TRACKING THE JACKETS STATE-BY-STATE
The 2005 Georgia Tech softball team will open the season ranked No. 21 in the preseason ESPN.com/USA Softball Collegiate Poll. The Yellow Jackets finished 47-19 last season and No. 22/23 in the final polls. With five starters returning and NFCA All-America pitcher Jessica Sallinger, the Jackets hope to repeat last year’s success and even push it farther.

Head Coach Ehren Earleywine sat down and talked about the upcoming season, What do you see from this team that differs from last year’s team?

“One major difference in this year’s team as compared to last year is our depth. This year we are stronger in the lower half of the lineup and on our bench. Last year our 7-9 hitters were inconsistent and didn’t provide us with as many runs as we would have liked. This group is strong from 1-9 and could strike big in either half of the lineup. Not to mention, if someone gets hurt or isn’t playing well, our bench depth will allow us to move forward without losing much, if anything.”

“The question mark for us right now is our pitching depth. I was very confident in our No. 2 pitcher, Erin Voeltz, last season. With her gone, we lost something. Our No. 2 and No. 3 pitchers have improved a great deal, but I just won’t know how much until we get underway.”

“Another major difference is that this group can really run. We had two or three base stealing threats last year as compared to five or six this year. My preference is to be ‘reckless’ on offense and apply pressure on the defense. If we can just get some of these good runners to first base, we should be alright.”

What are the team goals heading into the season?

“The team set a few goals at the beginning of the spring and they were; winning the Atlantic Coast Conference, advancing to the College World Series, beating Georgia, winning our bracket at the NFCA Leadoff Classic and beating all teams we should beat.

“All that is nice, but I guess for me, I just want to know where we were yesterday and we are today. Have we gotten better and are we addressing the right things. If so, the outcome should be favorable.”

“Setting and reaching goals is rewarding, but I hope our team understands, and I think they do, that success is the by-product of technique, effort, conditioning and teamwork. Outside of that, it’s just talk and predictions.”

How good is the ACC going to be this year and pick some favorites in the league?

“The ACC just keeps getting better every year. You’re starting to see more parity in softball because of its popularity and growth over the past few years. Because of that, the players on the east coast have really improved, hence improving the ACC as a whole.”

“To me, Florida State is the front-runner and returns some great players from last year’s World Series team. At the top of that list is Casey Hunter (ace pitcher). I think she experienced some arm trouble at the end of last season, but I suspect she will be healthy and as good as ever again this year. They always play hard, run the bases well, and most importantly, they feature great pitchers. I’ll be very surprised if they don’t finish in the top five again this year.”

“North Carolina and Virginia are always tough opponents who can beat you on any given day. Both of them had good recruiting years and will return key players from last year’s teams. Crystal Cox [JUNC] is a solid pitcher with a good change-up. She will be back and can give you fits if you let her get into a rhythm. Virginia has a very similar pitcher in Erin Horn. I think the sleeper team and somebody to keep an eye on is NC State. Last year was their inaugural season for softball and they went well over .500 [32-27] and beat a lot of good teams in the process. And remember, that was with mostly freshman. Those girls will have matured and will be a notch better this season. Not to mention, they have an outstanding crop of freshman to add to that mix.”

“Maryland and Virginia Tech have added new pitchers to their staffs and from my understanding, they are quality kids who will really improve those team’s chances of winning. Both are solid teams who will play extra hard in the conference match-ups.”

“Overall, we like the competitiveness in the ACC and the fact that we now have three-game sets, which provides a stronger and better conference season. That format calls for your ace pitcher to throw two of three games, and we feel that is a slight advantage for us, since Jessica Sallinger is as good as a pitcher as anyone we will compete against.”

What are the strengths and weaknesses of this year’s squad?

“When you watch Georgia Tech play this year, you’ll see that our strengths are a dominant ace pitcher [Jessica Sallinger] and great speed on the bases. We will eventually play great defense, but at this point in our preparation for the spring, we’re not where we want to be.”

“A question mark that could be considered a weakness is our youth. We will have five or six new players in our starting line-up everyday. They have matured so much since they came on campus this fall and I’m proud of all of them for the strides they have made.”

“They will continue to grow throughout the season and I’m sure there will be growing pains along the way. We’re prepared for that, but that’s not an excuse for them to fail or for us to lose. We’ll use each outing as a learning experience and take that to our next practice or game to work on.”

“Hopefully, by the latter part of the season, everyone will know their role and execute accordingly.”

Talk about this year’s schedule?

“As usual, we will play a very competitive schedule. I don’t know how it would rate on the RPI scale, but I assume high. Of course, we play in the NFCA Leadoff Classic, which is the best tournament in the country in my opinion. We’ll see a steady dose of competitive programs in that tournament for sure. Our Buzz Classic Tournament has gotten more competitive this year as well.”

“Right now, it’s hard for me to look much further than Chattanooga...honestly. Overall though, it will be a hard schedule with little or no breaks.”

Head Coach Ehren Earleywine - 2nd Season
Westminster College, 1994

The Earleywine File

Full Name: Ehren Earleywine
Birthdate: Nov. 4, 1970
Education: Westminster College, B.S. in business administration.
Coaching Background
2000-present: Head coach, Georgia Tech 2001-03: Assistant coach, Georgia Tech, top assistant in charge of hitters and fielders.
1997-99: Head coach (baseball), Westminster College, led team to conference title in 1999 and guided Blue Jays to an overall record of 65-44.
1994-97: Assistant coach (baseball), Westminster College, helped with fielders and hitters.

Playing Career
1998-2003: Member of Team USA men’s fastpitch team ... helped team win Gold in 2002 Pan Am qualifier and guided Team USA to a Silver Medal in 2003 Pan Am Games ... Named co-captain for 2002 and 2003 ... Six-time ASA All-American selection and 1999 All-World selection by International Softball Congress.
1991-94: Three-year letterwinner at Westminster College ... Holds seven school records.
1990-91: One-year letterwinner at Southwest Missouri State.

Ehren Earleywine enters his second season as head coach of the Georgia Tech softball program.

Prior to attaining the head coaching position, Earleywine was the top assistant coach for two seasons.

In his first season, Earleywine led the Yellow Jackets to 47 wins and their third straight NCAA Tournament appearance. The Jackets received an at-large bid to the NCAA-Athens Regional as the No. 3 seed, the highest ever by a Tech squad.

At the Athens Regional, Tech defeated UMass, 1-0, in the opener and stunned No. 10 Georgia, 3-2, in the second round. The Jackets were then defeated by No. 1 seed Washington, 2-0, and dropped a second game to the Bulldogs to finish third in the NCAA Regional with a 2-2 mark.

Prior to the NCAA Tournament, Earleywine guided the Rambling Wreck to their second Atlantic Coast Conference Championship game appearance in three seasons. In the title game, Tech dropped a tough 3-1 decision to No. 4 Florida State, in Tallahassee, Fla. The Jackets won a tripleheader on Saturday to reach the finals with wins over Virginia, (.712).

The Rambling Wreck also played one of the toughest schedules in the country. The Jackets faced eight of the final 16 teams remaining in the NCAA Regionals and three that advanced to the College World Series; Florida State, Michigan and Washington.

Earleywine also led Tech to five wins over opponents that ended the season nationally ranked, the most ever by a Jacket squad. The Rambling Wreck defeated No. 10 Louisiana-Lafayette (4-1), No. 11 Georgia (3-2), No. 13 Alabama (1-0), No. 14 Nebraska (1-0) and No. 25 Fresno State (9-1).

Another first for the Jackets was a victory over a Top 10 opponent, which Tech accomplished twice in 2004, defeating then-No. 9 Louisiana-Lafayette, 4-1, on Feb. 8, and downing the 10th-ranked Bulldogs, 3-2, on May 21.

Junior Jessica Sallinger became just the third Tech softball player to earn NFCA All-America honors, finishing on the third team.

This being his fourth season overall with the Georgia Tech softball program, the Jackets have broken a total of 18 hitting records, including two in 2004; walks (213) and on base percentage (.355). Tech also set a new single-season record with 89 stolen bases in ‘04.

Along with breaking three school records, the Yellow Jackets smacked 36 home runs, 74 doubles, drove in a total of 227 runs and scored 264 runs in ’04, all ranking second all-time in program history.

Since joining the Tech program, Earleywine has led the Rambling Wreck to 137 wins, one ACC title, two ACC title game appearances and a NCAA Regional finals appearance, coming within one win of making their first trip to a College World Series in ‘02. The Jackets have not finished worse than fourth at any of the three NCAA Regionals they have participated in.

While serving as the top assistant coach in 2002 and ‘03, Earleywine guided the Tech hitters to 16 records and two ACC records. As the infield coach, Earleywine tutored the Jackets to a school record .374 fielding percentage in 2002, fourth best in the NCAA. Georgia Tech’s defense led the conference in both the 2002 and ‘03 seasons.

A standout in men’s major fastpitch softball, Earleywine was a four-time member of Team USA (1998, ‘99, 2002, ‘03), including being named captain for his final two seasons with the national team.

In 2002, Team USA captured its first-ever Gold Medal in the Pan Am Qualifier, where he hit .429. At the 2003 Pan Am Games, hosted by the Dominican Republic, Earleywine helped lead Team USA to a Silver Medal.

A six-time ASA All-American, Earleywine was an All-World selection in 1999 by the International Softball Congress.

Prior to Tech, Earleywine was an assistant baseball coach at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi in 2000. He guided the Islander offense to a team batting average of .322 in their inaugural baseball season.

Before Texas A&M-Corpus Christi, Earleywine was head coach at Westminster College from 1997-99. He led the Blue Jays to an overall record of 65-44 during his stint and a conference title in his final season.

Earleywine also served as an assistant coach at Westminster from 1994-97, under the guidance of former Major League Baseball outfielder, Phil Bradley.

As a collegiate baseball player, Earleywine played one season at Southwest Missouri State before transferring to Westminster College for the remainder of his collegiate career. During his three seasons for the Blue Jays, he broke seven school records and became a two-time all-conference honoree.

Earleywine earned a bachelor’s degree in business administration from Westminster College in 1994.

A native of Jefferson City, Mo., Ehren and his wife Lisa, reside in Atlanta with their two-year old son Connor.

THE ULTIMATE TROPHY: A DEGREE

U.S. News & World Report ranks Georgia Tech among the nation's Top 10 public universities

Georgia Tech's College of Engineering ranks among the Top Five nationally in the U.S. News & World Report rankings. Tech's Industrial and Systems Engineering ranks No. 1 in the nation.

Among public universities, Georgia Tech ranks second in the nation in SAT scores of incoming students and first in alumni giving rate.

Diversity is the key to creative thinking, innovation and problem solving in a global environment, and Georgia Tech is the national leader in graduating African-American, Hispanic and female engineers.

All five seniors off the 2004 softball team earned their degrees by December of 2004.

GEORGIA TECH YELLOW JACKETS
All-Around Excellence

Two-time Olympian Vesna Stojanovska (left), Georgia Tech's first All-American in women's swimming, represented Macedonia in the 2000 and 2004 Olympic Games.

Honorable Mention All-American Roberto Castro (below) was one of four Georgia Tech freshmen to earn ACC Rookie of the Year honors in 2004.

Quarterback Reggie Ball (left) was one of a pair of Georgia Tech athletes to earn Freshman All-America honors in 2004.

Georgia Tech record-holder Montrell Person (left) earned All-America honors and was the ACC champion in the 110m Hurdles.
2004 NCAA High Jump Champion Chaunte Howard (left) earned two of Georgia Tech's five 2004 ACC Player of the Year Awards in Indoor and Outdoor Track.

Lynnette Moster (left) became the first two-time All-American in Georgia Tech volleyball history and was one of 19 Yellow Jackets to earn All-America honors in 2004.

Steven Blackwood (above) was named to the 2004 All-ACC team and was one of nine Georgia Tech athletes to earn CoSIDA Academic All-District honors.

Fifteen of 17 Georgia Tech teams advanced to postseason play, including the men's basketball team that advanced to the championship game in the NCAA Tournament.

All-American Jessica Sallinger (left) helped the Tech softball team to its third consecutive NCAA appearance in 2004. Sallinger was also one of 65 All-Atlantic Coast Conference selections in 2004.
Georgia Tech’s outstanding facilities for student-athletes include the Edge Athletics Center, the Andrew Hearn, Sr. Academic Center and the Homer Rice Center for Sports Performance.
The Ramblin' Wreck Fight Song

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech,
and a hell of an engineer.
A helluva, helluva, helluva, helluva, hell of an engineer.
Like all the jolly good fellows, I drink my whiskey clear.
I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech,
and a hell of an engineer.

Oh, if I had a daughter, sir, I'd dress her in white and gold.
And put her on the campus to cheer the brave and bold.
But, if I had a son, sir, I'll tell you what he'd do.
He would yell "To Hell with Georgia" like his daddy used to do.

Oh, I wish I had a barrel of rum and glue three thousand pounds.
A college bell to put it in and a clapper to stir it around.
I'd drink to all good fellows who come from far and near.
I'm a ramblin', gamblin', hell of an engineer."

The Yellow Jacket Marching Band

(above) performs at halftime of every Georgia Tech home football and a smaller "Pep Squad" is in attendance at every home women's basketball game.

Buzz

The Yellow Jacket nickname and mascot are two of the most beloved trademarks of Georgia Tech athletic teams. The origin is unknown, but one thing is clear, the nickname did not grow out of the familiar six-legged insect, but that the mascot, known as "Buzz", grew out of the nickname.

"I'm a Ramblin' Wreck from Georgia Tech..."

It was Sept. 30, 1961. The opponent was Rice University for the home opener.
For the first time, the official Rambling Wreck car was unveiled to 43,501 fans at Grant Field, leading the Georgia Tech football team onto the field. It has happened at every home game since. The event did not establish a new tradition, but it cemented one. The restored 1930 Model A Ford Sport Coupe was Tech's first official Rambling Wreck, and it was an instant success.
Homecoming Displays
Each year during Homecoming Week, campus fraternities and sororities spend hours designing and building murals which are displayed in front of their houses for judging.

The Swarm
Made up entirely of Georgia Tech students, "The Swarm" can be found in their bright yellow t-shirts in prime seating locations at every home football, volleyball and men's basketball game.

"T"ech Tower
One of the most popular pranks for Tech students to accomplish is the stealing of the "T", which sits upon the side of the Tech Tower on campus.

George P. Burdell
In 1927, a mythical student named George P. Burdell appeared on class rosters, registration forms and grade reports. He has since become one of Tech's most notable students.
Burdell was the creation of Ed Smith, who actually turned in separate exams for him, convincing professors that Burdell was a student in good standing.
Burdell received a bachelor's and later a master's degree from Tech. Since Smith's graduation, students have kept George P. Burdell alive at Tech, including the Georgia Tech band (right) who has him paged at every away football game during the season.

The Whistle
Heard throughout Tech's campus five minutes before the hour from 6:55 a.m. until 5:55 p.m., the blowing of the campus whistle signifies the beginning and end of each class period.

Mini 500
On the evening prior to the Homecoming football game, various student organizations compete in the "Mini 500". In the four-person relay race, students must complete a lap around Peters Parking Deck using only one leg to push themselves on their team's homemade tricycle.

GEORGIA TECH YELLOW JACKETS
Georgia Tech's new Technology Square is a lively, mixed-use development that extends the campus right into the middle of the Midtown Atlanta business community. The complex is home to the new Management building.

To shape a campus worthy of its aspirations, Georgia Tech continues to build innovative, state-of-the-art facilities.

Tech boasts outstanding housing facilities. Dormitories feature apartment-style accommodations with private bathroom, kitchen and sitting area in each suite.
