CAMPUS SERVICES LOVES STUDENTS WEEK

Campus Services Loves Students Week is an annual event when all Campus Services’ departments share information with students about their departments and give away mementoes. This year’s event held February 11-18 included the following giveaways.

Chun Chum (Exchange Student) won Campus Services’ drawing for a Mini iPad during Campus Services Loves Students week. Chun Chum is pictured here with Paul A. Strouts, Vice President, Campus Services.

Other recipients of Campus Services Loves Students Week included:

- Kimbuu Dang (Biomedical major) won Housing’s prize of $1500 towards his spring housing fee.
- Xinbei Guan (Environmental Engineering major), Lily Nguyen (Mechanical Engineering major), and Arlette DeSantiago (graduate student, Environmental Engineering major) received parking permit discounts ranging from $50-100.
from Parking and Transportation Services.

- Vijayeetha Ramesh (Biomedical Engineering major), April Teo (Exchange Student), and Seung Mok (Mechanical Engineering major) received $25 dining gift card prizes from Georgia Tech Dining.
- Nellie Wong (Industrial Engineering major), Alexandra Gaigelas (Industrial Engineering major) and Pisharmon Pintavorn (International Affairs and Modern Language major) got $25-50 bonus deposits onto their BuzzCards.
- Kathryn Stoklosa (Economics major), Kimberly Hurst (Biology major) and Asim Rahman (Aerospace Engineering major) were the winners of Georgia Tech Dining gift cards from Stamps Health Services.

GEORGIA TECH DINING SERVICES

MEAL PLANS
- Total Meal Plan sales for Spring Semester was 7,729 (up 8.5% from Spring Semester 2012).

MYFITNESS PAL APP
- Implemented MyFitnessPal App for iPhone and Android phones for Georgia Tech Dining Services’ recipes.
- Full rollout planned for Fall Semester with bar code on nutritional signage for each dining hall.

NEW DINING LOCATIONS
- Georgia Tech Dining Services opened its Burger Bytes in the Student Center Commons near Chick-fil-A, February 2013.
- The Highland Bakery opened in the Bradley Building (formerly Junior’s Grill location) the end of March and by April it was voted by The Technique as the best food on campus.

Campus Services and Georgia Tech Cable Network (GTCN) created a video to encourage people to visit the newest food eatery on campus, Highland Bakery. No encouragement was needed, however, as it opened to crowds of people Spring Semester. The Georgia Tech location surpassed sales from the Highland Bakery’s original location in Buckhead during April.

HOUSING
- Occupancy for Spring Semester 2013 – 97.66% (up 2% from Spring Semester 2012)
- For the first time, students were able to login to MYHOUSING and assign themselves to a room.

HUMAN RESOURCES

SUMMER CAMP RESOURCE GUIDE

Human Resources developed a summer camp resource guide, which compiled all of the on-campus camps/programs for elementary, middle and high school students in one place. In addition, a comprehensive database of nearly 1,000 camps in the Atlanta area could be accessed by Georgia Tech employees. The online database, located at www.ohr.gatech.edu/summercamps/database, allowed users multiple ways to search for the perfect camp (by age of child, camp specialty and location). Faculty and staff looking for summer camps could visit www.ohr.gatech.edu/summercamps to find resources on Georgia Tech summer camps and camps throughout the metro-Atlanta area.

TUITION ASSISTANCE WORKSHOPS

Human Resources offered tuition assistance workshops to faculty and staff during the semester. Participants had an opportunity to learn about the educational assistance programs offered by the Institute. These programs provided a tuition and mandatory fee waiver or reimbursement to employees.

HR BUSINESS PARTNER MODEL

In January, Human Resources officially launched the new HR Business Partner model. During the spring semester, two business partners were hired in order to execute HR strategies across campus and support business leaders and managers by improving the workplace environment through pre-emptive methods.

STAFF AWARDS

Human Resources led the nomination, communication and selection efforts of the staff awards for 2013. Nominations for seven awards were communicated to the campus. A total of 35 individuals or groups were nominated for the awards. Recipients were recognized during the 2013 Faculty and Staff Honors Luncheon.

SERVICE AWARDS RECEPTION

Human Resources and Institute Communications worked together to host a separate service recognition reception for 2013. Faculty and staff members with 10 and 25 years of service were recognized at both the reception and the annual Faculty and Staff Honors Luncheon. The separate reception was an effort to further recognize this significant service to the Institute.

VOLUNTEER TAX ASSISTANCE

Global HR in cooperation with the Office of International Education conducted seven tax workshops and assisted more than 200 international students with their Georgia tax returns as part of the IRS sponsored Volunteer Income Tax Assistance program. The students prepared their federal returns using the GT-provided GLACIER Tax Prep software. The workshops were necessary since there was no similar software available for the state return. After their first year, most international students are able to complete the state return based on their previous experience.

LEADER 2 LEADER

The Spring Semester Leader 2 Leader luncheon meetings discussed four Campus Services departments and how to improve their services. Between eight and 15 students and Campus Services’ administrators from each department attended these meetings (note – two meetings in March; none in February):

- Georgia Tech Dining Services (January)
- Communications (March)
- Student Center (March)
- Housing (April)

Campus Services and Georgia Tech Cable Network (GTCN) created a video, encouraging students to participate in the Leader 2 Leader program. The video went to campus as part of The Buzz, Spring Issue, newsletter and was posted on the Campus Services’ website.

GEORGIA TECH DINING SERVICES

SUSTAINABILITY
- North Avenue Dining Hall introduced paper straws, eliminating 15,000 plastic straws from landfills each week

EVENTS
- Woodruff Dining Hall (Woody’s) hosted “Meet the Chefs,” an evening where five executive chefs collaborated on an Asian-inspired meal. Woody’s was elegantly decorated for the occasion and students had the opportunity to meet all five executive chefs
- Valentine’s Day featured special menus at each of the residential dining location – from chocolate-covered strawberries to surf and turf entrees
- Our campus dietician and executive chef collaborated on several monthly nutrition demonstrations in the Food Court, including Fiber Focus; Build a Better Salad; and Eat Right, Your Way, Every Day. Students were able to sample nutritious food and received recipe cards
- Ferst Place hosted its first Student Valentine’s Day Dinner, offering an affordably priced meal for students at the convenient on-campus location

HUMAN RESOURCES

ETHICS
Human Resources collaborated with the Office of Information Technology Enterprise Information Systems (OIT/EIS) and Campus Services Information Technology Group (ITG) to make enhancements to the 2013 ethics attestation process. The streamed line process allowed faculty, staff and student workers to easily attest online once their Georgia Tech credentials were entered.

The five executive chefs convened at Woody's for a night of culinary excellence. Students met all campus chefs while enjoying Asian dish entrees.

ELECTRONIC 1062 AND 1042-S FORMS
Global HR, Payroll, Accounts Payable, and the Bursar collaborated to produce 1062 and 1042-S forms distributed electronically through the GLACIER tax system. These forms report all scholarship payments to students who are nonresidents for tax purposes, all ‘other’ payments to foreign nationals, e.g. international performance groups at the Ferst Center or an international consultant, and employee salaries exempt from income taxes due to a tax treaty.

CHARITABLE CAMPAIGN
HR updated PeopleSoft for the charitable campaign season. The work of the HRIS team enabled employees to give to their desired charities via payroll deduction. Credit card payments were also accepted and reconciled. A complete report was prepared for the state coordinator on the participation of Georgia Tech employees.
