programs.

Beyond campus, he gives Georgia Tech a face and voice in Washington, D.C., as a member of the President’s Council of Advisors on Science and Technology and the executive committee of the U.S. Council of Competitiveness, and as chair of the National Academy of Engineering committee on the Engineer of 2020.

Clough came to Georgia Tech from the University of Washington, where he was Provost and Vice President of Academic Affairs. In this capacity, he served as chief budget officer and chief academic officer for the University, with responsibility for all budget and capital planning as well as the implementation of academic programs. Before moving to Seattle, Clough spent 10 years at Virginia Tech, first as Head of the Department of Civil Engineering, then as Dean of the College of Engineering. He has also been a member of the faculties of Duke University and Stanford University.

Dr. Clough has been the recipient of numerous awards and honors for teaching and research, including the 1986 George Westinghouse Award from the American Society of Engineering Education and the 1991 State-of-the-Art Award from the American Society of Civil Engineers. He was elected to the National Academy for Engineering in 1990. In addition, he has served on the NCAA Division I Board of Directors since September of 2001, representing the ACC.

A native of Douglas, Ga., Dr. Clough has been married to Anne Robinson Clough for more than 30 years, and the couple has two grown children.

Dan Radakovich
Director of Athletics

Named Georgia Tech's Director of Athletics on February 22, 2006, Dan Radakovich brings nearly two decades of experience in collegiate athletics management positions to Tech's nationally-prominent program.

Radakovich comes to Georgia Tech after five years as senior associate athletics director at Louisiana State (2001-06), and he previously served as the athletics director at American University in Washington, D.C., in 2000-01. That followed stints as associate athletics director at South Carolina (1994-2000) and Long Beach State (1989-94) as well as two years as the athletics business manager at Miami (1983-85).

Just the seventh Director of Athletics in Tech history, Radakovich was named by Institute President Dr. Wayne Clough to succeed Dave Braine, who retired after nearly nine years in the post. Radakovich also follows in the footsteps of storied names such as John Heisman, Bobby Dodd and Homer Rice.

"Dan Radakovich brings a unique combination of enthusiasm for sports, concern for student athletes, experience in athletic administration, business experience and communication skills that are needed in today's complex world of intercollegiate athletics,” said Dr. Clough as he introduced Radakovich.

In his position at LSU, Radakovich was responsible for the day-to-day operation of an athletics program with an annual budget of more than $50 million, encompassing 20 sports and more than 450 student-athletes. He directly supervised LSU's men's basketball and baseball programs.

Early in his tenure, Radakovich was instrumental in developing LSU's football ticket donation program which resulted in more than $9 million in new annual revenue. He also participated with the Tiger Athletic Foundation in the most ambitious capital improvement initiative in school history, including a $90 million renovation of the Tigers' historic football stadium.

LSU athletics reached unparalleled heights during his tenure, highlighted by the 2003 national championship in football and the basketball team's berth in the 2006 NCAA Final Four, as well as national titles in men's and women's track and field and top five national rankings in baseball, women's basketball, softball and gymnastics.

In his stint as athletics director at American, he coordinated the school's move into the Patriot League.

As associate athletics director at South Carolina, Radakovich directed financial operations for a $30 million athletics budget while supervising financing and logistics for $33 million in facilities improvements. He also worked closely with then-South Carolina athletics director Mike McGee in laying the groundwork for the new $70 million Colonial Center Arena in downtown Columbia, S.C. At Long Beach State, where he served as senior associate athletics director from 1989-94, Radakovich managed a $5 million budget while reorganizing the department operations and coordinating the production and sales of radio broadcasting packages. He also supervised the men's basketball and baseball programs.

Radakovich began his career in athletics administration as the athletics business manager at Miami from 1983-85. He then worked in the private sector for four years before moving to Long Beach State in 1989.

A native of Monaca, Pa., Radakovich, 47, was a football letterwinner and student coach at Indiana University of Pennsylvania, where he graduated in 1980 with a bachelor of science degree in finance. He added a master's degree in business administration from Miami in 1982. He also completed the Sports Management Institute's executive education program in 1992.

He is married to the former Marcie McDonald, and the couple has two children, Christian, 16, and Grant, 12.

2005-06 Recap

During the the 2005-06 season, the Georgia Tech men’s tennis team streaked its way to the NCAA Tournament for the seventh time in eight years. Tech finished the season ranked no. 30 in the National ITA team rankings with its sixth straight winning season.

The Jackets opened the dual-match season on a six-game winning streak including wins over Alabama, Auburn and Arizona State. Tech then managed to lose eight straight matches, including 6-1 defeats against no. 1 Georgia and at no. 4 Duke, but then regrouped to win its five final matches, all ACC opponents.

In the ACC Tournament, the Jackets, ranked eighth, fell to the ninth-ranked Virginia Tech Hokies, 4-3, at the Cary Tennis Center in Cary, N.C.

Georgia Tech earned an at-large berth in the NCAA Tournament for the sixth-straight year. The Jackets traveled to Athens, Ga., to face 38th-ranked Alabama in the first round. Tech was able to defeat the Tide for the second time on the year with a 4-2 victory.

Tech then went on to play first-ranked Georgia on their home court in the second round of the tournament. Unable to overcome the Bulldogs, the Yellow Jackets fell 4-0 to end the season.

A Tradition of Excellence

Consistency. It’s the mark of true excellence in any endeavor. However in today’s intercollegiate athletics, competition has become so balanced and so competitive that it is virtually impossible to maintain a high level of consistency.

Yet the Atlantic Coast Conference has defied the odds. Now in its 53rd year of competition, the ACC has long enjoyed the reputation as one of the strongest and most competitive intercollegiate conferences in the nation. And that is not mere conjecture, the numbers support it.

In all, the ACC has won 57 national team titles over the last 16 years. The ACC has won two or more NCAA titles in 24 of the past 26 years.

A History

The Atlantic Coast Conference was founded on May 8, 1953, at the Sedgefield Inn near Greensboro, N.C. with seven charter members—Clemson, Duke, Maryland, North Carolina, North Carolina State, South Carolina and Wake Forest—drawing up the conference by-laws.

On December 4, 1953, conference officials met again at Sedgefield and officially admitted Virginia. The first, and only, withdrawal of a school from the ACC came on June 30, 1971 when South Carolina tendered its resignation.

The conference operated with seven members until April 1, 1978, when Georgia Tech was admitted. The Atlanta school withdrew from the Southeastern Conference in January of 1964.

The ACC expanded to nine members on July 1, 1991, with the addition of Florida State. The conference grew to 11 members on July 1, 2004, with the addition of the University of Miami and Virginia Tech. On October 17, 2003, Boston College accepted an invitation to become the league’s 12th member starting with the 2005-06 academic year.

The Championships

The ACC will conduct championship competition in 25 sports during the 2006-07 academic year—12 for men and 13 for women. The first ACC championship was held in swimming on February 25, 1954. The conference did not conduct championships in cross country, wrestling or tennis during the first year.

The 12 sports for men include football, cross country, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, wrestling, baseball, tennis, golf and lacrosse. Fencing, which was started in 1971, was discontinued in 1981.

Women’s sports were initiated in 1977 with the first championship held in tennis at Wake Forest, October 6-8. Championships for women are now conducted in cross country, volleyball, field hockey, soccer, basketball, swimming, indoor and outdoor track, tennis, golf, lacrosse, softball and rowing.

GEORGIA TECH TENNIS TIMELINE

1908—First Tech tennis team, with individuals competing in tournaments.

1915—Coached by J.R. Crenshaw, Tech tennis team competes in first dual matches, 2-0.

1918—Tech wins the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship.

1922—Tech wins the first of its two Southern Conference championships.

1926—Yellow Jackets win their second Southern Conference title in five years.

1929—Longtime coach J.R. Crenshaw coaches his final season, compiling an overall record of 32-12-2 in 13 seasons.

1934—Legendary Earle Bortell takes over as the Tech head coach, embarking on a career that would span 28 years and 215 victories.

1938—Russell Bobbitt, the conference champ at number one singles, led Georgia Tech to its first Southeastern Conference team title. The team was captained by GT Hall of Fame member Bill Moore and coached by Earle Bortell.

1945—Howard McCall reached the quarterfinals of the NCAA singles championship while Niles Millsap goes three rounds in singles and teams with Frank Willett who reach the semis in doubles.

1946—The team won its second Southeastern Conference team championship, led by T.W. Fowler, who won the conference title at two singles, and Howard McCall and Niles Millsap, who were co-champions at number one doubles.

May 12-14, 1960—Tech dominated the SEC Tennis Championships at Knoxville, Tenn., beating Tulane and Florida to win the team title. Ned Neely won the conference singles championship and teamed with Harry Thompson to win the number two singles championship. Thompson won the number two singles title, while Paul Metz was the number five singles champion and Dave Peake and Dave Pease all won the number three doubles crown.

1960—Tech team posts a fourth-place finish at the NCAA championships, the best finish in school history, as Ned Neely and Harry Thompson reach the semifinals in doubles.

1966—All-American Walter Johnson advanced to the quarterfinals to lead Tech to a fifth-place NCAA finish.

1970—Led by All-American Larry Turville, who reached the fourth round, Tech ties for 10th place at the NCAAs, as four players entered in singles and two in doubles teams.

March 11, 1982—First ACC win vs. Maryland, 6-3

April 20, 1985—Freshman Bryan Shelton wins the ACC title at number one singles, the first individual ACC title in school history.

May 18, 1985—Bryan Shelton loses to Dan Goldie, 7-6, 4-6, 6-1, in first round of NCAA Singles Championships in the first NCAA appearance by a Tech player since 1971.

May 1987—Mark Avedikian and Richy Gilbert earn a berth in NCAA doubles championship.

Jan. 23-24, 1988—Tech hosts nationally-ranked teams Stanford (No. 1), Tennessee (No. 10) and California (No. 13) to christen the Bill Moore Tennis Center. Jackets beat 13th-ranked Golden Bears but fall to top-ranked Cardinal. Jean Desdunes named head coach.

April 5, 1988—Defeated Georgia, 5-4, in Athens, for Tech’s first win over the Bulldogs since 1966.

April 7, 1988—Defeated Clemson, 5-4, to finish first in the ACC regular season with a 7-0 record.

April 23, 1988—Lost to Clemson in finals of ACC Tournament, 5-4.

May 21, 1988—Lost to Michigan, 5-4, in first appearance in NCAA Team Championships.

May 26, 1988—Bryan Shelton reaches quarterfinals of NCAA Singles Championship before losing to eventual champion, Robbie Weiss of Pepperdine.

May 1988—Bryan Shelton and Kenny Thorne garner All-America honors; the first Yellow Jackets to earn the recognition since 1970.

May 19, 1993—Rob Givone competes in the NCAA singles tournament, becoming Tech’s first NCAA entrant in five years.

April 22-24, 1994—Tech defeats Wake and Virginia to reach the finals of the ACC Tournament before falling to seventh-ranked Duke.

May 13-15, 1994—After defeating Florida State and VCU in the first two rounds, the third-seeded Tech score a heart-stopping 4-3 victory over NC to win the Region II title and advance to the NCAA Team Championships for the second time in school history. With Tech tied 3-3 against the Tar Heels, senior Scott Cotton was on the verge of defeat but rallied at number two singles to clinch the title.

May 21, 1994—GT falls to third-ranked TCU in the first round of the NCAA Championships, to finish the season at 17-11 and ranked 28th in the final poll.

May 25, 1994—Rob Givone returns to the NCAA individual tourney, competing in singles and doubles with partner Scott Cotton.

March 29, 1995—Tech defeats Georgia Southern for head coach Jean Desdunes’ 100th victory.

May 9, 1997—The team returns to NCAA Tournament play, falling to Duke in their NCAA Region II Championships opener.

May 15, 1998—Tech makes its second-straight NCAA appearance, falling to Virginia Commonwealth at the NCAA Region II Championships in Richmond, Va.

June 30, 1998—Jean Desdunes resigns as head coach, stepping down with the second-highest win total in school history with 139. Assistant coach and former Tech All-American Kenny Thorne is named head coach at his alma mater.

April 30, 1999—Thorne is named ACC Coach of the Year after guiding the Jackets to a regular-season tie for second place in the ACC and the finals of the conference tournament. Thorne’s No. 1 player, Benjamin Cassaigne, is named ACC Player of the Year.

May 14-15, 1999—The Yellow Jackets qualify for NCAA Regional play for the third-straight year, falling to Boise State in their opening match before falling to defending national champion Stanford in round two at Palo Alto, Calif.

April 30, 2000—Roger Anderson is named ACC Rookie of the Year, the first Yellow Jacket to earn the honor.

May 12-13, 2001—Tech competes in the NCAA Regional for the fourth time in the last five years. Tech tops Arizona, 4-2, in the first round before falling to eventual national champion Georgia in the second round in Athens, Ga.

October 28, 2001—Junior Roger Anderson becomes the first Yellow Jacket to win the Omni Hotels South Atlantic Region Championship when he defeats 43rd-ranked David Loewenthal of Wake Forest in straight sets, 6-1, 7-5.

May 2, 2003—Senior Roger Anderson and junior Scott Schnugg become the first Tech players to earn All-America honors since 1988 after finishing the year ranked 10th nationally in doubles.

May 28, 2005—Freshman David North and junior Marko Rajevac participate in the NCAA Doubles Championship as alternates and advance to the quarterfinals to earn All-American honors, before falling to eventual national champions John Isner and Antonio Ruiz from Georgia.

A HIGH TECH CAMPUS
To shape a campus worthy of its aspirations, Georgia Tech continues to build innovative, state-of-the-art facilities.

Tech boasts outstanding housing facilities. Dormitories feature apartment-style accommodations with private bathroom, kitchen and sitting area in each suite.

Georgia Tech’s new Technology Square is a lively, mixed use development that extends the campus right into the middle of the Midtown Atlanta business community. The complex is home to the new Management building.
A variety of publications rank Atlanta as one of the nation’s top cities in many categories:

- America’s Hottest Cities  Expansion Magazine
- Most Livable Cities  Harris Interactive
- No. 1 Destination for African Americans  Travel Industry Association
- Cities with Most Fortune 500 Headquarters  Fortune Magazine
- Nation’s Best Big Cities for Entrepreneurs  Inc. Magazine
- Best Places for Business & Careers  Forbes Magazine
- Top Business Opportunity Metros  Expansion Management Magazine
- High Tech Cities  Popular Science Magazine
- Airport for Non-Stop Service to U.S. Destinations  Back Aviation Solutions
- African American Relocation in U.S.  Atlanta Journal-Constitution
The Atlanta Falcons, Braves, Hawks and Thrashers play just minutes from the Georgia Tech campus.

GEORGIA TECH TRADITIONS

School Fight Song

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech,
And a hell of an engineer.
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell
Of an engineer.
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear.
I'm a Ramblin Wreck from Georgia Tech,
And a hell of an engineer.

Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in white and gold.
And put her on the campus to cheer the brave and bold.
But, if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell "To Hell with Georgia"
Like his daddy used to do.

Oh I wish I had a barrel of rum and sugar
Three thousand pounds.
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a Ramblin', Gamblin', Hell of an Engineer."

Buzz
The Yellow Jacket nickname and mascot are two of the most beloved trademarks of Georgia Tech athletic teams. The origin is unknown, but one thing is clear, the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect, but that the mascot, known as "Buzz", grew out of the nickname.

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech...."
It was Sept, 30, 1961. The opponent was Rice University for the home opener. For the first time, the official Rambling Wreck car was unveiled to 43, 501 fans at Grant Field, leading the Georgia Tech football team onto the field. It has happened at every home game since. The event did not establish a new tradition, but it cemented one. The restored 1930
Model A Ford Sport Coupe was Tech's first official Rambling Wreck.
GEORGIA TECH TRADITIONS

Homecoming Displays
Each year during Homecoming Week, campus fraternities and sororities spend hours designing and building murals which are displayed in front of their houses for judging.

"The Swarm"
Made up entirely of Georgia Tech students, "The Swarm" can be found in their bright yellow t-shirts in prime seating locations at every home football, volleyball and men's basketball game.

The Missing "T"
One of the most popular pranks for Tech students to accomplish is the stealing of the "T", which sits upon the side of the Tech Tower on campus.

George P. Burdell
In 1927, a mythical student named George P. Burdell appeared on class rosters, registration forms and grade reports. He has since become one of Tech's most notable students. Burdell was the creation of Ed Smith, who actually turned in separate exams for him, convincing professors that Burdell was a student in good standing. Burdell received a bachelor's and later a master's degree from Tech. Since Smith's graduation, students have kept George P. Burdell alive at Tech, including the Georgia Tech band (above right) who has him paged at every away football game during the season.

The Whistle
Heard throughout Tech's campus five minutes before the hour from 6:55 a.m. until 5:55 p.m., the blowing of the campus whistle signifies the beginning and end of each class period.

Mini 500
On the evening prior to the Homecoming football game, various student organizations compete in the "Mini 500". In the four-person relay race, students must complete a lap around Peters Parking Deck using only one leg to push themselves on their team's homemade tricycle.

"Coming out of high school, choosing Georgia Tech was the biggest decision of my life at that time. In hindsight, choosing Georgia Tech was the best decision I've made. The combination of academics, athletics, and support network of coaches and alumni taught me how to be successful not only as a student-athlete, but in a career after tennis as well."

"Coach Thorne and the Georgia Tech support staff do a great job of developing the student-athletes into the complete person. My experience at Georgia Tech was second to none. I felt treated as part of a family and the lessons I learned extend far beyond the tennis court."

One of the top collegiate facilities in the nation, the Bill Moore Tennis Center serves as the home of the Georgia Tech tennis teams.

The complex opened for the 1988 season and officially dedicated on October 28, 1988, in honor of Bill Moore, whose efforts were vital in the construction of this impressive facility.

A graduate of Georgia Tech in management and a tennis letterman, Moore served as the chairman of the Kelly-Moore Paint Company, the largest independant paint company in the United States, and the Calmutual Insurance Company.

Located on Fowler Street across from the Alexander Memorial Coliseum, the Bill Moore Tennis Complex features 12 outdoor courts and three indoor courts.

The outdoor courts are divided into two tiers, and the top six courts are lighted and have permanent seating for 1,500 with the main grandstand along court number one and more seating along the baseline of the six courts.

The indoor facility is two stories, with three courts on the lower level, along with locker rooms for the men’s and women’s teams and visiting teams.

The upper level, known as the Hansard Room, houses a pro shop, coaches’ offices and a lounge area that includes trophy cases displaying Yellow Jacket tennis memorabilia.

Well-suited for hosting tournaments, the Bill Moore Tennis Center has been the site of numerous events, including the NCAA Region II Championship in 1997, the ACC Championship in 1998, and the 1st and 2nd rounds of the NCAA Women’s Championships in 2005 and ’06.

Since the opening of the Bill Moore Tennis Center, many improvements have been made. During the 2003 season, a scoreboard was installed with remote scoring devices to allow fans to track dual matches on all six courts.

In addition, cameras have recently been installed at the baseline of all six upper courts with the video equipment necessary to allow coaches to meet with players and review matches and stroke techniques.

Most recently, plasma televisions have been added to the men’s and women’s locker rooms making the Bill Moore Tennis Center one of the finest facilities in the nation.

After adopting the dual match format in 1988, the Georgia Tech men’s tennis team has participated in 11 NCAA tournaments, including eight of the last nine.

The 1988 squad received a bye into the field of 16, falling to Michigan by the score of 5-4 while in 1994 he team advanced to the field of 16 before losing to TCU, 4-1.

Since the expansion to 64 teams, the Yellow have advanced to the second round on three occasions, in 1999, 2001 and 2006.

Each year, the Georgia Tech Tennis program faces the challenge of funding its operational, travel, equipment and recruiting costs. The generosity of Yellow Jacket alumni, friends and fans is vital to the continued success of Georgia Tech Tennis.

Investing in the future of our student-athletes symbolizes your commitment to the mission of Georgia Tech Athletics. The Yellow Jacket Racquet Club provides a method for patrons to become more involved with the Men’s Tennis program than the average fan.

For more information on how to contribute to the Men’s Tennis Program, please visit the A-T Fund at www.ramblinwreck.com.

For your generous contributions & Continued support of Men’s Tennis
