Spir and Hundal Reach Quarterfinals of NCAA Doubles Championship

Georgia Tech’s doubles team of Juan Spir and Vikram Hundal advanced the quarterfinals of the NCAA Doubles Championship Friday, losing in straight sets to Mississippi at the Khan Outdoor Tennis Complex/Atkins Tennis Center in Urbana, Ill.

The Tech tandem, ranked 9th in the nation in the final ITA rankings, lost, 6-2, 6-4 to the nation’s 3rd-ranked team of Jonas Lutjen and Nik Scholtz of Mississippi, bringing their season to an end with a 20-6 record.

Spir became an ITA All-American for the third time, an automatic honor when a team reaches the NCAA quarterfinals, and Hundal for the first time by reaching the quarterfinals.

Spir and Hundal, a sophomore from Alpharetta, Ga., joined forces in the fall to play in the USTA/ITA Southeast Regional and won the title the first time they played together competitively. They went on to win the consolation draw at the USTA/ITA National Indoor Championships. They went 13-2 in tournament play, and were 7-3 at the top of Tech’s doubles lineup in dual matches before Hundal sustained a knee injury at the end of February. At that point they reached their season-high national ranking of No. 3.

Spir completed a career as the most accomplished doubles player in Tech history. He partnered with Kevin King to win 75 matches in two-plus years before this season. Spir has been involved in a Tech-record 103 doubles victories in his career. He was 4-2 in NCAA doubles competition with King, reaching the semifinals in 2011. They are the only Tech team to reach the semifinals of the NCAA Championship.

Singles Update

Seniors Juan Spir (12-9) and Juan Melian (11-9) played 1-2 in the Tech lineup all season long. Melian had a hot hand early in the year, winning seven straight matches at one point. Spir got hot at the end of the year, winning six of his last seven matches, including an upset of the nation’s top-ranked player, Virginia’s Alex Domijan, and is 8-2 in conference play, and earned a bid to the NCAA Singles Championship, where he lost in the opening round.

Since Hundal was hurt on Feb. 28, sophomore Eduardo Segura (9-13 in dual matches) and freshman Nathan Rakitt have shared time at the No. 3 spot. Rakitt has been a beacon for the future, going 6-4 in ACC matches, 8-4 at the No. 4 spot, while compiling a team-high 22 singles wins.

Hundal, 5-5 in dual matches before he was injured, returned to the lineup at Clemson on April 19. A trio of freshmen and sophomores have struggled in the bottom two spots.

Tech was 10-12 at No. 1 singles this spring, 15-7 at No. 2. The Jackets also had a winning mark (12-7) at No. 4, where freshman Rakitt has played 12 of his matches.

Doubles Update

Spir and Hundal went 11-1 in tournament play and captured the USTA/ITA South Regional in the fall, and were 7-2 in dual matches in the spring before Hundal was injured. Since then Tech has struggled to win the doubles point, and only Melian and Rakitt (7-6 at No. 2, 2-1 at No. 1) have remained consistent.

Tech won the doubles point in seven of its first 10 matches when Hundal and Spir played together and went 7-2 themselves. After that, Tech won the doubles point three times (Kennesaw State, Miami, Boston College). Tech was 7-3 this spring when winning the doubles point, including a 1-1 mark in ACC matches.

Team Update

Georgia Tech finished the season 8-16 overall and 1-9 in Atlantic Coast Conference play (10th place) following a 4-0 loss to 7th-seeded Florida State in the ACC Championship at the Cary (N.C.) Tennis Center.

Tech has never won an ACC title in men’s tennis, but the Yellow Jackets have reached the finals of the ACC Championship, which has been conducted in its current format since 1986, four times (1988, 1994, 1999 and 2002).

Tech began the spring ranked No. 59, anchored by a pair of seniors in Juan Spir and Juan Melian, but struggled early against a slate of top 20 opponents and won only one ACC match (6-1 over Boston College), falling out of the ITA rankings altogether. The Yellow Jackets played nearly the entire ACC schedule without sophomore Vikram Hundal (knee), their No. 3 singles player and half of one of the nation’s best doubles teams, and relied heavily on freshmen and sophomores.

Among Tech’s losses in conference play were three 4-3 contests, and the Yellow Jackets’ best wins came against No. 61 Georgia State and No. 62 North Florida at a time when Hundal was healthy and the Jackets were ranked in the 60s.

Tech Recruiting Class Ranked 11th

Georgia Tech’s men’s tennis recruiting class for 2013, which includes blue-chip prospect Will Showers from Atlanta, has been ranked the 11th-best in the nation according to a group of experts impaneled by the Tennis Recruiting Network.

Showers, who plays out of the Tennis Academy of the South and is ranked the No. 19 prospect nationally, highlights the Yellow Jackets’ incoming group that also includes Cole Fiegel of Alachua, Fla., ranked 138th nationally, and Carlos Benito of Madrid, Spain, ranked 85th in Spain by the International Tennis Federation.

The freshman trio beefs up a Tech roster that returns three juniors and two sophomores from last year’s team, which began competing in January in the brand-new, state-of-the-art Ken Byers Tennis Complex, which includes six indoor and six outdoor competition courts, as well as four outdoor practice courts.

The Atlantic Coast Conference and the Ivy League each have five representatives in the rankings. The ACC has three teams in the Top 10: top-ranked Virginia, the No. 3 North Carolina Tar Heels, and the No. 6 Florida State Seminoles. Other ACC programs in rankings are Georgia Tech (No. 11) and Wake Forest (21).

Showers, who is completing his studies through St. Petersburg College and the Florida Virtual School, plays out of the Tennis Academy of the South. He was ranked 11th in the Southeast and No. 2 in Georgia, having built a 66-15 record over the past year, including an 8-8 mark against other Blue Chip players and a 27-6 record against 5-star players. He was listed No. 6 on the Tennis RPI rankings.

Among Showers’ tournament highlights are reaching the round of 16 of main draw at the USTA Spring Nationals in March 2013, winning the NCAA Regional National in January 2013 and the USTA Southern Bullfrog in November 2012.

Fiegel, who attends Gainesville High School in Florida, had a three-star rating and was ranked as high as No. 81 earlier this year, according to TennisRecruiting.net, but injuries limited his playing opportunities. Despite that, he was undefeated over the past year against players at his level and below, won the Deerfield Fall Super Series and reached the semifinals of another Super Series event in Gainesville before retiring due to illness.

Benito, the 85th-ranked player in Spain and No. 168 among juniors by the International Tennis Federation played for the Spanish junior national team as an under-18, under-16 and under-14 player. He had a ATP world ranking of 1485 in singles, and has been as high as 1475. He helped Spain win 2010 World Championship in the Czech Republic, and was the 2010 singles world champion of Nike Junior Masters Tournament in the Dominican Republic.

Kay Transfers from Georgia

Casey Kay, formerly ranked No. 24 in the nation by the Tennis Recruiting Network, transferred from the University of Georgia and joined Georgia Tech’s tennis team at the beginning of the fall term.

Kay, an Atlanta resident, went 8-7 for the Bulldogs last fall but played only two matches in the spring. He went 5-6 in doubles. A member of the SEC Academic Honor Roll, Kay reached the quarterfinals of the Southern Intercollegiate Championships and the consolation quarterfinals of the USTA/ITA Southeast Regional, both of which were held in Athens. Before enrolling at Georgia, he was ranked No. 1 in the South for three straight years and won the doubles titles at two USTA National Opens.

Kay joins a Tech team that returns five letterwinners from the 2012-13 season and has three incoming freshmen in a recruiting class ranked 11th nationally.

A lot of history was made in the Bill Moore Tennis Center. Some of the greatest players in Georgia Tech history took to those courts and improved their games to the point they could reach the pro tour.

Current Georgia Tech men’s tennis head coach Kenny Thorne is one of those. He played AND coached there in his four decorated years on the Flats (1985-89).

Last January, Thorne witnessed the opening of the Ken Byers Tennis Complex, as the women’s tennis team opened the facility with a match against Syracuse and men’s team opened a day later against Old Dominion. In a way, it was deja vu for Thorne, who was a freshman the year the Moore Center opened.

“It’s just a very unique thing. It’s an honor to be coaching here at this time, and it’s an honor for all of our student-athletes to have opened a new facility,” said the 1989 graduate and 1995 Georgia Tech Sports Hall of Fame inductee. “That doesn’t happen too often in any sport. It’s very exciting.”

Women’s head coach Rodney Harmon, whose team played the first matches on the brand new six-court facility, who was beginning his first season on the Flats, has been around the sport long enough to know something special when he sees it. He’s seen it with the Byers Complex.

Ground was broken for the facility on June 15, 2012 and was made possible by a generous gift from alumnus Ken Byers (class of ’66) and his wife, Trish.

“It’s going to be beautiful and it’s going to help both our men’s and women’s programs stay a factor with the other schools, in our very, very tough conference,” said Harmon, who has been in tennis player development for more than 25 years and, as a pro, reached the quarterfinals at the 1982 U.S. Open. "It has a great feeling, which I think will help us set up a home-court advantage because a lot of our fans tend to be very vocal and really support our team.”

As advantageous to the team is the amount of space. Off the court, Byers has bigger locker rooms, a lounge, a training facility and more office space for the coaching staffs. The number of available courts for play inside doubled from three to six.

“I think it’s going to be big for us,” Harmon said, “It allows us to compete year-round, and when the weather gets inclement, both teams have a place to play. We’ve always had to play outside, and it can get pretty cold sometimes. Now we’re going to be able to play indoors and really get prepared for the indoor season, which starts in February.”

The doubling of the court space was a key factor in building the new complex.

“You need space and you need quality space and if that means new or renovations then so be it,” said former associate athletic director Paul Griffin. “Now, we have an efficient way of running our indoor matches, and because of the weather you wind up playing almost half of your matches indoors be it for wet or for cold.”

Thorne and Harmon agree that the opening of the Byers Complex signals the start of big things ahead. Thorne compares the anticipation of the facility’s opening to the buzz surrounding the opening of McCamish Pavilion and expects Tech tennis fans to be as energized as basketball fans.

“It’s such a big change and ours is a total change,” said Thorne. “It’s a whole brand-new complex. There are some really exciting things happening. So hopefully it’s going to draw a lot more people out. They come see the facility as well as some great tennis.”

Harmon expects the facility to also draw some big-name recruits.

“It’s going to give us an opportunity to recruit top-level athletes because now a lot of the top schools have new facilities around the country, whether it’s Alabama or Florida State or South Carolina, Texas is getting a new facility built,” he said, “So now we have a new facility, it’s something that to our recruits that makes us a lot stronger.”

The Byers Complex, built on the same footprint where the Moore Center stood, is light years ahead of its predecessor and was overdue as far as keeping Tech’s programs current. The ingenuity in building a facility that could fit so much more into the same space as its predecessor made this project design uniquely Tech.

The former three-court indoor tennis facility was replaced with a state-of-the-art six-court indoor facility. The new steel indoor facility is located next to Tenth Street, just behind the magnolias. It features an entrance lobby, men’s and women’s coaches offices, men’s and women’s locker rooms and a team lounge. The indoor facility retains the Bill Moore name and provides seating a little more than 200 spectators.

The outdoor part of the complex consists of six competition courts on the south end of the site and four practice courts located between the indoor facility and the competition courts. A landscaped courtyard area was added between the practice courts and Fowler Street. Outdoor seating, situated between the Griffin Track and the completion courts, provides a view of both competition on the track and action on the tennis courts and includes plenty of space for wheelchair seating. Additionally, an East-West Connector provides a lighted walkway for pedestrians along the track-side of the site to facilitate movement between the North Campus Parking Deck and the McCamish Pavilion.

“Thirty years is a long time,” said Griffin. “It’s not a matter of different inclusions. It’s a matter of improved space. It’s a tight footprint. The real estate didn’t change, so we had to make some compromises on that and one of the other things was to relocate the indoor facility to the 10th street side of the real estate because it will serve as a buffer from the noise and street from 10th street for the outdoor courts that wasn’t there before. So there are a lot of those kinds of features that are now a benefit for the program.”

“It has a bunch of other features that are assets to the Institute and to athletics in other ways than just tennis,” he added. “There’s a seating area for track, a pathway from the parking lot to McCamish Pavilion (Tech’s basketball arena across Fowler Street), a parking lot on Atlantic to McCamish, improved sidewalks and streetscapes. So it’s a very comprehensive project.”

For the school, it’s the latest improvement to the campus’ Fowler Street entrance, which also includes Mewborn Softball Field and the Brock Indoor Football Facility.

That exciting plan will continue to evolve in years to come. The tennis teams are thrilled to be part of it and are eager to do their part to stir up excitement around campus as they begin spring play.

“It is a tremendous commitment,” said Harmon. “That whole side of campus, with the new basketball arena, with the tennis facility, with the track and the indoor football complex and baseball and softball, it’s now a great corner of campus.”
Head Coach Kenny Thorne

16th Year at Tech • 10 NCAA Tournaments • 189-159 record

Kenny Thorne recorded one of the most successful tennis careers by a player from the state of Georgia, winning seven pro titles and defeating four of the world’s top-10 players in the 1990’s. Some of Thorne’s notable victories include wins over Richard Krajicek, Wayne Ferreira, Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin. As a pro, he achieved his highest singles ranking of No. 121 and a doubles ranking of No. 67. Thorne brings his love of tennis and impressive professional playing experience to his alma mater, Georgia Tech.

Charged with building the Georgia Tech tennis program back to the level it was when he was a player, Thorne was named to the newly-created position of Director of Tennis on June 30, 1998, becoming the ninth head coach in Tech men’s tennis history.

Thorne took over the reins of the Tech program after spending one season as the team’s assistant coach and wasted little time in taking steps toward his ultimate goal of turning the Yellow Jackets into a perennial contender.

The Yellow Jackets have reached the NCAA Championship 10 times in his 15 years at the helm. After a two-year absence, the 2010 and 2011 teams reached the second and third rounds of the tournament, respectively, finished fourth in the Atlantic Coast Conference (15-7 record), and posted a combined 39-14 dual match record.

Thought the Yellow Jackets have not played in the NCAA Championship as a team the last two years, Thorne has helped develop the best doubles player in Tech history, Juan Spir, who advanced to the NCAA Doubles Championship semifinals in 2012 and quarterfinals in 2013 with different partners. Spir and Kevin King, Spir’s doubles partner for 75 of his Tech-record 103 victories, have each played in the NCAA Singles Championship as well.

Tech’s 2011 team finished the year ranked 13th in the nation and reached the round of 16 at the NCAA Championship, both high-water marks for Tech tennis under Thorne. Tech’s 21 wins in 2011 were the most for the Jackets under Thorne and the second most in the history of the program.

As a result, the Tech alum was named the ITA National Coach of the Year, becoming only the fourth Georgia Tech head coach ever to receive such an honor.

Thorne rebuilt the Tech squad around four-time All-ACC honoree Guillermo Gomez, who was named the ACC Player of the Year in 2011 and earned ITA All-American honors three times, and broke Thorne’s record for career singles victories. He also recruited another pair of ITA All-Americans in Kevin King and Juan Spir, who formed one of the top 10 doubles teams nationally and developed into top-of-the-lineup players in singles, both earning NCAA bids in 2012.

The 2007 squad overcame some major adversity to earn its eighth NCAA Tournament bid in nine seasons. Thorne’s team finished the season with a 12-10 record. In 2005, Tech had a doubles team compete in the NCAA Doubles Championship for the first time since 1994 and also had an individual compete in the NCAA Singles Championship. Thorne would also receive an at-large bid to the NCAA Tournament, where it fell to Vanderbilt in the first round by a score of 4-3. Jose Muguruza advanced to the Round of 32 while the doubles team of North and Rajevac, who earned an at-large bid into the tournament, advanced to the quarterfinals and earned All-American honors. North and Rajevac become the fourth players that Thorne has coached to receive All-American accolades.

During the 2004 season, Tech reached the NCAA Tournament and had an individual compete in the NCAA Singles Championship. After opening the dual-match season with a 5-0 record, the Yellow Jackets fell to three ranked opponents, but then regrouped to win five consecutive matches, including wins against Minnesota and Oregon and conference foes Wake Forest and...
Clemson. After dropping tough matches to Virginia and Georgia, Tech finished out the regular season winning five of six matches, including a 5-2 win over Florida State and a 4-3 come from behind match at South Carolina.

During the 2003 campaign, Georgia Tech earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament and climbed into the 14th spot in the national rankings midway through the year. The Jackets also boasted their first All-America honorees since 1988, as the doubles team of Roger Anderson and Scott Schnugg earned the honor after finishing the year as the country’s 10th-ranked tandem. Anderson also earned All-ACC honors after winning the league’s Flight One Doubles title. Tech finished with a 12-10 record and notched seven wins over ranked opponents, including a 4-2 victory over ninth-ranked Texas on February 16.

In 2002, Tech defeated eight ranked teams and reached the finals of the ACC Championship, en route to a 15-11 dual-match record, while also reaching the NCAA Tournament for the third time in four years under Thorne. In the ACC Tournament, the Jackets upset top-seeded and 14th-ranked Duke in the semifinals by a 4-0 score and ended the Blue Devils four-year reign as ACC Champions. On an individual level, Roger Anderson earned All-ACC honors for the second time and earned his first berth in the NCAA Individual Championship, becoming the first Tech player to do so since 1999.

During the 2000-01 season, Thorne made great strides toward achieving his goal. When the Yellow Jackets climbed to No. 20 in the national rankings in his goal. When the Yellow Jackets climbed to No. 20 in the national rankings on April 11, they claimed their highest ranking since 1988, when Thorne was an All-American and team captain.

Thorne led the 2001 Yellow Jackets to the second round of the NCAA Tournament. Roger Anderson earned All-Atlantic Coast Conference honors and sophomore Sergio Aguirre also won the ACC Flight title at No. 3 doubles. Senior Benjamin Cassaigne was named the ACC Player of the Year, an All-American in 1988, Thorne earned an Industrial Engineering degree from Tech in 1989 and was inducted into the Georgia Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995. Thorne earned his first ACC Rookie of the Year honors after leading the Yellow Jackets with a 24-8 singles record, including a 15-5 mark in dual matches.

In his first year as head coach in 1999, Thorne earned ACC Coach of the Year honors after guiding the Yellow Jackets to a second-place tie in the regular-season conference standings, a runner-up finish at the ACC Tournament, an NCAA Regional berth and a final national ranking of 32 by the Intercollegiate Tennis Association (ITA).

Senior Benjamin Cassaigne was named the ACC Player of the Year, earned all-conference honors and captured the ACC Flight Championship at No. 1 singles under Thorne’s guidance. Fellow senior Matt Cozad was also named all-ACC and won the ACC Flight Championship at No. 2 singles. Cozad and sophomore Sergio Aguirre also won the ACC Flight title at No. 3 doubles.

With Tech’s 1999 NCAA Regional berth, Thorne became the first person in ACC history and just the second nationally, joining LSU’s Jeff Brown, to lead at least one school to post-season competition as a player, assistant coach and head coach since the current NCAA team dual-match format was instituted in 1977. Prior to 1977, team finishes were determined by an accumulation of points based on individual play.) Thorne helped Tech to NCAA play as a senior in 1988, as an assistant coach in 1998 and as head coach in 1999.

Thorne earned an Industrial Engineering degree from Tech in 1989 and during his four seasons as a player from 1985-88, the Jackets posted a 70-38 dual-match record and a 20-7 ACC mark, including wins over nationally-ranked foes such as Georgia and Clemson in 1988, his final season. Tech climbed as high as 10th in the ITA national rankings during Thorne’s senior season before the Jackets ended the year ranked 12th nationally.

He qualified for the NCAA singles tournament in 1986 and 1988 and advanced to the second round on both occasions. Thorne also competed in the 1988 NCAA doubles tourney with partner Bryan Shelton. After turning professional in 1989, Thorne spent eight years on the tour, achieving his highest singles ranking of 121 and doubles ranking of 67 in the world. He was also a six-time participant at Wimbledon, the U.S. Open, French Open and Australian Open.

Thorne’s best career wins were over 1996 Wimbledon champion Richard Krajicek, ATP No. 11 Wayne Ferreira, Australia’s Mark Philippoussis and Todd Martin of the United States. He posted two career ATP doubles titles, one career Challenger singles title and four career Challenger doubles titles.

An All-American in 1988, Thorne finished his Georgia Tech playing career as a four-time All-ACC honoree and the career leader in singles victories with 112. He was also a two-time captain and an Academic All-ACC honoree. Thorne was inducted into the Georgia Tech Athletic Hall of Fame in 1995.

Thorne married former Yellow Jacket cross country standout and Tech Hall of Fame inductee, Bridget Koster, in 1990. The couple has two daughters, Rachel and Kenedy, and two sons, Zachary and Daniel.

Final team ranking from Intercollegiate Tennis Association
A n assistant coach for the men’s tennis program at Fresno State two years, Derek Schwandt joined the Georgia Tech men’s tennis program in July of 2012.

In his two years at Fresno State, Schwandt helped the Bulldogs win two straight Western Athletic Conference regular season and tournament championships and rise to No. 14 in the Intercollegiate Tennis Association rankings last year.

In his first year at Tech, he has helped the Yellow Jackets secure the nation’s 11th-ranked recruiting class, according to the Tennis Recruiting Network.

“It’s an honor to have the opportunity to work with Kenny Thorne at one of the best universities and athletic programs in the country,” said Schwandt. “This is something that I’ve been working towards, and a lot of people have helped me get to this point in my coaching career. I’m very excited about our team’s potential at Georgia Tech, and I’m looking forward to training hard and competing in the ACC and NCAA.”

Tech’s new assistant coach was heavily involved in all aspects of the Fresno State program, from coaching to recruiting, travel, budgeting, conditioning and directing ITA events. The Bulldogs’ team grade-point average exceeded 3.3 during each of his two years, and five members of the team made the All-WAC Academic team.

“Derek is one of the hardest workers I have been around, which fits in well with our expectations for staff and team,” said Thorne. “He brings a great deal of knowledge and experience from his two years coaching at UVA and two years at Fresno State. He has also worked at the Philadelphia USTA regional training center with some great coaches. He did a great job recruiting at Fresno State, so he will be instrumental in bringing in the best student-athletes that are champions on and off the court. Most importantly, Derek is a person with great integrity. Our program stands for and demands integrity on and off court. Derek will represent Georgia Tech well in all areas.”

Last season, the Bulldogs defeated No. 9 Stanford for the first time in program history, catapulting the team to No. 14 in the country. After winning a second consecutive WAC Tournament title, the Bulldogs went to their second straight NCAA Tournament and fell to No. 27 San Diego in the first round.

Under Schwandt’s leadership, Remi Boutillier and Francis Alcantara received bids to play in the NCAA Singles and Doubles Championships in 2012. There, No. 27 Boutillier advanced to the second round while No. 43 Alcantara fell in the first round. As a doubles team, they fell to Georgia Tech’s Kevin King and Juan Spir in the first round.

In 2011, he helped lead the Bulldogs to their first WAC Tournament title since 1999 and a No. 37 national team ranking. In the 2011 NCAA Tournament, Fresno State defeated No. 19 Minnesota in the first round before falling 4-3 to No. 14 Cal.

From 2008-2010, Schwandt was the volunteer assistant coach for top ranked Virginia. There, he received full-time experience in running practice sessions, coaching in dual-matches, recruiting, administration and directing ITA fall tournaments.

During Schwandt’s time at UVA, the Cavaliers won the 2009 and 2010 ITA national team indoor championship, the 2009 and 2010 ACC champi-

They have become familiar faces within the Georgia Tech community. Students, alumni, faculty, staff, students, parents, and civic and government groups participate in campus and community events, meeting and working alongside.

Peterson came to Georgia Tech from the University of Colorado at Boulder, where he served as chancellor. Prior to that, he served as provost at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute in New York. He served on the faculty and in leadership positions at Texas A&M University for 19 years. He has worked for NASA and the National Science Foundation.

Throughout his career, Peterson has played an active role in helping to establish the national education and research agendas, serving on numerous industry, government and academic task forces and committees. A distinguished scientist, he was appointed in 2008 by U.S. President George W. Bush to serve through 2014 as a member of the National Science Board, which oversees the National Science Foundation (NSF) and advises the President and Congress on national policy related to science and engineering research and education.

In 2010 he was named by U.S. Secretary of Commerce Gary Locke as a member of the National Advisory Council on Innovation and Entrepreneurship. This group is focused on helping the U.S. develop policies that foster entrepreneurship and identify new ways to take innovations and creative ideas from the laboratory to the marketplace in order to create jobs, develop new businesses and drive economic growth.

In June 2011 he was named by President Barack Obama to the Advanced Manufacturing Partnership steering committee. The partnership is bringing together industry, universities and the federal government to identify and invest in the key emerging technologies to help U.S. manufacturers improve cost, quality and speed of production in order to remain globally competitive.

He is a fellow of both the American Society of Mechanical Engineers (ASME) and the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics (AIAA), and received the AIAA Distinguished Service Award for 2011. His research has focused on phase change heat transfer and spacecraft thermal control. He is widely published, authoring or co-authoring 16 books or book chapters, 200 refereed journal articles, and more than 140 conference publications. He also holds nine patents with two others pending.

Peterson earned a bachelor’s degree in mechanical engineering, a second bachelor’s degree in mathematics, and a master’s degree in mechanical engineering, all from Kansas State University. While an undergraduate at Kansas State, Peterson lettered three years as a tight end/wide receiver for the Wildcats football team. He earned a PhD in mechanical engineering from Texas A&M University.

President Peterson and Tech’s first lady, Valerie H. Peterson, actively participate in campus and community events, meeting and working alongside alumni, faculty, staff, students, parents, and civic and government groups. They have become familiar faces within the Georgia Tech community. Students might find them listening to a Yellow Jacket Marching Band performance after a game, supporting the swimming and diving team, or joining in a cleanup day in neighborhoods surrounding the campus. In addition, they have served as ambassadors for Georgia Tech throughout the state, the region, the nation, and even on Tech’s international campuses. The Petersons have been married for 38 years and have four adult children.

As the newest member of the Association of American Universities and a top ten public research university, Georgia Tech has outstanding programs in architecture, computing, engineering, liberal arts, management and the sciences. With more than 21,000 students and 130,000 living alumni who work in business, industry and government throughout the world, Tech has become internationally recognized for the quality of its educational and research programs.

Mike Bobinski, who has successfully directed athletic departments at Akron and Xavier for a combined 20 years and has worked as a collegiate athletics administrator for 30 years, embarks on his first year as director of athletics at the Georgia Institute of Technology.

Bobinski oversees an athletic department that includes 17 NCAA Division I varsity sports and is rich with athletic tradition and success. Bobinski, whose tenure officially began April 1, 2013, served as chair of the NCAA Division I Men’s Basketball Committee for the 2012-13 season. That successful role concluded with the 2013 Final Four, which coincidentally was held in Atlanta.

Bobinski came to Georgia Tech after serving 12 years as director of athletics at Cincinnati’s Xavier University, where he also served as associate vice president. He was hired as the Musketeers’ director of athletics in 1998 and remained in the role until 2004, when he was named associate vice president for development and oversaw all of the university’s fundraising efforts, including major gifts, grant services and annual and planned giving.

He returned as athletic director in 2006.

At Xavier, Bobinski headed an athletic program that strived to excel in the classroom as well as on the playing fields and courts. In 2012, Xavier ranked 11th nationally in Division I Graduation Success Rates at 97 percent. In June of 2012, the National Association of Collegiate Directors of Athletics named Bobinski the Under Armour Division I Northeast Athletic Director of the Year.

During his tenure, nine of Xavier’s teams and numerous individuals competed in NCAA championship competitions. That includes men’s basketball, which reached at least the NCAA Tournament Sweet 16 in four of the last six years. In the same time span, 25 Xavier teams captured Atlantic 10 Conference championships.

In men’s bas¬ketball, Xavier averaged 25 wins over Bobinski’s 12 years, and earned a spot in the NCAA Tournament 10 times. The Musketeers advanced to the Elite Eight in 2004 and 2008. In addition, men’s basketball extended its streak to 88 straight seniors that graduated. Women’s basketball made runs to the NCAA Elite Eight in 2001 and again in 2010 and in 2011 achieved its highest national ranking in program history at No. 4.

In 2009, Bobinski hired Chris Mack as men’s basketball head coach. He also hired Thad Matta as head men’s basketball coach in 2001 and Sean Miller as Xavier’s first associate head coach. Matta is now head coach at Ohio State and Miller has since taken over as head coach at Arizona. Bobinski also hired former women’s basketball coach Kevin McGuff, who spent nine years at Xavier and is now head coach at Ohio State. He also oversaw the opening of The Cintas Center and other significant facility projects, including upgrades to soccer and baseball venues and the development of a golf practice facility.

Prior to joining Xavier, Bobinski served as the University of Akron’s athletic director from 1994 to 1998. From 1989 to 1994, he was the associate director of athletics at the U.S. Naval Academy. Prior to that, Bobinski served as the associate and assistant business manager at the University of Notre Dame from 1984 to 1989.

As a licensed certified public accountant, he first went into accounting with Deloitte, Haskins and Sells and Arthur Young & Company from 1979-82. He also worked for the Walt Disney Company in Orlando from 1982-84 before moving into college athletics at UND in 1984.

Bobinski was hired at Georgia Tech following a three-month, nationwide search. A seven-member committee led by Stephen P. Zelnak Jr. advised Peterson and identified candidates. Bobinski took over for Dan Radakovich, who resigned in November (2012).

A native of Yaphank on Long Island, N.Y., Bobinski received his bachelor of business administration from Notre Dame in 1979, graduating magna cum laude, while playing four years for the Fighting Irish baseball team.

Bobinski has two children, Melissa, a 2009 Xavier graduate, and Brian, a 2012 Ohio State graduate.
